captivating exploration of the enigmatic allure of Egypt intertwining rich descriptions with introspective musings Written in a lyrical evocative style the book captures both the beauty and mystery of the Egyptian landscape as well as the complex emotions it inspires within the travelers who immerse themselves in its history Set against the backdrop of early 20th century European fascination with Egyptology Hichens deftly encapsulates the era s cultural obsession with the exotic offering readers a glimpse into both the external allure and internal dilemmas faced by his characters Robert Hichens an English novelist and travel writer was profoundly influenced by his numerous journeys particularly to the mesmerizing terrains of North Africa His intimate knowledge of the region combined with a burgeoning interest in the spiritual and mystical elements of life informs this intricate work Hichens s diverse literary career and his ability to navigate between fiction and travel writing positioned him as a distinctive voice reflective of a time when travel stirred both imagination and enlightenment For readers drawn to lush prose and the exquisite tension of cultural encounters The Spell of Egypt is an essential addition to the literary canon Hichens s portrayal of a land steeped in history intertwined with poignant human experiences resonates deeply making it not only a travel narrative but a meditation on the perennial quest for beauty and truth

The Spell of Egypt Robert Hichens, 2020-06-29 Why do you come to Egypt Do you come to gain a dream or to regain lost dreams of old to gild your life with the drowsy gold of romance to lose a creeping sorrow to forget that too many of your hours are sullen grey bereft What do you wish of Egypt The Sphinx will not ask you will not care The Pyramids lifting their unnumbered stones to the clear and wonderful skies have held still hold their secrets but they do not seek for yours The terrific temples the hot mysterious tombs odorous of the dead desires of men crouching in and under the immeasurable sands will muck you with their brooding silence with their dim and sombre repose The brown children of the Nile the toilers who sing their antique songs by the shadoof and the sakieh the dragomans the smiling goblin merchants the Bedouins who lead your camel into the pale recesses of the dunes these will not trouble themselves about your deep desires your perhaps yearning hunger of the heart and the imagination Yet Egypt is not unresponsive I came back to her with dread after fourteen years of absence years filled for me with the rumors of her changes And on the very day of my arrival she calmly reassured me She told me in her supremely magical way that all was well with her She taught me once more a lesson I had not quite forgotten but that I was glad to learn again the lesson that Egypt owes her most subtle most inner beauty to Kheper although she owes her marvels to men that when he created the sun which shines upon her he gave her the lustre of her life and that those who come to her must be sun worshippers if they would truly and intimately understand the treasure or romance that lies heaped within her bosom Thoth says the old legend travelled in the Boat of the Sun If you would love Egypt rightly you too must be a traveller in that bark You must not fear to steep yourself in the mystery of gold in the mystery of heat in the mystery of silence that seems softly showered out of the sun The sacred white lotus must be your emblem and Horus the hawk headed merged in Ra your special deity Scarcely had I set foot once more in Egypt before Thoth lifted me into the Boat of the sun and soothed my fears to sleep I arrived in Cairo I saw new and vast hotels I saw crowded streets brilliant shops English officials driving importantly in victorias surely to pay dreadful calls of ceremony women in gigantic hats with Niagaras of veil waving white gloves as they talked of I guess the latest Cairene scandal I perceived on the right hand and on the left waiters created in Switzerland hall porters made in Germany Levantine touts determined Jews holding false antiquities in their lean fingers an English Baptist minister in a white helmet drinking chocolate on a terrace with a guide book in one fist a ticket to visit monuments in the other I heard Scottish soldiers playing I ll be in Scotland before ye and something within me a lurking hope I suppose seemed to founder and collapse but only for a moment It was after four in the afternoon Soon day would be declining And I seemed to remember that the decline of day in Egypt had moved me long ago moved me as few rare things have ever done Within half an hour I was alone far up the long road Ismail s road that leads from the suburbs of Cairo to the Pyramids And then Egypt took me like a child by the hand and reassured me

Death and Salvation in Ancient Egypt Jan Assmann,2011-11-14 Human beings the acclaimed Egyptologist Jan Assmann writes are the animals that have to live with the knowledge of their death and culture is the world they create so they can live with that knowledge In his new book Assmann explores images of death and of death rites in ancient Egypt to provide startling new insights into the particular character of the civilization as a whole Drawing on the unfamiliar genre of the death liturgy he arrives at a remarkably comprehensive view of the religion of death in ancient Egypt Assmann describes in detail nine different images of death death as the body being torn apart as social isolation the notion of the court of the dead the dead body the mummy the soul and ancestral spirit of the dead death as separation and transition as homecoming and as secret Death and Salvation in Ancient Egypt also includes a fascinating discussion of rites that reflect beliefs about death through language and ritual

Spell of Egypt Victoria Wolff,1943 Glorification Spells from a Priestly Milieu in Ancient Egypt Ann-Katrin Gill,Mark Smith,2024-08-21 Glorification Spells from a Priestly Milieu in Ancient Egypt presents the first comprehensive edition of an ancient Egyptian ritual composition entitled the Glorification Recited on Each Due Occasion of the Embalming Place a collection of glorification spells attested in five papyri from around 300 BCE Arguably the most significant extensive ancient Egyptian ritual text still awaiting systematic study its constituent spells preserve and transmit religious ideas which resonated with the ancient Egyptians for millennia The collection and adaptation of these spells into a single coherent ritual work bear witness to the remarkable creativity of the priests and scribes of the latest periods of Egyptian history Much of this process may be attributable to members of a single family or a small circle of colleagues living in a particular place during a circumscribed period of time highlighting the importance of individual or small group agency not only in preserving and transmitting religious traditions but in transforming them as well Glorification spells were recited in the embalming place and elsewhere They were intended not only to revivify those to whom they were addressed restoring their mental and physical faculties but to secure their elevation to a new exalted status that of an akh or glorified spirit as well This status integrated the beneficiary within the hierarchy of gods and other glorified spirits in the next world This volume places the Glorification Recited on Each Due Occasion of the Embalming Place in its wider historical religious and sociological context It includes a hieroglyphic synopsis of all known examples of the spells and a transliteration and translation of the copy of them preserved in P Louvre N 3129 the type version In a line by line commentary variant readings in the parallels are recorded and salient points of interest whether grammatical lexicographical historical topographical or theological are discussed An extensive glossary a general bibliography an index and photographic reproductions are provided alongside hieroglyphic transcriptions of the papyri Art and Archaeology ,1916 The Nation ,1916
