Disjoined Partners Peter Katzenstein, 2024-07-26 Is there a natural tendency toward the political integration of states that are united in culture but divided in politics Disjoined Partners arrives at a largely negative response In an application of political science techniques to a subject traditionally in the domain of history Peter J Katzenstein analyzes Austro-German relations since 1815 in six chronologically arranged case studies Asking why these partners remain disjoined Katzenstein finds the answer in the persistence of Austria's political autonomy In an appendix the author illustrates how this type of analysis could be extended to include an examination of the unification of Germany and of Italy in the middle of the nineteenth century and of the fragmentation of Sweden Norway and England Ireland at the beginning of the twentieth His study sheds new light on the reasons for the continued political autonomy of nation states Disjoined Partners derives from the author's dissertation which was awarded the Charles Sumner Prize at Harvard and the American Political Science Association's Helen Dwight Reid Award for the best dissertation of the year in the field of international relations law and politics This title is part of UC Press's Voices Revived program which commemorates University of California Press's mission to seek out and cultivate the brightest minds and give them voice reach and impact Drawing on a backlist dating to 1893 Voices Revived makes high quality peer-reviewed scholarship accessible once again using print-on-demand technology This title was originally published in 1976

Franz Werfel, the Faith of an Exile Lionel Steiman, 1985-07 A study of the thought of the Austrian Jewish writer many of whose works reflect the deep ambivalence of the Jews' relationship with Western culture and Christianity The Jewish characters in his books are often stereotypes influenced by Werfel's education by antisemitic monks Ch 13 p 165 188 A Special Relationship deals with Werfel's attitude to Judaism and pp 177 188 with his theory of antisemitism and Nazism While believing in Christ he viewed the rejection of Christ by the Jews and antisemitism as theologically necessary and refused to convert

Introduction Austria and modernity 1815 1835 restoration and procrastination 1835 1851 revolution and reaction 1852 1867 transformation 1867 1879 liberalization 1879 1897 nationalization 1897 1914 modernization 1914 1918 self-destruction

Conclusion Central Europe and the paths not taken Music, Masculinity and the Claims of History Ian Biddle, 2016-04-29 What does it mean to think of Western Art music and the Austro-German contribution to that repertory as a tradition How are men and masculinities implicated in the shaping of that tradition And how is the writing of the history or histories of that tradition shaped by men and masculinities This book seeks to answer these and other questions by drawing both on a wide range of German language writings on music sound and listening from the so-called long nineteenth century circa 1800 1918 and a range of critical theoretical texts from the post-war continental philosophical and psychoanalytic traditions including Lacan Žižek Serres Derrida and Kittler The book is focussed in particular on bringing the object of historical writing itself into scrutiny by engaging in what Žižek has called a historicity or a way of writing about the past that not merely acknowledges the ahistorical kernel of historical writing but brings that kernel into the light of day takes account of it and puts it into play The book is thus committed to a kind of historical writing that is open ended though not ideologically naïve and that does not fix or stabilize the nature of the relationship between so called primary and secondary texts The book consists of an introduction which places the study of classical music and the Austro German tradition within broader debates about the value of that tradition and four extensive case studies an analysis of the cultural historical category of listening around 1800 a close reading of A B Marx's Beethoven monograph of 1859 a consideration of Heinrich Schenker's attitudes to the mob and the vernacular more broadly and an examination through Franz Kafka of the figure of Mahler's body

Karl Popper - The Formative Years, 1902-1945 Malachi Haim Hachoen, 2002-03-04 This 2001 biography reassesses philosopher Karl Popper's life and works within the context of interwar Vienna Your Secret Mind Rebecca Hall, Hans Steiner, 2018-05-08 This book introduces the reader and student to the unconscious mind the hidden treasures and dangers it holds It contains some very basic useful and empirically supported facts from depth psychology which allows everyone access to deeply hidden aspects of themselves

Egon Schiele and the Art of Popular Illustration Claude Cernuschi, 2022-09-02 Presenting a radically different picture of Egon Schiele's work this study documents in one to one comparisons the extent of the artist's visual borrowings from the Viennese humoristic journal Die Musketiere Claude Cernuschi analyzes each comparison on a case by case basis primarily because the interpretation of cartoons and caricatures is highly contingent on their specific historical and cultural context Although this connection has gone unnoticed in the literature in retrospect this correlation makes perfect sense Not only was Schiele's artistic production frequently compared to caricature and derided for being grotesque but Expressionism and caricature are natural allies One may belong to high art and the other to popular culture yet both presuppose similar assumptions and deploy a similar rhetorical position namely that the exaggeration of human physiognomy allows deeper psychological truths to emerge The book will be of interest to scholars working in art history visual culture popular culture and politics Beyond the Unconscious Mark S. Micale, 2014-07-14 Henri F. Ellenberger the Swiss medical historian is best remembered today as the author of The Discovery of the Unconscious 1970 a brilliant encyclopedic study of psychiatric theory and therapy from primitive times to the mid twentieth century However in addition to this well known work Ellenberger has written over thirty essays in the history of the mental sciences This collection unites fourteen of Ellenberger's most interesting and methodologically innovative historical essays many of which draw on new and rich bodies of primary materials Several of the articles appear here in English translation for the first time The essays deal with subjects such as the intellectual origins of psychoanalysis the work of the French psychological school of Jean Martin Charcot and Pierre Janet the role of the great patients in the history of psychiatry and the cultural history of psychiatry The publication of these writings which corresponds with the opening in Paris of the Institut Henri Ellenberger truly establishes Ellenberger as the founding figure of the historiography of psychiatry. Accompanying the essays are an extensive interpretive introduction and a detailed bibliographical essay by the editor. Michael Polanyi and His Generation Mary Jo Nye, 2011-09-16. In Michael Polanyi and His Generation, Mary Jo Nye investigates the role that Michael Polanyi and several of his contemporaries played in the emergence of the social turn in the philosophy of science. This turn involved seeing science as a socially based enterprise that does not rely on empiricism and reason alone but on social communities, behavioral norms, and personal commitments. Nye argues that the roots of the social turn are to be found in the scientific culture and political events of Europe in the 1930s when scientific intellectuals struggled to defend the universal status of scientific knowledge and to justify public support for science in an era of economic catastrophe, Stalinism, and Fascism, and increased demands for applications of science to industry and social welfare. At the center of this struggle was Polanyi, who Nye contends was one of the first advocates of this new conception of science. Nye reconstructs Polanyi's scientific and political milieu in Budapest, Berlin, and Manchester from the 1910s to the 1950s and explains how he and other natural scientists and social scientists of his generation, including J. D. Bernal, Ludwik Fleck, Karl Mannheim, and Robert K. Merton, and the next such as Thomas Kuhn, forged a politically charged philosophy of science, one that newly emphasized the social construction of science.

Encyclopedia of Historians and Historical Writing Kelly Boyd, 2019-10-09. The Encyclopedia of Historians and Historical Writing contains over 800 entries ranging from Lord Acton and Anna Comnena to Howard Zinn and from Herodotus to Simon Schama. Over 300 contributors from around the world have composed critical assessments of historians from the beginning of historical writing to the present day, including individuals from related disciplines like Jürgen Habermas and Clifford Geertz, whose theoretical contributions have informed historical debate. Additionally, the Encyclopedia includes some 200 essays treating the development of national, regional, and topical historiographies from the Ancient Near East to the history of sexuality. In addition to the Western tradition, it includes substantial assessments of African, Asian, and Latin American historians and debates on gender and subaltern studies.

The Vienna School of Art History Matthew Rampley, 2015-06-26. Matthew Rampley's The Vienna School of Art History is the first book in over seventy-five years to study in depth and in context the practices of art history from 1847, the year the first teaching position in the discipline was created, to 1918, the collapse of Austria-Hungary. It traces the emergence of art history as a discipline, the establishment of norms of scholarly inquiry, and the involvement of art historians in wider debates about the cultural and political identity of the monarchy. The so-called Vienna

School plays the central role in the study but Rampley also examines the formation of art history elsewhere in Austria Hungary Located in the Habsburg imperial capital Vienna art historians frequently became entangled in debates that were of importance to art historians elsewhere in the Empire and Rampley pays particular attention to these areas of overlapping interest He also analyzes the methodological innovations for which the Vienna School was well known Rampley focuses most fully however on the larger political and ideological context of the practice of art history particularly the way in which art historical debates served as proxies for wider arguments over the political social and cultural life of the Habsburg Empire

Statelessness Mira L. Siegelberg, 2020-10-06 The post WWI crisis of statelessness induced creative legal thinking as officials and jurists debated cosmopolitan citizenship beyond the borders of sovereigns But by midcentury the state won out as the lone site of citizenship Mira Siegelberg uncovers the ideological roots of this transformation and its impact on the international order
