Special Report - Highway Research Board National Research Council (U.S.). Highway Research Board, 1975 Ottley's Bibliography of British Railway History. Second Supplement 12957-19605 ,1998 The Industrial Archaeology and Industrial History of London ,1988 The Tramway Review ,2003 London United Tramways Geoffrey Wilson, 2013-06-17

With the twentieth century arrived the first electric tramcars in London Thirty years later the first trolley buses arrived along with a fleet of new trams that were the most modern of their day This era was one of rapid change rich in achievement and personalities Among the more colourful of the undertakings involved was London United which introduced the first public service of electric tramcars in 1901 and became one of the predecessors of the present London Transport This is a study of this eventful period relating the development of the tramway and trolleybus system to the changing social background It contains a wealth of hitherto unpublished material both factual and anecdotal taken from contemporary newspaper and other accounts and a remarkable collection of illustrations 48 pages in all It should be of interest not only to the transport enthusiast but also to the general reader interested in social history This book was first published in 1971 The Bookseller ,1981 The National Rifle Association Its Tramways and the London & South Western Railway Christopher Bunch, 2019-01-30 This unique reference work chronicles the interconnected histories of Britain's NRA and the British Railways Companies The National Rifle Association of the United Kingdom was founded in the mid nineteenth century and was granted a Royal Charter of Incorporation by Queen Victoria in 1890 Created for the encouragement of the Volunteer Rifle Corps and the promotion of rifle shooting throughout Great Britain its popularity soon influenced the development of railway expansion The London and South Western Railway Company even built unique tramways to connect the NRA's camps and ranges This book sheds light on the fascinating relationship between the NRA and the British Railways Companies Beginning in the 1860s the NRA held annual marksmanship competition at Wimbledon Common a site chosen for its accessibility from across the existing railway network The NRA later established its new home at Bisley Camp in Surrey some 35 miles outside London The L SWR built a spur from Brookwood Station and offered a discount on return fair to uniformed volunteers The London Gazette ,1904-04 British Books in Print ,1985 Lost Tramways of England - Leeds East Peter Waller, 2021-06-24 Lost Tramways of England Leeds East is the second of two volumes in the series covering the history of trams in the city from their origins in the late 19th century through to the conversion of the final routes in November 1959 This volume examines in detail the later history of the system from the outbreak of war in September 1939 through the developments of the 1940s to the period of conversion from the early 1950s as well as concentrating on routes that served the eastern side of the city such as those to Temple Newsam Middleton Gipton and Hunslet Report Commonwealth Shipping Committee, 1913 Parliamentary Papers Great Britain. Parliament. House of Commons, 1906 Town Planning Conference, London, 10-15 October, 1910 Royal Institute of British Architects, 1911 Town Planning

Conference, London, 10-15 October, 1910 ,1911 The London County Council Gazette ,1907 The Surveyor and Municipal and County Engineer ,1907 Report of the Royal Commission Appointed to Inquire Into and Report Upon the Means of Locomotion and Transport in London Great Britain. Royal Commission Appointed to Inquire into and Report upon the Means of Locomotion and Transport in London,1905 London Transport Buses in the 1960s Jim Blake,2022-10-21 Just as life in Britain generally changed dramatically during the 1960s so did London Transport's buses and their operations Most striking was the abandonment of London's trolleybuses once the world's biggest system and their replacement by motorbuses Begun in 1959 using surplus RT types it was completed by May 1962 using new Routemasters designed specifically to replace them They then continued to replace RT types too Traffic congestion and staff shortages played havoc with London Transport's buses and Green Line coaches during the 1960s one man operation was seen as a remedy for the latter shortening routes in the Central Area for the former Thus the ill fated Reshaping Plan was born introducing new O M O bus types These entered trial service in 1965 and after much delay the plan was implemented from September 1968 onwards Sadly new MB types also introduced in the Country Area soon proved a disaster Unfortunately owing to a government diktat Routemaster production ended at the start of 1968 forcing LT to buy off the peg vehicles unsuited to London operation and their in house overhaul procedures The decade ended with the loss of LT's Country Area buses and Green Line coaches to the National Bus Company Photographer Jim Blake began photographing London's buses towards the end of the trolleybus conversion program in 1961 and continued dealing with the changing scene throughout the decade He dealt very thoroughly with the Reshaping changes and many of the photographs featured herein show rare and unusual scenes which have never been published before Sessional Papers Great Britain. Parliament. House of Commons,1906 The Electrician ,1902
