Society And Food Science In A Social Context:

Food, Science and Society P.S. Belton, Teresa Belton, 2013-06-29 There is widespread concern amongst consumers about the safety and acceptability of food and there are clearly communication gaps between consumers many food professionals and food industry This book offers accounts of the two way nature of this difficult communication process and steps that can be made to bridge these communication gaps in a variety of social and cultural environments Individual chapters of the book analyze the roles of science culture and risk perception and of mass media and attitudes towards eating An additional section describes the interface between scientists and lay people with regard to policy making and agricultural practice

Communicating Science in Social Contexts Donghong Cheng, Michel Claessens, Nicholas R. J. Gascoigne, Jenni Metcalfe, Bernard Schiele, Shunke Shi, 2008-07-15 Science communication as a multidisciplinary field has developed remarkably in recent years It is now a distinct and exceedingly dynamic science that melds theoretical approaches with practical experience Formerly well established theoretical models now seem out of step with the social reality of the sciences and the previously clear cut delineations and interacting domains between cultural fields have blurred Communicating Science in Social Contexts examines that shift which itself depicts a profound recomposition of knowledge fields activities and dissemination practices and the value accorded to science and technology Communicating Science in Social Contexts is the product of long term effort that would not have been possible without the research and expertise of the Public Communication of Science and Technology PCST Network and the editors For nearly 20 years this informal international network has been organizing events and forums for discussion of the public communication of science Education and Training in Food Science Ian Douglas Morton, J. Lenges, 1992 Containing a selection of papers presented at an international conference this volume reviews the need for increased training in the food industry in order to bridge the gap between standards in Eastern and Western Europe and the USA Higher education is discussed including the training of food technicians European initiatives such as ERASMUS and Network are also described The text includes coverage of the importance of international trade and consumer protection acts including a description of the needs of various groups and future developments Joint Seminars on the U.N.
