Social Relations In A Philippine Town:

Social Relations in a Philippine Town Robert Jay Morais, 1981 Social Relations in a Philippine Town , 1981

Everyday Politics in the Philippines Benedict J. Kerkvliet, 2002 Focusing on a rice farming village in central Luzon Kerkvliet argues that the faction and patron client relationships dealt with by conventional studies are only one part of Philippine political life

Power and Intimacy in the Christian Philippines Fenella Cannell, 1999-03-18 What kind of reciprocity exists between unequal partners How can a culture which makes no attempt to defend unchanging traditions be understood as such In the Christian Philippines inequalities global and local are negotiated through idioms of persuasion reluctance and pity Fenella Cannell's study suggests that these are the idioms of a culture which does not need to represent itself as immutable Her account of Philippine spirit mediumship Catholicism transvestite beauty contests and marriage in Bicol calls for a reassessment of our understanding of South East Asian modernity Combining a strong theoretical interest in the anthropology of religion with a broader comparative attention to recent developments in South East Asian studies she offers a powerful alternative to existing interpretations of the relationship between culture and tradition in the region and beyond This book addresses not only South East Asianists but all those with an interest in the anthropology of religion and post colonial cultures Power and Intimacy in the Christian Philippines has won the Harry J Benda prize for 2001 Agrarian Reform in the Philippines

Jeffrey M. Riedinger, 1995 This book evaluates the capacity of new democratic regimes to promote redistributive agrarian reform an issue of contemporary concern in countries throughout the world Agrarian reform is particularly complex and difficult for new democracies because it curtails the power and privileges of influential elements of society The author analyzes the problems attendant on political liberalization and social and economic reform by examining in detail the formulation and implementation of agrarian reform in the Philippines under the governments of Corazon Aquino and her successor Fidel Ramos The book explores how the interaction between state and society shapes reform policy decisions paying close attention to the role of cultural variables and social organizations It shows that what is needed for successful agrarian reform is a combination of sustained forceful leadership from a disciplined reform oriented political party and grassroots agitation by peasant organizations

An Anarchy of Families Alfred W. McCoy, 2009 Winner of the Philippine National Book Award this pioneering volume reveals how the power of the country's family based oligarchy both derives from and contributes to a weak Philippine state From provincial warlords to modern managers prominent Filipino leaders have fused family politics and business to compromise public institutions and amass private wealth a historic pattern that persists to the present day Edited by Alfred W McCoy An Anarchy of Families explores the pervasive influence of the modern dynasties that have led the Philippines during the past century Exemplified by the Osmeas and Lopezes elite Filipino families have formed a powerful oligarchy controlling capital dominating national politics and often owning the media Beyond Manila strong men such as Ramon Durano Ali Dimaporo and Justiniano Montano have used guns goons and gold to accumulate wealth and power in far flung islands and provinces In a new preface for this revised edition the editor shows how this pattern of oligarchic control has continued into the twenty first century despite dramatic socio economic change that has supplanted the classic three g s of Philippine politics with the contemporary four c s continuity Chinese criminality and celebrity

Economic Exchange and Social Interaction in Southeast Asia Karl Hutterer,2020-08-06 Economic behavior is governed by two major sets of boundary conditions environmental and technological factors on the one hand and conditions of social organization on the other hand Indeed social scientists are often particularly interested in the framework of exchange relationships exchange of goods services personnel and information Economic exchanges lend concrete manifestations to social relations that themselves may transcend the economic realm and that otherwise are often difficult to trace Yet in social science research in Southeast Asia the area of economic studies has lagged behind despite the great study potential represented by the tremendous diversity of its physical and human environment Economic Exchange and Social Interaction in Southeast Asia attempts to take advantage of that opportunity As a number of the contributions to this volume show many if not most of the systems organized on very different levels of integration interact with each other Taken as a whole they provide evidence of the incredible diversity of economic and social systems that may be investigated in Southeast Asia

Amazons of the Huk Rebellion Vina A. Lanzona,2009-04-22 Labeled Amazons by the national press women played a central role in the Huk rebellion one of the most significant peasant based revolutions in modern Philippine history

Christianity in the Local Context B. Howell,2016-04-30 In three congregations representing three distinct social locations Howell goes beneath the surface to argue that even with these Western forms these Filipino Baptists are actively constructing themselves and the locality itself in terms of this global faith they have made their own

A Changeless Land David G. Timberman,2016-09-16 First Published in 1992 This book examines the elements of continuity and change in Philip pine politics and government over the last quarter century The period covered from the early 1960s through 1988 encompasses three distinct phases the decline of traditional elite democracy the imposition of martial law and constitutional authoritarianism under Ferdinand Marcos and most recently the restoration of democracy under Corazon Aquino

Routledge Handbook of the Contemporary Philippines Mark R. Thompson,Eric Vincent C. Batalla,2018-02-19 The Philippines is a fascinating example of a poor country democracy where issues of economic development and poverty political participation and stability as well as ethnicity and migration are crucial The Routledge

Handbook of the Contemporary Philippines provides a comprehensive overview of the current political economic social and cultural issues of the country The Handbook is divided into the following four sections concentrating on a different aspect of the Philippines domestic politics foreign relations economics and social policy cultures and movements In terms of domestic politics chapters discuss clientelism bossism dynasties pork barrel and corruption as well as institutions the presidency congress the judiciary the civil service political parties and civilian military relations The Philippines is confronted with many overseas challenges with the foreign relations section focused on the country s relationship with China Japan and the USA as well as assessing the impact of the Filipino diaspora community around the world Regarding economics and social policy authors examine industrial policy capital flight microfinance technocracy economic nationalism poverty social welfare programs and livelihoods The final section on Philippine cultures and movements highlights issues of customs gender religion and nationalism while also examining various social and political forces the peasantry the middle class indigenous peoples NGOs the left trade unionism the women s movement and major insurgencies Written by leading experts in the field the Handbook provides students scholars and policymakers of Southeast Asia with an interdisciplinary resource on the evolving politics society and economics of the Philippines

Something to Believe In Rupesh Shah, David Murphy, Malcolm McIntosh, 2017-09-29 In a world where trust in politicians corporations and the processes that determine our lives continues to dwindle this innovative book brings together research case studies and stories that begin to answer a central question for society How we can create organisations institutions groups and societies that can nurture trusting relationships with one another and among individuals Something to Believe In provides a fresh take on the corporate responsibility debate based as it is on the work of key global thinkers on corporate social responsibility along with a raft of work developed from collaborations between the New Academy of Business and the United Nations Volunteers UK Department for International Development and TERI Europe in countries such as Brazil Nicaragua Ghana India Sri Lanka Bangladesh Lebanon Nigeria the Philippines and South Africa The focus is on business and particularly how deeper more systemic changes to current ways of understanding and undertaking business can and have been enacted in both developed countries and in nations where the Western concept of CSR means nothing The market based model of economic thinking the

increasingly distrusted globalisation project which threatens to sweep all before it is challenged by many of the contributions to this book The book tells stories such as the mobilization of civil society in Ghana to bring business to account the reorientation of a business school to focus on values the life cycle of ethical chocolate the accountability of the diamond business in a war zone the need to reinvent codes of conduct for women workers in the plantations and factories of Nicaragua a Philippine initiative to economically empower former Moslem liberation fighters and the development of local governance practices in a South African eco village The book is split into four sections Through Some Looking Glasses contains short thought provoking pieces about the issues of trust belief and change from writers including Thabo Mbeki Malcolm McIntosh and a reprinted piece from E M Forster Section Two asks how it will be possible to believe in our corporations and provides new approaches from around the world on how space is being opened up to found businesses that are able to create trust Section Three examines the role of auditing in fostering trust Corporations continue to attempt to engender trust through their activities in philanthropy reporting and voluntary programmes But post Enron et al even the most highly praised corporate mission statements are tarnished Can social and environmental audits of corporate reports codes and practices assuage our doubts about boardroom democracy Section Four examines alternative forms of accountability transparency and governance from around the world and offers some different ways of thinking about the practice of creating trust in society Something to Believe In provides a host of fascinating suggestions about redefining and renewing the underlying deal between society and its organizations It will become a key text for students thinkers and practitioners in the field of corporate responsibility

The City Connection Lillian Trager, 1988 Evaluates migration in light of the migrant's social network

Provisioning Paris Steven Laurence Kaplan, 2018-09-05 Dependence upon grain deeply marked every aspect of life in eighteenth century France Steven Kaplan focuses upon this dependence at the point where it placed the greatest strain on the state the society and the individual on the daily supply of grain and flour that furnished the staff of life He reconstructs the history of provisioning in pre industrial Paris and provides a comprehensive view of a culture shaped by the subsistence imperative Who were the agents of the provisioning trade What were their commercial practices What sorts of relations did they maintain with each other How did the authorities regulate their business To answer these questions Professor Kaplan combed the archives and libraries of France He maps out the elementary structures of the trade and shows how they were transformed as a result of cultural and political as well as commercial and technological changes In rich ethnographic detail he evokes the day to day life of merchants millers bakers brokers and market officials He shows how flour superseded grain and how the millers overtook the merchants in the provisioning process He explores the tension between the suppliers need for freedom and the consumers need for security Even as he weaves the intricate patterns of life inside and outside the marketplace he never loses sight of the immense interests at stake the stability and legitimacy of the government the durability of the social structure and the survival of the
