Specular Moment:

The Specular Moment David E. Wellbery, 1996 No study of Goethe's early lyric poetry has been published in English in the last fifty years But the reading of this poetry the author presents is not intended merely to introduce an English readership to a major body of work rather the book delineates for the first time in any language an account of the symbolic network or organizing myth that underlies Goethe's individual poems This marks a decisive break with the previous research on Goethe which has tended to view his poetry as the expression of occasional experiences The author shows on the contrary that Goethe's lyric work circles around a core set of problems and figures that it evinces a systematic coherence unperceived until now

Goethe's Visual World Pamela Currie, 2017-07-05 Goethe's ideas on colour and imagery crossed many borderlines those of artistic processes and philosophical aesthetics art history and colour theory together with the science of perception This investigation into his writings ranges across art from Antiquity the Renaissance and the eighteenth century as well as exploring the centrality of these issues to Goethe's literary work Questions find answers but also raise new questions This systematic sequence of essays originally written between 1999 and 2011 appeals to readers in all these separate areas while drawing together their essential coherence

The Moment of Caravaggio Michael Fried, 2023-10-17 A major reevaluation of Caravaggio from one of today's leading art historians This is a groundbreaking examination of one of the most important artists in the Western tradition by one of the leading art historians and critics of the past half century In his first extended consideration of the Italian Baroque painter Michelangelo Merisi da Caravaggio 1573-1610 Michael Fried offers a transformative account of the artist's revolutionary achievement Based on the A W Mellon Lectures in the Fine Arts delivered at the National Gallery of Art The Moment of Caravaggio displays Fried's unique combination of interpretive brilliance historical seriousness and theoretical sophistication providing sustained and unexpected readings of a wide range of major works from the early Boy Bitten by a Lizard to the late Martyrdom of Saint Ursula The result is an electrifying new perspective on a crucial episode in the history of European painting Focusing on the emergence of the full-blown gallery picture in Rome during the last decade of the sixteenth century and the first decades of the seventeenth Fried draws forth an expansive argument one that leads to a radically revisionist account of Caravaggio's relation to the self-portrait of the role of extreme violence in his art as epitomized by scenes of decapitation and of the deep structure of his epoch-defining realism Fried also gives considerable attention to the art of Caravaggio's great rival Annibale Carracci as well as to the work of Caravaggio's followers including Orazio and Artemisia Gentileschi Bartolomeo Manfredi and Valentin de Boulogne Please note All images in this ebook are presented in black and white and have been reduced in size

The Illustrated Slave Martha J. Cutter, 2017-08-15 Analyzes works in the archive of antislavery illustrated books published from 1800 to 1852 alongside other visual materials that depict enslavement

Speculating on the Moment Nicholas Rennie, 2005

The Meaning of Life in Romantic Poetry and Poetics Ross Wilson, 2009-01-02 This volume brings together an impressive range of established and emerging scholars to investigate the meaning of life in Romantic poetry and poetics This investigation involves sustained attention to a set of challenging questions at the heart of British Romantic poetic practice and theory Is poetry alive for the Romantic poets If so how Does life always mean life In a range of essays from a variety of complementary perspectives a number of major Romantic poets are examined in detail The fate of Romantic conceptions of life in later poetry also receives attention Through for examples a revision of Blake s relationship to so called rationalism a renewed examination of Wordsworth s fascination with country graveyards an exploration of Shelley s concept of survival and a discussion of the notions of life in Byron Kierkegaard and Mozart this volume opens up new and exciting terrain in Romantic poetry s relation to literary theory the history of philosophy ethics and aesthetics

The Rhetoric of Interpretation and the Interpretation of Rhetoric Paul Hernadi,1989 The Russian Kurosawa Olga V. Solovieva,2023 Offers a new historical and thematic perspective on the work of the renowned Japanese director Akira Kurosawa through a detailed discussion of the four films he made based on Russian sources Dead Theory Jeffrey R. Di Leo,2016-05-19 What is the legacy of Theory after the deaths of so many of its leading lights from Jacques Derrida to Roland Barthes Bringing together reflections by leading contemporary scholars Dead Theory explores the afterlives of the work of the great theorists and the current state of Theory today Considering the work of thinkers such as Derrida Deleuze and Levinas the book explores the ways in which Theory has long been haunted by death and how it might endure for the future Deconstruction: A Reader Martin McQuillan,2017-09-25 Philosophers do it literary critics do it even architects poets painters do it It can involve the concepts of capital politics and justice So what after all is deconstruction Deconstruction A Reader makes an answer to this question available in the only way possible by offering a selection of breathtaking range and depth of essential texts With more than sixty selections by fifty contributors including nine pieces by Jacques Derrida this is the ultimate anthology of deconstructive reading demonstrating that deconstruction is vivid surprising varied and true to the text

Theorizing Desire K. Gorton,2008-03-13 What is the nature of desire This book gives an accessible introduction to the concept and a coherent critique of the competing theories of desire within contemporary theory Through analysis of representations of desire in television and film it considers ways in which the concept is theorized and presented on screen

Discerning the Subject Paul Smith,1988 Disillusioned Jordan Bear,2017-05-30 How do photographs compel belief and endow knowledge To understand the impact of photography in a given era we must study the adjacent forms of visual persuasion with which photographs compete and collaborate In photography s early days magic shows scientific demonstrations and philosophical games repeatedly put the visual credulity of the modern public to the test in ways that shaped and were shaped by the reality claims of photography These venues invited viewers to judge the reliability of their own visual experiences Photography resided at the center of a constellation of places and practices in which the task of visual discernment of telling the real from the constructed became an increasingly crucial element of one s location in cultural political and social relations In Disillusioned Victorian Photography and the Discerning Subject Jordan Bear tells the story of how photographic trickery in the 1850s and 1860s participated in the fashioning of the modern subject By locating specific mechanisms of photographic deception employed by the leading mid century photographers within this capacious culture of discernment Disillusioned integrates some of the most striking and puzzling images of the Victorian period into a new and expansive interpretive framework

Enforcing Normalcy Lennard J. Davis, 2014-08-19 In this highly original study of the cultural assumptions governing our conception of people with disabilities Lennard J Davis argues forcefully against ableist discourse and for a complete recasting of the category of disability itself Enforcing Normalcy surveys the emergence of a cluster of concepts around the term normal as these matured in western Europe and the United States over the past 250 years Linking such notions to the concurrent emergence of discourses about the nation Davis shows how the modern nation state constructed its identity on the backs not only of colonized subjects but of its physically disabled minority In a fascinating chapter on contemporary cultural theory Davis explores the pitfalls of privileging the figure of sight in conceptualizing the nature of textuality And in a treatment of nudes and fragmented bodies in Western art he shows how the ideal of physical wholeness is both demanded and denied in the classical aesthetics of representation Enforcing Normalcy redraws the boundaries of political and cultural discourse By insisting that disability be added to the familiar triad of race class and gender the book challenges progressives to expand the limits of their thinking about human oppression

Beckett at 100 Linda Ben-Zvi, Angela Moorjani, 2008-01-08 To commemorate the centenary of the birth of Samuel Beckett this book containing twenty three essays by leading international Beckett scholars rethinks traditional critical assumptions readings and theories concerning the Beckett canon provides new contexts and associations and reassesses his impact on the modern imagination and legacy to future generations

Contemporary Canadian Women's Fiction C. Howells, 2003-08-22 This book charts the significant changes in contemporary Canada's literary profile since the mid 1990s within a context of the new national rhetoric of multiculturalism By looking closely at a representative range of fictions in English by women from a variety of ethnocultural backgrounds Howells examines the complexities embedded within Canadian identity What does Refiguring Identities mean for these writers given their individual agendas and the multiple affiliation of any woman's identity construction All these writers are engaged in rewriting history across generation and Howells argues that woman's fiction negotiates new possibilities for cultural change introducing more heterogeneous narratives of identity in multi cultural Canada

Figures of Natality Joseph D. O'Neil, 2017-01-26 Figures of Natality reads metaphors and narratives of birth in the age of Goethe 1770 1832 as indicators of the new the unexpected and the revolutionary Using Hannah Arendt's concept of natality Joseph O Neil argues that Lessing Goethe and Kleist see birth as challenging paradigms of Romanticism as well as of Enlightenment resisting the assimilation of the political to economics science or morality They choose instead to preserve the conflicts and tensions at the heart of social political and poetic revolutions In a historical reading these tensions evolve from the idea of revolution as Arendt reads it in British North America to the social and economic questions that shape the French Revolution culminating in a consideration of the culture of the modern republic as such. Alongside this geopolitical evolution the ways of representing the political change too moving from the new as revolutionary eruption to economic metaphors of birth. More pressing still is the question of revolutionary subjectivity and political agency and Lessing, Goethe and Kleist have an answer that is remarkably close to that of Walter Benjamin as that secret index through which each past age is pointed toward redemption. Figures of Natality uncovers this index at the heart of scenes and products of birth in the age of Goethe.

Desert Voices Moneera Al-Ghadeer, 2009-05-30 The Bedouin or desert dwellers have a rich cultural heritage often expressed through music and poetry. Here Moneera Al Ghadeer provides us with the first comparative reading of women's oral poetry from Saudi Arabia. She examines women's lyrics of love, desire, mourning and grievance. We come to understand Bedouin mores and most significantly the unique description of a desert that is consistently held to be infinite, evocative, stimulating and an eternal freedom. As the first English translation and analysis of this poetry, Desert Voices is both a gesture to preserving the oral poetic tradition of Bedouin women and a radical critique addressing the exclusion of their poetry from current academic literary studies. The book provides invaluable material for reflection in the debates around oral culture and women's poetic composition while it translates, presents and critically examines a genre which opens Arabic poetry and literature to contemporary theory and criticism.

Novel Affinities Sarah Vandegrift Eldridge, 2016 Challenges traditional novel scholarship that emphasizes the individual and the Bildungsroman, broadening the focus to the family and both canonical and non-canonical novels, reading them together with biological, legal and pedagogical texts.

Goethe, Chaos, and Complexity, 2022-03-07 The present volume is the first to address the interrelationship between Goethe's scientific thought and work, his ideas on art and literary oeuvre and chaos and complexity theories. The eleven studies assembled in it treat one or more elements or aspects of this interrelationship ranging from basic concepts all the way to a model of an aesthetic scientific methodology. In the process the authors scrutinize chaos and complexity both as motif and motor of literary texts and nature within various contexts of past and present. The volume should be of interest to literary scholars, scientists and philosophers of science, indeed to all those who are interested in the continuities between the humanities and sciences, culture and nature.
