SPECTRAL AMERICA

PHANTOMS AND THE NATIONAL IMAGINATION

Spectral America:

Spectral America Jeffrey Andrew Weinstock, 2004 From essays about the Salem witch trials to literary uses of ghosts by Twain Wharton and Bierce to the cinematic blockbuster The Sixth Sense this book is the first to survey the importance of ghosts and hauntings in American culture across time. From the Puritans conviction that a thousand preternatural beings appear every day before our eyes to today's resurgence of spirits in fiction and film the culture of the United States has been obsessed with ghosts. In each generation these phantoms in popular culture reflect human anxieties about religion science politics and social issues. Spectral America asserts that ghosts whether in oral tradition literature or such modern forms as cinema have always been constructions embedded in specific historical contexts and invoked for explicit purposes often political in nature. The essays address the role of spectral evidence during the Salem witch trials the Puritan belief in good spirits the convergence of American Spiritualism and technological development in the nineteenth century the use of the supernatural as a tool of political critique in twentieth century magic realism and the ghosting of persons living with AIDS.

They also discuss ghostly themes in the work of Ambrose Bierce Edith Wharton Gloria Naylor and Stephen King. The Spectralities Reader Maria del Pilar Blanco, Esther Peeren, 2013-08-29 The Spectralities Reader is the first volume to collect the rich scholarship produced in the wake of the spectral turn of the early 1990s which saw ghosts and haunting conjured as compelling analytical and methodological tools across the humanities and social sciences. Surveying the past twenty years from an interdisciplinary and cross cultural perspective the Reader displays the wide range of concerns spectrality in its diverse elaborations has been called upon to elucidate. The disjunctions produced by globalization the ungraspable quality of modern media the convolutions of subject formation in terms of gender race and sexuality the elusiveness of spaces and places and the lingering presences and absences of memory and history have all been reconceived by way of the spectral. A primer for the wide readership engaged with cultural interpretations of ghosts and haunting that go beyond the confines of the fictional and supernatural. The Spectralities Reader includes twenty five groundbreaking texts by prominent contemporary thinkers from Jacques Derrida and Gayatri Spivak to Avery Gordon and Arjun Appadurai as well as a general introduction and six section introductions by the editors.

Monstrous Things Jeffrey Andrew Weinstock, 2022-11-10 An indispensable resource for students and researchers of paranormal myth and media this book explores the undead and unholy in literature film television and popular culture. Following an introduction to frightful manifestations in media sections address ghosts vampires and monsters individually and each section includes a broad consideration of the ghost vampire or monster in American culture. The section dedicated to ghosts examines the spectral turn of popular culture and the ghost's relation to justice and mourning with particular attention to Toni Morrison and Herman Melville. In the vampires section the author considers the undead bloodsucker's relationship to anti-Semitism suicide and cinema. The third section discusses monsters in relation to topics such as global pandemics terrorism mass shootings stranger danger and social otherness with attention to a range of popular culture texts including the films IT and It Follows

Gettysburg Unearthed: John G. Sabol

Jr.,2007-09-27 This book is the third in a series of anthropological studies which analyze ghosts and haunting phenomena in their cultural context A history of visitations to the Gettysburg landscape is linked to the presence or absence of anomalous sensory manifestations The preliminary analysis of the data suggests that the hauntings at Gettysburg may be a product of sociocultural factors in part related to the growth of heritage tourism rather than any ghostly manifestations by civil war soldiers Since this is a preliminary analysis a research design is proposed to further excavate the Gettysburg landscape This approach is based on the use of ethnographic context spatial symmetry cultural relativity and performance based investigative practices The author proposes that through this methodology acontrolled excavation of the landscape can be made thus unearthing a more scientific analysis and evaluation of Gettysburg as a haunted cultural place

Musical America ,1921 Pathologizing Black Bodies Constante González Groba,Ewa Barbara Luczak,Urszula Niewiadomska-Flis,2023-05-18 Pathologizing Black Bodies reconsiders the black body as a site of cultural and corporeal interchange one involving violence and oppression leaving memory and trauma sedimented in cultural conventions political arrangements social institutions and most significantly materially and symbolically engraved upon the body with the self often deprived of agency and sovereignty Consisting of three parts this study focuses on works of the twentieth and twenty first century fiction and cultural narratives by mainly African American authors aiming to highlight the different ways in which race has been pathologized in America and examine how the legacies of plantation ideology have been metaphorically inscribed on black bodies The variety of analytical approaches and thematic foci with respect to theories and discourses surrounding race and the body allow us to delve into this thorny territory in the hope of gaining perspectives about how African American lives are still shaped and haunted by the legacies of plantation slavery Furthermore this volume offers insights into the politics of eugenic corporeality in an illustrative dialogue with the lasting carceral and agricultural effects of life on a plantation Tracing the degradation and suppression of the black body both individual and social this study includes an analysis of the pseudo scientific discourse of social Darwinism and eugenics the practice of mass incarceration and the excessive punishment of black bodies and food apartheid and USDA practices of depriving black farmers of individual autonomy and collective agency Based on such an interplay of discourses methodologies and perspectives this volume aims to use literature to further examine the problematic relationship between race and the body and stress that black lives do indeed matter in the United States

The ghost story 1840-1920 Andrew Smith,2013-01-18 The ghost story 1840 1920 A cultural history examines the British ghost story within the political contexts of the long nineteenth century By relating the ghost story to economic national colonial and gendered contexts it provides a critical re evaluation of the period The conjuring of a political discourse of spectrality during the nineteenth century enables a culturally sensitive reconsideration of the work of writers including Dickens Collins Charlotte Riddell Vernon Lee May Sinclair Kipling Le Fanu Henry James and M R James Additionally a chapter on the interpretation of spirit messages reveals how issues relating to textual analysis were implicated within a language of the spectral This book is the first full length study of the British ghost story in over 30 years and it will be of interest to academics graduate students and advanced undergraduates working on the Gothic literary studies historical studies critical theory and cultural studies

Journal of the Optical Society of America and Review of Scientific Instruments ,1926 Walking Shadows Ib Johansen,2015-08-25 Walking Shadows focuses on the American fantastic and the American grotesque attempting in this manner for the first time to establish an overview of and a theoretical approach to two literary modes that have often been regarded as essential to an understanding of the American cultural canon The central importance of these two literary forms has been pointed out earlier by important theorists such as Stanley Cavell

David Reynolds and William Van O Connor A number of literary works from the beginning of the nineteenth to the end of the twentieth centuries are taken up in order to illustrate the inherent links or family resemblances between the two modes with special reference to the way in which a Bakhtinian reading may facilitate our appreciation of their status within the canon These excursions into the House of Fantastic and Grotesque Fiction may be of interest not only to hardcore aficionados but also to philosophically minded readers in general in particular perhaps to those who have paid acute attention to debates on late twentieth and early twenty first century post structuralism and deconstruction where the classic positions of Foucault Derrida et al still appear to be relevant Optical Compressive Imaging Adrian Stern,2016-11-17 This dedicated overview of optical compressive imaging addresses implementation aspects of the revolutionary theory of compressive sensing CS in the field of optical imaging and sensing It overviews the technological opportunities and challenges involved in optical design and implementation from basic theory to optical architectures and systems for compressive imaging in various spectral regimes spectral and hyperspectral imaging polarimetric sensing three dimensional imaging super resolution imaging lens free on chip microscopy and phase sensing and retrieval The reader will gain a complete introduction to theory experiment and practical use for reducing hardware shortening image scanning time and improving image resolution as well as other performance parameters Optics practitioners and optical system designers electrical and optical engineers mathematicians and signal processing professionals will all find the book a unique trove of information and practical guidance Delivers the first book on compressed sensing dealing with system development for a wide variety of optical imaging and sensing applications Covers the fundamentals of CS theory including noise and algorithms as well as basic design approaches for data acquisition in optics Addresses the challenges of implementing compressed sensing theory in the context of different optical imaging designs from 3D imaging to tomography and microscopy Provides an essential resource for the design of new and improved devices with improved image quality and shorter acquisition times Adrian Stern PhD is associate professor and head of the Electro Optical Engineering Unit at Ben Gurion University of the Negev Israel He is an elected Fellow of SPIE The Routledge Handbook of Phonetics William F.
