June 1940, Great Britain and the First Attempt to Build a European Union Andrea Bosco, 2016-06-22 June 1940 represents a significant moment in British history The decision to leave the European Union at the most critical period since its existence could bring unpredictable and far reaching consequences both for the United Kingdom and the Union itself June 1940 was also a turning point in British history On the afternoon of 16 June a few hours before the French Government opted for the capitulation Churchill made on behalf of the British Government an offer of indissoluble union When a sceptical Churchill put forward to the British Cabinet the text of the declaration drafted by Jean Monnet Sir Arthur Salter and Robert Vansittart he was surprised at the amount of support it received The Cabinet adopted the document with some minor amendments and de

Gaulle who saw it as a means of keeping France in the war telephoned Reynaud with the proposal for an indissoluble union with joint organs of defence foreign financial and economic policies a common citizenship and a single War Cabinet The proposal however never reached the table of the French Government The spirit of capitulation embodied in Weygand and Ptain prevailed and France submitted herself to the German will for the second time in seventy years After the Munich crisis Great Britain had to face the danger of another European war with the inevitable loss of the Empire and it was at this point that the country first began to favour the application of the federalist principle to Anglo French relations In this conversion to federalism a fundamental role was played by the Federal Union the first federalist movement organised on a popular basis The contribution of Federal Union to the development of the federal idea in Great Britain and Europe was to express and organise the beginning of a new political militancy and it represented the first step of a historical process the overcoming of the nation State the modern political formula which institutionalises the political division of mankind This study principally examines the first eighteen months of the Federal Union during which time it was able to raise itself to the attention of the general public and the political class as the heir of the League of Nations Union The research is based on extensive unpublished archival material found across the globe from London Oxford Brighton and Edinburgh to Washington Paris and Geneva

Strikwerda, 2025-01-17 This book offers a new interpretation of the origins of the contemporary global order the set of institutions and international practices created by the USA and its allies after the Second World War Previous interpretations have argued that the USA played the predominant role in creating the global order to fight the Cold War against the Soviet Union The author argues that a broader perspective is necessary to understand both the origins of the global order and its ongoing tensions up until today a perspective that includes the legacy of both world wars the role of imperialism and the alternative strategy of globally oriented economic blocs The cooperative tradition in the founding of the global order and the contributions of nations besides the USA provides useful insights for those interested in the current global order and the challenges it faces from Russia and China United States Foreign Policy and National Identity in the 21st Century Kenneth Christie, 2009 Examines the complex relationship between United States foreign policy and American national identity as it has changed from the post cold war period through the defining moment of 9 11 and into the 21st century Starting with a discussion of notions of American identity in an historical sense the contributors go on to examine the most central issues in US foreign policy and their impact on national identity including the end of the Cold War the rise of neo conservatism ideas of US Empire and the influence of the War on Terror The book sheds significant new light on the continuities and discontinuities in the relationship of US identity to foreign policy
