Social Organization And Planned Development In Rural Java:

Social Organization and Planned Development in Rural Java Sediono M. P. Tjondronegoro, 1984 The Village Concept in the Transformation of Rural Southeast Asia Mason C. Hoadley, Christer Gunnarsson, 1996 Using examples from Indonesia Malaysia and Thailand the book considers what scholarship has defined as a village within the rapid changes taking place in rural Southeast Asia State and Society in Bali H. Geertz, 2022-07-04 Balinese texts temples theatre performances and rituals in seven essays are placed into specific political contexts in an effort to gain a deeper understanding of the changing relations between state and society on the complex island of Bali How have local communities been linked to various claimants to state sovereignty through Bali's history What have been the forms and functions of the institutions that have joined peasants with kings and bureaucrats How have these institutions changed and in what ways have they remained the same over the centuries How have these relationships been represented by Balinese to themselves And how should research on these issues be carried further forward The contributors to this volume I Gusti Ngurah Bagus Hildred Geertz Henk Schulte Nordholt Raechelle Rubinstein David J Stuart Fox Adrian Vickers and Carol Warren represent the disciplines of anthropology literature and history but all of them cut creatively across disciplinary lines In contrast to previous Bali research these studies put more emphasis on historical background and pay close attention to local Balinese perspectives Early and colonial history form the frame of several papers while others deal with major changes in the recent past While each paper taken alone has its own specialized concerns if the set is read as a series an outline can be discerned not only of Balinese history and culture but also of some characteristic features of the new research on Bali being carried out in the 1980s The interdisciplinary approach of this volume makes it challenging reading for a wider audience of Southeast Asianists Land Use, Nature Conservation and the Stability of Rainforest Margins in Southeast Asia Gerhard Gerold, Michael Fremerey, Edi Guhardja, 2013-06-29 Southeast Asia constitutes one of the world's most extended rainforest regions It is characterized by a high degree of biodiversity and contains a large variety of endemic species Moreover these forests provide a number of important and singular ecosystem services like erosion protection and provision of high quality water which cannot be replaced by alternative ecosystems However various forms of encroachment mostly those made by human interventions seriously threaten the continuance of rainforests in this area There is ample evidence that the rainforest resources apart from large scale commercial logging are exposed to danger particularly from its margin areas These areas which are characterized by intensive man nature interaction have been identified as extremely fragile systems The dynamic equilibrium that balances human needs and interventions on the one hand and natural regeneration capacity on the other is at stake The decrease of rainforest resources is to a substantial degree connected with the destabilization of these systems Accordingly the search for measures and processes which prevent destabilization and promote stability is regarded as imperative This refers to both the human and the natural part of the forest margin ecosystem An Anthropological Critique of Development Mark Hobart, 2002-05-03 Challenges the utopian view of Western knowledge as uniquely successful in its application to economic and social development The contributors offer an ethnographic critique using case studies from Europe Africa Asia and Latin America Development and Environmental Politics Unmasked Christopher J. Shepherd, 2013-07-24 Focusing on rural development and environmental management this book brings together the detailed history of development in East Timor under two colonial regimes and under the contemporary conditions of national independence It addresses two comparative areas of development across the three political regimes and across four case studies of projects delivered by various national or international development agencies in independent East Timor Employing an original classificatory framework for kinds of approaches to development coercive orders mandated orders negotiated orders the book covers the plantation centred development of Portuguese Timor as a European colony and the integration oriented development of Timor Timur as Indonesia's 27th province It examines the neoliberal democratic development of East Timor or Timor Leste in the current context of state and nation building before drawing on case studies to investigate how development proceeds as a negotiation between authoritative state non state and international actors and local people who need to adapt development and conservation projects to suit their lived realities By using the history of East Timor to explore how particular modes of operationalising development interventions are intimately intertwined with the broader political system this book makes a valuable contribution to the fields of Development Studies Anthropology Science and Technology Studies and Southeast Asian Studies Culture and Privilege in Capitalist Asia Michael Pinches, 2005-06-23 Culture and Privilege in Capitalist Asia shows that the cultural reconfiguration of domestic and international relations around Asia's new rich has often been characterised by tension and division Values and Participation Bambang Budijanto, 2009

Rural Indonesia Erik Thorbecke, Theodore Van Der Pluijm, 1993 The formulation of a rural development strategy for any country is an extremely difficult and multi faceted task especially so for a country as large and diversified as Indonesia With its almost two hundred million inhabitants and its island geography Indonesia presents a particular challenge to efforts aimed at improving the lot of the rural poor Illustrating again how economic growth in urban areas rarely translates into a decrease in rural poverty this volume identifies the impact of recent changes in the national economy on the rural poor the interaction between the agricultural sector and the rural population and patterns of food consumption nutrition and health Drawing on the data and conclusions of thirteen years of IFAD experience in Indonesia this book also examines the successes and failures of past development efforts and makes tangible practical recommendations for future programs Emphasizing that different strategies are required for Java the other Inner Islands and for the Outer Islands the authors highlight the need for greater employment opportunities greater commodity and regional diversification in the form of the cultivation of secondary food crops maintenance and improvement of irrigation and the construction of roads among other programmes and a special emphasis on poor rural women Pursuing Livelihoods, Imagining Development Ahmad Kusworo, 2014-01-29

This monograph explores the ways in which people experience development and how development shapes and maintains their lives. The discussion begins with Lampung Province, moves to one of the province's highland regions, and ends in a village in this highland region. Colonial and post colonial initiatives drove the transformation of Lampung in the twentieth century, bringing mixed results and effects including rapid growth in agricultural production, the formation of wealthy zones in some areas, and the creation of pockets of poverty in other areas. In Sumber Jaya and the highlands of Way Tenong, migrants have transformed one of Lampung's last frontier regions into one of its wealthy zones. Although the bulk of these migrants migrated spontaneously, they were integrated within the framework of planned development. The level of progress that the region has achieved is largely the result of villagers' efforts to bring state resources to the village. In conflict with forestry authorities for decades, farmers in some villages have agreed to establish a new relationship with authorities, but the struggle for control over land resources continues.

Agricultural Growth in Indonesia Pierre van der Eng, 1996-05-06

The impact of both colonial economic policies and Western enterprise on indigenous agriculture in Indonesia has long been a matter of contention among scholars. This book provides the first quantification and assessment of the broad long term trends in agricultural production and productivity since 1880. It is the first comprehensive inventory of agricultural policies and their impact on agricultural production during the colonial era and after independence. It stresses the continuity in the development of both agricultural productivity and policies from the colonial era until today.

The Malay World of Southeast Asia Patricia Lim Pui Huen, 1986

Over 5 000 entries arranged in four parts. Part I comprises reference and general works to provide a guide to information on Southeast Asia. Part II provides the setting of space and time. Part III features the people, and Part IV the many facets of culture and society: language, ideas, beliefs, values, institutions, creative expression, and social and cultural change. Within each section, the arrangement is geographical, beginning with Southeast Asia as a whole, followed by the various countries in alphabetical order.

Television, Nation, and Culture in Indonesia Philip Kitley, 2014-07-31

The culture of television in Indonesia began with its establishment in 1962 as a public broadcasting service. From that time through the deregulation of television broadcasting in 1990 and the establishment of commercial channels, television can be understood. Philip Kitley argues as a part of the New Order's national culture project designed to legitimate an idealized Indonesian national cultural identity. But Professor Kitley suggests that it also has become a site for the contestation of elements of the New Order's cultural policies. Based on his studies, he further speculates on the increasingly significant role that television is destined to play as a site of cultural and political struggle.

The Politics of NGOs in Indonesia Bob S. Hadiwinata, 2003-08-29

This book deals with two major issues: how Indonesian NGOs survived under Suharto's authoritarian rule, and how NGOs contributed to the promotion of democracy in the post Suharto era. If NGOs are to change from development to movement in democratic post Suharto Indonesia, they must adjust not only their management and working style, but also their very ideology. This comprehensive study will be an important book for scholars interested in Asian studies.

Indonesian politics and development studies Generations of Change Juliette Koning, 2004 Juggling Money Hotze Lont, 2021-08-04 This social anthropological study focusing on urban Indonesia examines a variety of financial self help organizations arisan and simpan pinjam as instruments for dealing with financial difficulties related to illness death and unemployment The author devotes ample attention to the embedding of these associations and their participants in a changing socio economic and cultural environment and to the important issues of agency exclusion trust and social conflict The book not only explains the workings of these fascinating collective arrangements but also provides an interesting window on living conditions and social relations in an Indonesian urban community Indonesianists will find here a detailed description of an omnipresent aspect of Javanese socio economic life the only thorough analytical study of which has become somewhat outdated C Geertz The rotating credit association An instrument for development Cambridge 1956 In this UN Year of Microcredit experts on informal finance and microfinance will value the explanation of the workings of financial self help organizations and its policy implications The book critically examines the popular notion of financial self help organizations as vehicles for development and nurseries for social capital Historical Dictionary of Indonesia R. B. Cribb, Audrey Kahin, 2004 Indonesia is Asia s third largest country in both population and area a sprawling tropical archipelago of some 180 million people from hundreds of ethnic groups with a complex and turbulent history One of Asia s newly industrializing countries it is already a major economic powerhouse In over 800 clear and succinct entries the dictionary covers people places and organizations as well as economics culture and political thought from Indonesia s ancient history up until the recent past Includes a comprehensive bibliography maps chronology list of abbreviations and appendix of election results and major office holders This second edition has been thoroughly updated and expanded to cover the events that have occurred in Indonesia s history in the past fifteen years How the World Hunger Problem Was not Solved Christian Gerlach, 2024-02-14 The world food crisis 1972 1975 gave rise to new development concepts To eradicate world hunger small peasants were supposed to use modern inputs like high yielding seeds fertilizer pesticides and irrigation This would turn subsistence producers into business owners transform rural areas invigorate national economies and the crisis stricken world economy and thus stabilize capitalism Together with an in depth account of the world food crisis this book analyses how this global scheme largely failed It shows its diverse initiators their reasoning and motives its political breakthrough the degrees to which it was implemented globally and nationally in the following decades and its socioeconomic effects in rural areas Despite internationally coordinated policies and coercive means the scheme failed on all levels situation analysis design policies incapable institutions including big business implementation and peasants responses Selective realization in certain regions and for certain crops and the appropriation of funds by local elites often aggravated inequality and hunger Case studies are about Bangladesh Indonesia Tanzania and Mali The book shows limits to global social engineering imperialism and state control It is aimed at students scholars activists and non specialists interested in development and the world food

The British National Bibliography Arthur James Wells, 1979 Asia Before Europe K. N. Chaudhuri, 1990 This book explores the dynamic interaction between economic life, society and civilisation in the regions around and beyond the Indian Ocean during the period from the rise of Islam to 1750. Within a distinctive theory of comparative history, Professor Chaudhuri analyses how the identity of different Asian civilisations was established. He examines the structural features of food habits, clothing, architectural styles and housing, the different modes of economic production and the role of crop raising, pastoral nomadism and industrial activities for the main regions of the Indian Ocean. In an original and perceptive conclusion, the author demonstrates how Indian Ocean societies were united or separated from one another by a conscious cultural and linguistic identity. However, there was a deeper structure of unities created by a common ecology, technology, technology of economic production, traditions of government, theory of political obligations and rights and a shared historical experience. His theory enables the author to show that the real Indian Ocean was an area that extended historically from the Red Sea and the Persian Gulf to the sea which lies beyond Japan.
