Handbook of Theories of Aging, Second Edition Merrill Silverstein PhD, Vern L. Bengtson PhD, Norella Putney PhD, Daphna Gans PhD, 2008-10-27

The field of gerontology has often been criticized for being data rich but theory poor The editors of this book address this issue by stressing the importance of theory in gerontology While the previous edition focused on multidisciplinary approaches to aging theory this new edition provides cross disciplinary integrative explanations of aging theory The contributors of this text have reached beyond traditional disciplinary boundaries to partner with researchers in adjacent fields in studying aging and age related phenomena This edition of the Handbook consists of 39 chapters written by 67 internationally recognized experts in the field of aging It is organized in seven sections reflecting the major theoretical developments in gerontology over the past 10 years Special Features Comprehensive coverage of aging theory focusing on the biological psychological and social aspects of aging A section dedicated to discussing how aging theory informs public policy A concluding chapter summarizing the major themes of aging and offering predictions about the future of theory development Required reading for graduate students and post doctoral fellows this textbook represents the current status of theoretical development in the study of aging

Ageing with a Lifelong Disability Christine Bigby, 2004 This guide provides specialist knowledge about ageing with a disability in the context of the more mainstream knowledge about ageing processes Dr Bigby uses the concept of successful ageing as a framework in which to consider the issues and practicalities for older people with a pre existing disability

Ageing in Society John Bond, Sheila M Peace, Freya Dittmann-Kohli, Gerben Westerhof, 2007-02-22 Ageing in Society brings forth exciting new questions fresh perspectives and a necessary critical approach to key issues this is indeed an authoritative introduction The authors not only have made significant contributions to gerontology but offer the reader considerations for what could be not just what is the design of old age in society The book will inform students in ways that so many texts in the area satisfied with comfortable bromides do not Jaber Gubrium Editor of Journal of Aging Studies University of Missouri Columbia This completely revised Third Edition of Ageing in Society presents one of the most comprehensive pictures of ageing today Emphasising the dual processes of ageing societies and the experience of ageing the book offers the reader student or researcher alike cogent discussions of the most up to date perspectives and evidence available The contributors are all leading experts in their fields comprising a range of important disciplines as they apply to ageing Ageing in Society is a cutting edge text on one of the most important subjects facing the modern world a must for all students of ageing Mike Bury Emeritus Professor of Sociology University of London The Third Edition of the comprehensive textbook Ageing in Society extends its scope to include continental Europe allowing broader as well as deeper insights into recent trends in gerontology Gerontologists and practitioners are urged not to stop reading before they have reached the insightful last chapter Ageing into the future Professor Dorly Deeg Editor in Chief European Journal of Ageing The Third Edition of this popular and widely used text provides a comprehensive introduction to the study of ageing exploring the key theories concepts and methods which the behavioural and social sciences contribute to the subject Thoroughly revised and updated Ageing in Society reflects new trends in gerontology incorporating recent developments in theory and research as well as major international and interdisciplinary perspectives A new chapter on cognitive ageing has been added and key themes such as social protection retirement health and illness and cultural images of old age are also critically examined Ageing in Society was developed by the British Society of Gerontology to fulfil the need for an authoritative introduction to social gerontology As such it is an ideal resource for students and lecturers in the social and behavioural sciences as well as for students and practitioners in health and social care

Social Context of Ageing

Cheryl Russell, 2005

Ageing, Meaning and Social Structure Jan Baars, Joseph Dohmen, Amanda Grenier, Chris Phillipson, 2014-08-20 Ageing meaning and social structure is a unique book advancing critical discourse in gerontology and makes a major contribution to understanding key social and ethical dilemmas facing ageing societies It confronts and integrates approaches that have been relatively isolated from each other and interrelates two major streams of thought within critical gerontology analyses of structural issues in the context of political economy and humanistic perspectives on issues of existential meaning The chapters from a wide range of contributors focus on major issues in ageing such as autonomy agency frailty lifestyle social isolation dementia and professional challenges in social work and participatory research This volume should be valuable reading for scholars and graduate students in gerontology and humanistic studies as well as for policy makers and practitioners working in the field of ageing Ageing as a Social Challenge Maria Łuszczynska, 2021-11-29 The Introduction chapter of this book is available for free in PDF format as Open Access from the individual product page at www.routledge.com It has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives 4.0 license With a focus on the case of Poland where an ageing population poses a crucial challenge for the state's social family and gerontological policy this book explores ageing as a personal and social phenomenon considering the ways in which the experience of ageing is shaped by younger generations attitudes government support policies local initiatives undertaken help older people stay active and the ways in which the elderly themselves understand their own mortality Employing demographic philosophical legal psychological gerontological perspectives it emphasises activities that can support older adults locally or nationwide and proposes the development of a social policy and social attitudes that can facilitate changes in the social perception of ageing together with a redistribution of resources for older adults As such it will appeal to scholars across the social sciences with interests in ageing and the lifecourse as well as those who wish to support older adults with concrete solutions and familiarize themselves with the ageing process from an individual and social perspective Social Structures, Aging, and Self-Regulation in the Elderly K. Warner Schaie, PhD, Laura L. Carstensen, PhD, 2006-07-06 This collection considers ways in which societal contexts influence aging by influencing self regulatory processes No one doubts that the social contexts in which individuals develop exert strong influence on life trajectories Those born into environments that provide high quality education supportive social relations and economic assets do better in old age than those born into environments bereft of such resources The extent of this influence however is only beginning to be revealed Recent research shows that life experiences influence basic brain structures e.g. the effect of musical training on neural organization and functions e.g. inflammatory processes and that social embeddedness may even protect against Alzheimer's disease Similarly education increasingly appears to have a real effect on neural integrity Thus societal contexts may not simply open or close doors for individuals but may influence self regulatory processes at the most basic levels of functioning Although social structures are generally seen as the independent variables that affect individual aging it is also possible to think of a lifetime development of self regulatory processes leading to behaviors in old age that can have impact on and modify societal structures Two parts of this book consider self regulation as the dependent variable asking how social contexts influence cognitive emotional and self regulatory processes The third part reverses the question treating self regulation as the independent variable and retirement and physical health as dependent variables In this part consideration is given to how the effectiveness of self regulation influences physical and economic outcomes in old age Trans and Gender Diverse Ageing in Care Contexts Michael Toze, Paul Willis, Trish Hafford-Letchfield, 2024-07-19 Gender diversity and non conformity are becoming increasingly visible within society As more trans and non binary service users come out and trans populations age practitioners and service providers working in health care social care welfare services and housing will begin to see a growing number of older gender diverse service users With contributions from trans and non binary scholars and practitioners and those with lived experience this book outlines what good care and support looks like for older trans and non binary people This book provides a range of reflective learning activities that can be used by educators policy makers and practitioners in healthcare social care public and community services to develop their knowledge and skills to ensure their practice is affirmative and inclusive

Handbook of Communication and Aging Research Jon F. Nussbaum, Justine Coupland, 2004-04-12 This second edition of the Handbook of Communication and Aging Research captures the ever changing and expanding domain of aging research Since it was first recognized that there is more to social aging than demography gerontology has needed a communication perspective Like the first edition this handbook sets out to demonstrate that aging is not only an individual process but an interactive one The study of communication can lead to an understanding of what it means to grow old We may age physiologically and chronologically but our social aging how we behave as social actors toward others and even how we align ourselves with or come to understand the signs of difference or change as we age are phenomena achieved primarily through communication experiences Synthesizing the vast amount of research that has been published on communication and aging in numerous international outlets over the last three decades the book's contributors include scholars from North America and the United Kingdom who are active researchers in the perspectives covered in their particular chapter Many of the chapters work to deny earlier images of aging as involving normative decrement to provide a picture of aging as a process of development involving positive choices and providing new opportunities A recurring theme in many chapters is that of the heterogeneity of the group of people who are variously categorized as older aged elderly or over 65 The contributors review the literature analytically in a way that reveals not only current theoretical and methodological approaches to communication and aging research but also sets the future agenda This handbook will be of great interest to scholars and researchers in gerontology developmental psychology and communication and in this updated edition will continue to play a key role in the study of communication and aging

The SAGE Handbook of Industrial, Work & Organizational Psychology, 3v Deniz S Ones, Neil Anderson, Chockalingam Viswesvaran, Handan Kepir Sinangil, 2017-12-14 The second edition of this best selling Handbook presents a fully updated and expanded overview of research providing the latest perspectives on the analysis of theories techniques and methods used by industrial work and organizational psychologists Building on the strengths of the first edition key additions to this edition include in depth historical chapter overviews of professional contexts across the globe along with new chapters on strategic human resource management corporate social responsibility diversity stress emotions and mindfulness in the workplace environmental sustainability at work aging workforces among many others Providing a truly global approach and authoritative overview this three volume Handbook is an indispensable resource and essential reading for professionals researchers and students in the field Volume One Personnel Psychology and Employee Performance Volume Two Organizational Psychology Volume Three Managerial Psychology and Organizational Approaches The Law and Economics of Intellectual Property in the Digital Age Niva Elkin-Koren, Eli Salzberger, 2012-11-27 This book explores the economic analysis of intellectual property law with a special emphasis on the Law and Economics of informational goods in light of the past decade s technological revolution In recent years there has been massive growth in the Law and Economics literature focusing on intellectual property on both normative and positive levels of analysis The economic approach to intellectual property is often described as a monolithic coherent approach that may differ only as it is applied to a particular case Yet the growing literature of Law and Economics in intellectual property does not speak in one voice The economic discourse used in legal scholarship and in policy making encompasses several strands each reflecting a fundamentally different approach to the economics of informational works and each grounded in a different ideology or methodological paradigm This book delineates the various economic approaches taken and analyzes their tenets It maps the fundamental concepts and the theoretical foundation of current economic analysis of intellectual property law in order to fully understand the ramifications of using economic analysis of law in policy making In so doing one begins to appreciate the limitations of the current frameworks in confronting the challenges of the information revolution The book addresses the fundamental adjustments in the methodology and underlying assumptions that must be employed in order for the economic approach to remain a useful analytical framework for addressing IPR in the information age Aging, Place, and Health

Satariano, Marlon Maus, 2017-03-03 Aging Place and Health A Global Perspective examines the interplay of biological social and environmental factors affecting the health and well being of aging individuals their families and communities With a strong interdisciplinary focus this book provides a clear coherent structure to address the diversity of topics in this increasingly vital field The second edition maintains the ecological approach using the same framework as in the first edition The ecological model serves as a template for the organization of the book The new edition provides a more global focus and introduces new topics such as the impact of technology This edition also introduces a new co editor as well as specific chapters prepared by leading experts in the field Measuring and Analyzing Informal Learning in the Digital Age

Mejiuni, Olutoyin, Cranton, Patricia, Táíwò, Olúfẹ́mi, 2015-04-30 In the twenty first century learning and the definition of education is changing New digital online and social tools have the ability to transform the classroom and engage learners like never before In the midst of this technological revolution it is crucial for educators and administrators to be able to gauge the impact of digital tools on learners in a variety of settings Measuring and Analyzing Informal Learning in the Digital Age addresses the need for educators administrators and professionals across industries to be more attentive to the learning process outside of a traditional classroom setting As online learning and MOOCs in particular become more mainstream tracking informal learning becomes difficult despite the necessity of feedback and measurement in non formal learning environments Investigating some of the primary technologies being used in educational settings and how a less structured and more open learning environment can effectively motivate students and non traditional learners this premier reference is a crucial source of information for educators administrators theorists and other professionals in the field of education
