The Awakened Women In Iraq:

The Awakened Doreen Ingrams, 1983      Women in Iraq Noga Efrati, 2012-01-24 Noga Efrati outlines the first social and political history of women in Iraq during the periods of British occupation and the British backed Hashimite monarchy 1917-1958. She traces the harsh and long-lasting implications of British state building on Iraqi women, particularly their legal and political enshrinement as second-class citizens and the struggle by women's rights activists to counter this precedent. Efrati concludes with a discussion of post-Saddam Iraq and the women's associations now claiming their place in government. Finding common threads between these two generations of women, Efrati underscores the organic roots of the current fight for gender equality, shaped by a memory of oppression under the monarchy. Efrati revisits the British strategy of efficient rule, largely adopted by the Iraqi government they erected, and the consequent gender policy that emerged. The attempt to control Iraq through authentic leaders, giving them legal and political powers, marginalized the interests of women and virtually sacrificed their well-being altogether. Iraqi women refused to resign themselves to this fate. From the state's early days, they drew attention to the biases of the Tribal Criminal and Civil Disputes Regulation (TCCDR) and the absence of state intervention in matters of personal status and resisted women's disenfranchisement. Following the coup of 1958, their criticism helped precipitate the dissolution of the TCCDR and the ratification of the Personal Status Law. A new government gender discourse, shaped by these past battles, arose, yet the U.S.-led invasion of 2003, rather than helping cement women's rights into law, reinstated the British approach. Pressured to secure order and reestablish a pro-Western Iraq, the Americans increasingly turned to the country's authentic leaders to maintain control while continuing to marginalize women. Efrati considers Iraqi women's efforts to preserve the progress they have made, utterly defeating the notion that they have been passive witnesses to history.

Transnational Identity and Memory Making in the Lives of Iraqi Women in Diaspora Nadia` Jones-Gailani, 2020-08-26 This book draws on an extensive archive of over one hundred oral narratives collected and recorded with Iraqi women in three sites: Amman, Detroit, and Toronto. Nadia Jones Gailani demonstrates how the relationships between ethno-religious migrants, nation, and citizenship are shaped by the traumatic experiences of forced displacement and integration into new communities and national imaginaries. This book also examines the broader historical trends that have precipitated migration from Iraq. While informed by research into the archival documentary record on Iraqis in North America, this book is first and foremost a study of gender and memory that focuses on women's oral histories. By historicizing the process through which ethno-religious and ethno-national communities become fractured and remade, Jones Gailani explores the expectations and realities of women as the supposed biological and cultural reproducers of the nation. The Iraqi women featured in this book assert their claims to belonging across three different generations, thereby opening up spaces to discuss how sites of migration shape the ability of migrants to lobby for the homeland even as they engage in daily struggles to advance their education and economic stability abroad.

Shi'i Sectarianism in the Middle East Elisheva

Machlis,2014-09-17 The eruption of violent sectarianism in Iraq following the US invasion in 2003 brought the question of Sunni Shi i relations in the country to the forefront of the international public agenda It also strengthened the popular belief that contemporary Shi ism is inherently sectarian Yet several decades earlier Ayatollah Khomeini had declared an Islamic revolution and downplayed its Shi i origins and links So what is the true orientation of Shi i Islam in the contemporary era and how did modernisation alter its sectarian affiliation This book contends that early Shi i reformist thought set the foundations for a more universal oriented Shi ism Prominent reformists in the first half of the twentieth century from the holy cities of Karbala and Najaf in Iraq and from the Shi i centres in Southern Lebanon played a significant role in the renewal of Shi ism and laid the groundwork for its reinvention in the modern era Exploring this shift towards a more ecumenical perception of Islam Elisheva Machlis here provides a fresh perspective on inter sectarian relations in contemporary Iraq and illuminates the intellectual roots of the Islamic revolution by examining networks of Shi i scholars such as Mu ammad usayn K shif al Ghi and Mu sin al Am n al mil operating within a more globalised Muslim world Drawing on the experiences of early Shi i reformists such as Abd al usayn Sharaf al D n al M saw in Lebanon and Mu ammad Jaw d Mughniyya in Damascus this book gives new insight on the future of inter Muslim relations at a time of growing inter sectarian contention from the Iran Iraq war to the post 2003 Sunni Shi i conflict in Iraq and al Qa ida s anti Shi i message taking into account questions of theology historiography jurisprudence and politics which all played a vital role in the transition to the contemporary era The author here analyses the broad scholarly connections between Iran Iraq and Lebanon in the twentieth century while debating paramount questions of leadership identity and group membership in the development of modern Shi ism Examining the relationship between intellectual thought and socio political development in the region this book provides a new perspective concerning the future of an increasingly globalised Muslim world and will prove essential reading for students and specialists

Women in the Third World Lynne Brydon,1989 Women in the Third World provides an up to date general account and review of research on the roles and status of women in contemporary Third World societies The book focuses on four major themes of underdevelopment which have particular relevance for gender roles and relations the household production reproduction and policy These issues are illustrated with material from rural and urban areas in all parts of the Third World The book summarizes significant ideas and findings Lynne Brydon and Sylvia Chang have avoided a narrow focus on particular regions and countries to provide a synoptic overview In addition to being a valuable source of reference for scholars interested in gender and development in the Third World the book also attempts to pinpoint fundamental aspects of gender inequality which apply to women everywhere The overriding conclusion of the book is that women s experiences of development are generally negative and that intervention is urgently required to prevent their positions relative to men s deteriorating still further

A Social History Of Women And Gender In The Modern Middle East Margaret Lee Meriwether,Judith Tucker,2018-02-12 Synthesizing the results of the extensive research on women and gender done over the last twenty years Margaret L Meriwether and Judith E Tucker provide an accessible overview of the scholarship on women and gender in the nineteenth and twentieth century Middle East The book is organized along thematic lines that reflect major focuses of research in this area gender and work gender and the state gender and law gender and religion and feminist movements and each chapter is written by a scholar who has done original research on the topic Iraq's Modern Arabic Literature Salih J. Altoma, 2010-10-14 Covering 60 years of materials this bibliography cites translations studies and other writings which represent Iraq's national literature including recent works of numerous Iraqi writers living in Western exile The volume serves as a guide to three interrelated data o Translations that have appeared since 1950 as books or as individual items poems short stories novel extracts plays diaries in print and non print publications in Iraq and other Arab and English speaking countries including Australia Canada the United Kingdom and the United States o Relevant studies and other secondary sources including selected reviews and author interviews which cover Iraqi literature and writers o The scope of displacement or dispersion of Iraqi writers artists and other intellectuals who have been uprooted and are now living in exile in Arab or other Western countries By drawing attention to a largely overlooked but relevant and extensive literature accessible in English this first of its kind book will serve as an invaluable guide to students of contemporary Iraq modern Arabic literature and other fields such as women's studies postcolonial studies third world literature American Arab Muslim Relations and Diaspora studies Interrogating Imperialism N. Inayatullah, R. Riley, 2006-12-11 A collection of multiple perspectives on the war on terror and the new imperialism Looking at the imperialism and the war on terror through a lens focused on gender and race the contributors expose the limitations of the current popular discourse and help to uncover possibilities not yet apparent in that same discourse The Oxford Encyclopedia of Women in World History Bonnie G. Smith, 2008 The Encyclopedia of Women in World History captures the experiences of women throughout world history in a comprehensive 4 volume work Although there has been extensive research on women in history by region no text or reference work has comprehensively covered the role women have played throughout world history The past thirty years have seen an explosion of research and effort to present the experiences and contributions of women not only in the Western world but across the globe Historians have investigated women's daily lives in virtually every region and have researched the leadership roles women have filled across time and region They have found and demonstrated that there is virtually no historical social or demographic change in which women have not been involved and by which their lives have not been affected The Oxford Encyclopedia of Women in World History benefits greatly from these efforts and experiences and illuminates how women worldwide have influenced and been influenced by these historical social and demographic changes The Encyclopedia contains over 1 250 signed articles arranged in an A Z format for ease of use The entries cover six main areas biographies geography and history comparative culture and society including adoption abortion performing arts organizations and movements such as the Egyptian Uprising and the Paris Commune women's and gender studies and topics in world history that include slave trade globalization and disease With its rich and insightful entries by leading scholars and experts this reference work is sure to be a valued go to resource for scholars college and high school students and general readers alike

What Kind of Liberation? Nadjé Sadig Al-Ali, Nicola Christine Pratt, 2009 There is something to learn literally on every page here Cynthia Enloe from the foreword This is a fluent and highly informed account of the women of Iraq during a time of ever increasing political turmoil economic disaster and foreign invasion It gives a fascinating insight into the way Iraqi society really works and is far superior in quality to most of what has been written about Iraq in war and peace Patrick Cockburn author of Muqtada Muqtada al Sadr the Shia Revival and the Struggle for Iraq

Founding Moments in Constitutionalism Richard Albert, Menaka Guruswamy, Nishchal Basnyat, 2019-10-17 Founding moments are landmark events that break ties with the ancien régime and lay the foundation for the establishment of a new constitutional order They are often radically disruptive episodes in the life of a state They reshape national law reset political relationships establish future power structures and influence happenings in neighbouring countries This edited collection brings together leading and emerging scholars to theorise the phenomenon of a founding moment What is a founding moment When does the founding process begin and when does it end Is a founding moment possible without yielding a new constitution Can a founding moment lead to a partial or incomplete transformation And should the state be guided by the intentions of those who orchestrated these momentous breaks from the past Drawing from constitutions around the world the authors ask these and other fundamental questions about making and remaking constitutions

Women's Education in the Third World David H. Kelly, Gail P. Kelly, 2017-05-18 Originally published in 1989 This detailed bibliography focuses on women's education in the developing nations of Asia Africa Latin America and the Caribbean and the Middle East It contains annotations for about 1200 published works in English French Spanish Portuguese and German The entries include extensive research journal monograph and book literature items including chapters hidden in books that don't have women or education as their main theme The citations are organised thematically but with geographic divisions within each of the 15 sections and each entry has a decently detailed summary It is prefaced by a useful article written by Gail Kelly on the directions in research at the time and the development of women centric approaches

Women and the War Story Miriam Cooke, 2023-09-01 In a book that radically and fundamentally revises the way we think about war Miriam Cooke charts the emerging tradition of women's contributions to what she calls the War Story a genre formerly reserved for men Concentrating on the contemporary literature of the Arab world Cooke looks at how alternatives to the master narrative challenge the authority of experience and the permission to write She shows how women who write themselves and their experiences into the War Story undo the masculine contract with violence sexuality and glory There is no single War Story Cooke concludes the standard narrative and with it the way we think about and conduct war can be changed As the traditional time space organization and representation of war have shifted so have ways of describing it As drug wars civil wars gang wars and ideological wars have moved into neighborhoods and homes the line between combat zones and safe zones has blurred Cooke shows how women's stories contest the acceptance of a dyadically structured world and break down the easy oppositions home vs front civilian vs combatant war vs peace victory vs defeat that have framed and ultimately promoted war In a book that radically and fundamentally revises the way we think about war Miriam Cooke charts the emerging tradition of women's contributions to what she calls the War Story a genre formerly reserved for men Concentrating on the contemporary lite

The Middle East Barry Rubin, 2015-03-17 The Middle East is an area of great importance globally yet misperceptions abound Events have made it a region of special interest to the West and so the search for understanding gains momentum This publication is intended to clarify the region's complex history and issues In developing this project the contributors set out to explore seven significant themes that are usually not found in other sources While many books focus on political history and conflicts this two volume work deals specifically with culture religion women economics governance and media as well as the role that the region's modern history has played in shaping its society and worldview Gender in Judaism and Islam Firoozeh Kashani-Sabet, Beth S. Wenger, 2015 Lone Star Muslims offers an engaging and insightful look at contemporary Muslim American life in Texas It illuminates the dynamics of the Pakistani Muslim community in Houston a city with one of the largest Muslim populations in the south and southwestern United States Drawing on interviews and participant observation at radio stations festivals and ethnic businesses the volume explores everyday Muslim lives at the intersection of race class profession gender sexuality and religious sectarian affiliation to demonstrate the complexity of the South Asian experience Importantly the volume incorporates narratives of gay Muslim American men of Pakistani descent countering the presumed heteronormativity evident in most of the social science scholarship on Muslim Americans and revealing deeply felt affiliations to Islam through ritual and practice It also includes narratives of members of the highly skilled Shia Ismaili Muslim labor force employed in corporate America of Pakistani ethnic entrepreneurs the working class and the working poor employed in Pakistani ethnic businesses of community activists and of radio program hosts Decentering dominant framings that flatten understandings of transnational Islam and Muslim Americans such as terrorist on the one hand and model minority on the other Lone Star Muslims offers a glimpse into a variety of lived experiences It shows how specificities of class Islamic sectarian affiliation citizenship status gender and sexuality shape transnational identities and mediate racism marginalities and abjection Three Generations, Two Genders, One World Sylvia H. Chant, Cathy McIlwaine, 1998 Based on surveys in which young women or men interviewed their siblings parents and grandparents on matters of relevance to gender including gender roles and relations New Babylonians Orit Bashkin, 2012-09-12 Although Iraqi Jews saw themselves as Iraqi patriots their community which had existed in Iraq for more than 2 500 years was displaced following the establishment of the state of Israel New Babylonians chronicles the lives of these Jews their urban Arab culture and their hopes for a democratic nation state It studies their ideas about Judaism Islam secularism modernity and reform focusing on Iraqi Jews who internalized narratives of Arab and Iraqi nationalisms and on those who turned to communism in the 1940s As the book reveals the ultimate displacement of this community was not the result of a perpetual persecution on the part of their Iraqi compatriots but rather the outcome of misguided state policies during the late 1940s and early 1950s Sadly from a dominant mood of coexistence friendship and partnership the impossibility of Arab Jewish coexistence became the prevailing narrative in the region and the dominant narrative we have come to know today The

Rights of Women in Islam H. Jawad,1998-06-30 It has been argued that Islam liberated Muslim women by granting them full rights as citizens Yet in reality we see that women have long been subjected to both cultural and political oppression Instances such as forced marriages are sadly common in the Muslim World as are restrictions on education and on their role in the labour force Feminism and Islam Mai Yamani,1996-09 In an age when Western feminism is continuously undergoing redefinition the struggles of women in Muslim countries are often overlooked This volume illustrates how women in Islamic societies have become more actively involved not only in learning their rights under the shari a Islamic law but in rereading this law to improve their status and gain increased equality and freedom Surveying Iran Saudi Arabia Lebanon Egypt and Arab societies in general Feminism and Islam brings together renowned women researchers and academics historians political scientists lawyers sociologists social anthropologists and literary critics to examine the phenomenon of feminism within the Islamic cultural framework Introducing a feminism which is Islamic in its form and context the essays focus on such subjects as crimes of honor and the construction of gender in Arab societies law and the desire for social control women and entrepreneurship family legislation and the political strategies of feminists in the Islamic world Back cover The Greenwood Encyclopedia of Women's Issues Worldwide Lynn Walter,2003 Women are working internationally to build a world based on gender equality and justice Their concerns are shaped by conditions in their own countries and regions and also by conditions for women in other parts of the world Links forged by globalization international relations United Nations gender equality and development programs and women s nongovernmental organizations connect their futures This groundbreaking reference set documents the achievements and current challenges for all women providing distortion free and newly available information about women s status in matters from education to violence in more than 130 countries in the world s most populated areas Written by an international host of contributing specialists this set is accessible to high school students and above Its consistent narrative coverage and relevant statistics are ideal for research and comparisons Readers will find that conceptions of women s issues vary by country as the set illuminates diverse perspectives and contemporary practices that shape the variations in equality and well being among women Judicious inclusion of historical processes helps frame the issues in a holistic perspective Volume maps individual country maps tables photos and indexes by set and volume are also included
