One of the top bobsledders in the world and leader of the four man American team, Steven Holcomb had finished sixth in the 2006 Olympics and medaled in nearly every competition he entered. He was considered a strong gold contender for the 2010 Vancouver Olympic Winter Games. Talented, aggressive and fearless, he was at the top of his game. But Steven Holcomb had a dangerous secret: Steven Holcomb was going blind. In the prime of his athletic career, he was diagnosed with keratoconus, a degenerative disease affecting 1 in 1,000 and leaving 1 in 4 totally blind without a cornea transplant. In the world of competitive sports, it was a dream killer. Not a sport for the timid, bobsledding speeds approach 100 miles per hour through a series of hairpin turns. Serious injuries, even deaths, can result. But Holcomb kept his secret from his coach, sled mates and the public for months and continued to drive the legendary sled, The Night Train. When he finally told his coach, Holcomb was led to a revolutionary treatment later named the Holcomb C3 R. With his sight restored to 20/20, Holcomb became the first American in 50 years to win the International Bobsled and Skeleton Federation World Championship and the first American bobsledder since 1948 to win the Olympic gold medal. With a foreword by Geoff Bodine, NASCAR champion and founder of the Bo-Dyn Bobsled Project, But Now I See is the intimate portrait of a man's pursuit of a dream, laced with humility and the faith to find a way when all seems hopeless. It's about knowing anything is possible and the gift of a second chance. Allard Alan Allard, Lance Cole, 2020-10-26 The remarkable story of everything Sydney Herbert Allard achieved in motor sport and motor car manufacture is framed in an up-to-date commentary co-authored by his own son. This is a tribute, unswayed by legend but based on the facts and achievements of his eponymous company. With contributions from the Allard Owners Club and Allard Register, this book contains painstaking research of Allard history from 1929 to the present day, including previously unpublished material. Just under 2,000 Allards were built, and approximately 510 are believed to remain on the road or known to be under restoration. More await discovery even as this book was being written. One of Sydney's long-lost 1930s Allard Specials has been found after years of being forgotten. Other topics covered in this remarkable book include car-by-car engineering and design details, unseen ideas and projects, the history of the Allard marque in motor sport, and the Allard story in the USA. Finally, it features the Allard Owner's Club, Allard Register members, and their cars.
