The Bamboo Cross Christian Witness In The Jungles Of Viet Nam:

The Bamboo Cross Homer E. Dowdy, 1965 The Ethnography of Vietnam's Central Highlanders Oscar

Salemink, 2019-10-18 This book looks at ethnographic discourses concerning the indigenous population of Vietnam's Central Highlands during periods of christianization, colonization, war, and socialist transformation and analyses these in their relation to tribal, ethnic, territorial, governmental, and gendered discourses. Salemink's book is a timely contribution to anthropological knowledge as the ethnic minorities in Vietnam have again been the object of fierce academic debate. This is a historically grounded post-colonial critique relevant to theories of ethnicity and the history of anthropology and will be of interest to graduate students of anthropology and cultural studies as well as Vietnam studies. Vietnam's Christians: Reg

Reimer, 2011-06-27 In 1975 Vietnam united under communism, fell behind a bamboo curtain. Many feared the worst for churches there. But fifteen years later, churches, especially among Vietnam's ethnic minority mountain peoples, suddenly exploded in number and vitality. American Evangelicals and the 1960s Axel R. Schäfer, 2013-08-23 In the late 1970s the New Christian Right emerged as a formidable political force, boldly announcing itself as a unified movement representing the views of a moral majority. But that movement did not spring fully formed from its predecessors. American Evangelicals and the 1960s refutes the thesis that evangelical politics were a purely inflammatory backlash against the cultural and political upheaval of the decade. Bringing together fresh research and innovative interpretations, this book demonstrates that evangelicals actually participated in broader American developments during the long 1960s; that the evangelical constituency was more diverse than often noted; and that the notion of right-wing evangelical politics as a backlash was a later creation serving the interests of both Republican conservative alliances and their critics. Evangelicalism's involvement with, rather than its reaction against, the main social movements, public policy initiatives, and cultural transformations of the 1960s proved significant in its 1970s political ascendance. Twelve essays that range thematically from the oil industry to prison ministry and from American counterculture to the Second Vatican Council depict modern evangelicalism both as a religious movement with its own internal dynamics and as one fully integrated into general American history. A Checklist of Vietnam War Literature, 1994 Vietnam, an Annotated Bibliography, 1968 God's Internationalists David P. King, 2019-04-11

Over the past seventy years, World Vision has grown from a small missionary agency to the largest Christian humanitarian organization in the world, with 40,000 employees, offices in nearly one hundred countries, and an annual budget of over 2 billion. While founder Bob Pierce was an evangelist with street smarts, the most recent World Vision U.S. presidents move with ease between megachurches, the boardrooms of Fortune 500 companies, and the corridors of Capitol Hill. Though the organization has remained decidedly Christian, it has earned the reputation as an elite international nongovernmental organization managed efficiently by professional experts fluent in the language of both marketing and development. God's Internationalists is the first comprehensive study of World Vision or any such religious humanitarian agency. In chronicling the organization's transformation from 1950 to the present David P King approaches World Vision as a lens through which to explore shifts within post World War II American evangelicalism as well as the complexities of faith based humanitarianism Chronicling the evolution of World Vision's practices theology rhetoric and organizational structure King demonstrates how the organization rearticulated and retained its Christian identity even as it expanded beyond a narrow American evangelical subculture King's pairing of American evangelicals interactions abroad with their own evolving identity at home reframes the traditional narrative of modern American evangelicalism while also providing the historical context for the current explosion of evangelical interest in global social engagement By examining these patterns of change God's Internationalists offers a distinctive angle on the history of religious humanitarianism Individual and Social Adaptions to Human Vulnerability Donald C. Wood, 2018-12-14 This volume celebrates the 40th anniversary of the Research in Economic Anthropology series presenting ten peer reviewed anthropological papers looking at human vulnerability the ways people attempt to cope with it and barriers to successfully overcoming it Missions and Conversions T. Pearson, 2009-06-22 This study offers a fresh reading of religious conversion by analyzing a variety of missionaries that sought to influence the Montagnard Dega refugee Thomas Pearson uses ethnographic and archival research to tell the story of cross cultural contact in the highlands during the Vietnam War Christian conversion refugee exile and the formation of the Dega refugee community in the United States His insightful study considers not just evangelicals and Catholics but humanitarian workers in the highlands refugee resettlement volunteers in the United States and the American Special Forces soldiers This book makes the case that the Dega have appropriated the anthropological and religious discourses of this disparate group of missionaries to recreate themselves through a multivalent conversion Asian Christian Theologies: Southeast Asia John C.
