Andreas Seland, 2018-07-23 What is suspense and why do we feel it These questions are at the heart of the first part of this study It develops and defends the imminence theory of suspense the view that suspense arises in situations that are structurally defined by something essential being imminent Next the study utilizes this theory as an interpretative key to Søren Kierkegaard's seminal work Frygt og Bæven FB is an exploration of what it means to take the story of Abraham and Isaac as a paradigmatic example of faith The study argues that a core aspect of how Kierkegaard conceptualizes faith through the figure of Abraham is suspense The argument is built upon the observation that to have faith is to be a hero To be a hero means to belong to a story Stories manifest different conceptualizations of time Abraham's story as FB frames it is radically geared towards something imminent it is characterized by an essential relation of suspense The study then explores how suspense not only forms part of the conceptualization of faith but is also part of how this conceptualization is communicated Thus the study argues that there exists a symmetry of suspense between the rhetorical and the conceptual levels of the text

The Hero's Quest and the Cycles of Nature Rachel S. McCoppin,2016-10-25 This examination of the heroic journey in world mythology casts the protagonist as a personification of nature a botanical hero one might say who begins the quest in a metaphorical seed like state then sprouts into a period of verdant strength But the hero must face a mythic underworld where he or she contends with mortality and sacrifice embracing death as a part of life For centuries humans have sought superiority over nature yet the botanical hero finds nothing is lost by recognizing that one is merely a part of nature Instead a cyclical promise of continuous life is realized in which no element fully disappears and the hero s message is not to dwell on death

Heroes Scott T. Allison,George R. Gavrilyuk, Andrew P. Hofer, Matthew Levering, 2024-07-19 Modern theological engagements on deification have undergone two major paradigm shifts First the study of deification shifted from the periphery of theological discourse to its center For Adolf von Harnack deification was a pagan import that fatally corrupted and distorted the Gospel message of salvation In response the positive retrieval of the concept of deification belongs to the early years of the twentieth century By the 1910s in Russian religious thought and by the 1930s in much Roman Catholic theology deification had become a magnet concept attracting attention from many different viewpoints The second important shift relates to how deification is characterized Recent studies question the exclusively Eastern character of deification and draw attention to the engagements of this theme in Latin patristic and later Western Christian sources Reassessing the evidence for these two major shifts The Oxford Handbook of Deification comprehensively explores the points of convergence and difference on the constitutive elements of deification in different traditions and offers a foundation for ecumenical and interreligious dialogues The Handbook's first part analyzes the cultural and scriptural roots of deification the second part explores the most significant historical contributions to the understanding of deification in the early medieval and modern periods the third part develops systematic connections Readers will discover a surprising breadth depth and diversity of theologies of deification in Christian traditions Throughout the Handbook leading scholars in the field of Deification Studies propose vital new insights from a variety of perspectives for this central mystery at the heart of the Christian faith Revelations in Verse James Patrick McCaffrey, 2003-07 Our journey through life is an adventure a complex mixture of circumstances events and experiences Along the way we encounter people places and things that through our unique sensitivities cause us to form concepts opinions and feelings personal revelations generated by the words thoughts attitude and actions of others to form who we are how we think and act and what we're all about At times we may encounter an isolated incident that impacts upon our life like
