 on the rebirth of Chinese art in the twentieth century under the influence of Western art and culture Michael Sullivan century Chinese artists is a valuable addition to the text Sullivan discusses artists and their work against China's background of oppression and relaxation despair and hope He expertly conveys the diverse and at times bizarre intertwining of Chinese cultural history and art during this century Included are the intense debates between traditionalists and reformers the creation of the first art schools and the birth of the idea shocking in ethnocentric China that art is a world language that obliterates all frontiers The scholarly traditions of classical Chinese painting the belated discovery of Western modernism the artistic upheaval under Communism and China's rethinking of the very nature of art all have a place in Sullivan's

The Arts of China Michael Sullivan, 1984-01-01 this book presents a fascinating and balanced picture of Chinese art from the Stone Age to the present day The author concerns himself not only with art but also with Chinese philosophy religion and the realm of ideas Art by the Book J. P. Park, 2016-06-01 Sometime before 1579 Zhou Lujing a professional writer living in a bustling commercial town in southeastern China published a series of lavishly illustrated books which constituted the first multigenre painting manuals in Chinese history Their popularity was immediate and their contents and format were widely reprinted and disseminated in a number of contemporary publications

Focusing on Zhou's work Art by the Book describes how such publications accommodated the cultural taste and demands of the general public and shows how painting manuals functioned as a form in which everything from icons of popular culture to graphic or literary cliché was presented to both gratify and shape the sensibilities of a growing reading public. As a special commodity of early modern China when cultural standing was measured by a person's command of literati taste and lore, painting manuals provided nonelite readers with a device for enhancing social capital.

Asian American Art Gordon H. Chang, 2008 Asian American Art A History 1850-1970 is a first ever survey exploring the lives and artistic production of artists of Asian Ancestry active in the United States before 1970 and features ten essays by leading scholars, biographies of more than 150 artists and more than 400 reproductions of artwork and photographs of artists together creating compelling narratives of this heretofore forgotten American art history.

The Painting of T'ang Yin Anne De Coursey Clapp, 1991-11 This richly illustrated volume documents the art and fully examines the career of the sixteenth century Chinese master T'ang Yin. One of the four great painters of the middle Ming period, the ambitious T'ang Yin rose above the merchant class into which he was born to become a member of the elite scholarly circle in the city of Suchou. Deprived by accident of his academic degrees and so forced to paint for a living, T'ang Yin became a social anomaly whose style of life cut across the conventions of his time. His experiences throw into sharp relief the realities faced by a Chinese painter who was both elite Confucian scholar and professional painter. Anne De Coursey Clapp's work also explores larger issues of Ming painting raised by the artist's turbulent career. She describes the social and intellectual values exalted in Ming Suchou, its system of patronage, the contrast between the professional and amateur artist and the formative influence of twelfth century Sung dynasty styles on Suchou painters. Clapp shows how T'ang Yin's artistic inventions were made in the course of leading the revival of Sung dynasty styles in Suchou, tracing T'ang Yin's early studies of ancient and contemporary masters, she describes how he reworked an antique style, converting it into a vehicle of expression that reached fruition in a long series of fresh and powerful paintings of landscapes and birds and flowers. In the process, she revises the distorted version of middle Ming painting written by later Chinese art theorists to justify their own social and artistic values, noting especially the role of art patrons and their effect on artistic production. Clapp analyzes the increasing currency of painting as a means of social exchange in ancient China. In particular, she identifies commemorative painting as a major genre of the later dynasties and explores the role it played in the oeuvres of professional masters, with its humanistic implications for the Chinese view of the ideal scholarly man. Her broad view of T'ang Yin's career shows him divided between the professional and amateur camps of his time: in landscape and figural subjects, he was aligned with the professionals; in flower subjects, with the amateurs. Clapp argues that the uneven distribution of styles and genres between this master, who was subject to the market, and those who were independent of it, suggests that T'ang Yin deliberately tried to expand the range of his paintings in order to appeal to buyers in the lower educational and social strata. Illustrated by some of T'ang Yin's most celebrated paintings and by some which are published for the first time her work is of tremendous importance to art literary and cultural historians of Ming China In this important work Anne de Coursey Clapp has drawn a clear picture of T ang Yin s life patronage relationships and contribution to the history of Chinese painting In the person of T ang Yin she has chosen an ideal focus around which to examine some of the misleading stereotypes which have distorted our understanding of Chinese painting since the seventeenth century Marked by analytical clarity and scrupulous scholarship her work is a welcome addition to the few works in English on individual Chinese artists Louise Yuhas Occidental College Taoism and the Arts of China Stephen Little, Shawn Eichman, Kristofer Shipper, Patricia Buckley Ebrey, 2000-01-01 A celebration of Taoist art traces the influence of philosophy on the visual arts in China Mirroring China's Past Tao Wang, 2018-03-27 A lavishly illustrated book that offers an in depth look at the cultural practices surrounding the tradition of collecting ancient bronzes in China during the 18th and 19th centuries In ancient China 2000 221 b c elaborate bronze vessels were used for rituals involving cooking drinking and serving food This fascinating book not only examines the cultural practices surrounding these objects in their original context but it also provides the first in depth study tracing the tradition of collecting these bronzes in China Essays by international experts delve into the concerns of the specialized culture that developed around the vessels and the significant influence this culture with its emphasis on the concept of antiquity had on broader Chinese society While focusing especially on bronze collections of the 18th and 19th centuries this wide ranging catalogue also touches on the ways in which contemporary artists continue to respond to the complex legacy of these objects Packed with stunning photographs of exquisitely crafted vessels Mirroring China s Past is an enlightening investigation into how the role of ancient bronzes has evolved throughout Chinese history
