The Lavras do Abade research is a multiple perspective archaeological study about the environmental impacts of a gold mining village in Mid Western Brazil that was destroyed by neighboring villages at the end of the nineteenth century According to local narratives the conflict was the consequence of a dispute about the control and use of natural resources such as water However this investigation reveals that the conflict was caused also by economic and political disputes between the villages in the region In this work each stage of investigation is presented in separate chapters Research was conducted to validate hypotheses and to combine different approaches to each element that compounds this mosaic of information The result of this work is a combination of various complementary investigations into the same object and is a theoretical and methodological referential that establishes the Lavras do Abade case study as an original bridge to understanding many Water Wars in the modern world today

A history of disability in England Simon Jarrett, 2023-12-01

Throughout history numerous individuals with disabilities have had to pit themselves against huge obstacles placed in their way because of the type of person they were born as the type of person they became through accident illness or circumstances or the type of person they have been perceived as This book tells the story of how disabled people have done this how they have seen themselves how they have been perceived and treated by others and how they have influenced society People with disabilities have always been a part of English society and this concise thousand year history ranges from the surprisingly integrated communities of the medieval and early modern periods to the institutionalisation of the 19th and 20th centuries Sometimes the history of disability is described as a hidden history This book argues that it is no such thing The history of people with disabilities is often in front of our eyes yet we frequently choose to ignore it or simply do not see it Accounts of daily life events art literature family histories and political debate have always featured people with disabilities who are there for all to see but too often observers particularly non disabled observers gaze straight past them
