The Awakening Of The Soviet Union Reith Lectures:

The Awakening of the Soviet Union Geoffrey A. Hosking,1990 The Awakening of the Soviet Union Geoffrey A. Hosking,1991 One of the world's preeminent scholars of the Soviet Union with many personal contacts there Geoffrey Hosking provides a unique perspective on the rapid changes the country is experiencing Other books have focused on the political changes taking place under Gorbachev Hosking's lively analysis illuminates the social cultural and historical developments that have created the need and openness for sweeping political and economic change Mikhail Gorbachev and the End of Soviet Power John Miller,2016-07-27 One of the first studies of the full career of M S Gorbachev as Soviet leader this book traces his seven year struggle to reform the Soviet system and his failure to preserve it Mr Miller analyses characteristics of Gorbachev that puzzled the West his reformist gradualism his relationship to the Communist party his attitudes to communism revolution democracy and nationalism and explores their role in the collapse of Soviet power

Across the Moscow River Rodric Braithwaite,2002-01-01 Rodric Braithwaite was British ambassador to Moscow during the critical years of Perestroika and the collapse of the Soviet Union the failed coup of August 1991 and the rise of Boris Yeltsin From the vantage point of the British Embassy once the mansion of the great nineteenth century merchant Pavel Kharitonov with its commanding views across the Moscow River to Red Square and the Kremlin Braithwaite had a ringside seat With his long experience of Russia and the Russians who saw him as Mrs Thatcher's Ambassador on good personal terms with Mikhail Gorbachev he was in a privileged position close to the centre of Russia's changing relationship with the West But this is not primarily a memoir It is an intimate analysis of momentous change and the people who drove it against the background of Russia's long history and its unique but essentially European culture Braithwaite watched as Gorbachev and his allies struggled to modernise and democratise a system which had already reached the point of terminal decay Against the opposition of the generals they forced the abandonment of the nuclear confrontation as the Soviet Union fell apart The climax of the drama came in August 1991 when a miscellaneous collection of conservative patriots generals politicians and secret policemen attempted to reverse the course of history and succeeded only in accelerating the collapse of the Soviet Union

Armageddon and Paranoia Rodric Braithwaite,2018 A comprehensive chronological and gripping account of how nuclear policy has shaped world history Rethinking Ethnicity Eric P. Kaufmann,2004-08-02 The impact of liberal globalization and multiculturalism means that nations are under pressure to transform their national identities from an ethnic to a civic mode This has led in many cases to dominant ethnic decline but also to its peripheral revival in the form of far right politics At the same time the growth of mass democracy and the decline of post colonial and Cold War state unity in the developing world has opened the floodgates for assertions of ethnic dominance This book investigates both tendencies and argues forcefully for the importance of dominant ethnicity in the contemporary world The Awakening of the Soviet ranging investigation explores the influence of thinkers from diverse intellectual backgrounds on the development of twentieth century culture and in so doing tells us much about the modern world in which we live Soviet Studies Guide

L. Tait,Ed Hogan,1993 Just as love is very much part of any human life for the soviet citizen it was often accompanied by another powerful emotion fear For various reasons as this collection shows the two have always gone hand in hand in Russia Here love is seen from various angles the imprisonment of the first Soviet president's wife under Stalin Razgon homosexual love punishable by Soviet law Kharitonov unrequited love driving man to disaster Makanin adolescent longing for love and fear of rejection Gareyev an old granny's love for the shopping bag which is her provider Gorenstein love as adventure and misunderstanding Zinik anti love among the dregs of society Miloslavsky transsexuals surreal experiences Pelevin and love in that typically Soviet institution the communal flat Each person models his or her own world to live in alone with oneself Only writing gives us the chance to discover these innumerable unique worlds from cancer wards to prison camps those hells on Earth to which we are drawn by a strange fascination Literature has been written for centuries yet each generation's authors still manage to find new angles of vision and new literary idioms This has been aptly demonstrated by the recent awarding of the first Russian Booker Prize Two short listed authors Makanin and Gorenstein have been included in this issue while Vladimir Sorokin another short listed author was published in the second issue of Glas The closing interview with Alla Latynina the first chairman of the Russian Booker Prize jury gives a reflection into Russia's literary scene today Despite Russia's present problems the literary process continues British Book News ,1990 Glas ,1993 The Road to Post-Communism Geoffrey A. Hosking,Jonathan Aves,Peter J. S. Duncan,1992 Considers the growth of independent political movements on the ground since 1985 to the present day in the former Soviet Union The text shows how these movements grew and became a factor in Soviet politics and what role they play in the development of civil society as is known to true democracies London Magazine John Lehmann,Alan Ross,1989 Symposium ,1996 Christians in a New Europe David Lawrence Edwards,1990
