The Assault On World Poverty Problems Of Rural Development Education And Health:

The Assault on World Poverty International Bank for Reconstruction and Development Staff, The Assault on World Poverty World Bank, 1975 Rural development Agricultural credit Land reform Education Health A War on Global Poverty Joanne Meyerowitz, 2023-06-13 When the United States joined the war on global poverty economists policymakers and activists asked how to change a world in which millions lived in need Moved to the left by socialists social democrats and religious humanists they rejected the notion that economic growth would trickle down to the poor and they proposed programs to redress inequities between and within nations In an emerging women in development movement they positioned women as economic actors who could help lift families and nations out of destitution Back cover The Incidence of Poverty in Developing Countries Hamid Tabatabai, Manal Fouad, International Labour Office, 1993 , The State and Poverty in India Atul Kohli, 1989-03-31 In The State and Poverty in India the author argues cogently that well organised left of centre parties in government are the most effective in implementing reform Policy Studies: Review Annual Bruce B. Zellner, 2019-01-22 Every editor of the Policy Studies Review Annual brings a unique perspective to bear in selecting articles to be included This perspective reflects varying methodological and disciplinary judgments varying judgments on what the field of policy studies or policy analysis is and where it should be going and varying judgments regarding the quality of articles which are or claim to be in the field Because it is the objective to assemble a set of essays which are both interesting and topical there will be varying perspectives on these matters as well The volume clearly reflects the editors perspectives They are explicit about these judgments and perspectives and then let the content of the volume speak for itself First we are both economists As a result the general topics selected and the articles chosen under each topic tend to emphasize economics more than the other disciplines involved in the field of policy studies sociology psychology political science law and so on This emphasis is clearly seen by comparing the contents of volume I edited by Stuart Nagel a political scientist and volume II edited by Howard Freeman a sociologist with that of this volume Second the editors have a particular view of what policy studies or policy analysis is That view has several aspects In the first place they feel that the field of policy studies or policy analysis must define itself and this definition will develop as researchers do just what the title of the field says study or analyze policies A corollary of this view is that we place a low weight on papers which discuss the policy process or reforms in policy making relative to papers which analyze a policy a policy proposal or a problem which leads to calls for policy action

Resource Utilization and Management Dennis Arekpita Ogirri, 2012-07-18 This book is on the study of resource utilization and management a case study of the impact of state land ownership and land use regulation on development in Nigeria from 1955 1985 In 1978 the Federal Military Government of Nigeria promulgated a Land Use Decree whose objectives were to introduce a uniform land policy for the whole country control hoarding and speculating in land and facilitate the allocation of land for national development However critics of the decree argued that the new land policy amounted to nationalization of land in the country and wondered whether such development strategy was appropriate in the 21st century In light of the foregoing this author examined the impact of the new land policy on development in Nigeria from 1955 1985 using qualitative and quantitative methods The beginning and end of the study period coincide with the end of the colonial development plans that started in 1946 and ushered in Nigerias independence in 1960 and the end of the fourth national development plan of 1981 1985 under the military government that overthrew the civilian government in 1966 The study in this book is significant because of the importance of land as one of the most important factors of production in any society others being labor capital entrepreneurship and information resources The implementation problems associated with the new land use law are highlighted This author believes however that it is necessary that further research should be undertaken continually in the future especially with a view to examining the effectiveness of the implementation experiences since the promulgation of the land use law in 1978

Global Restructuring and Land Rights in Ghana Kojo

Amanor,1999 The report highlights the long history of commodification of land and labour in Ghana linked to speculative activities and more recently to the activities of international capital agribusiness international agricultural centres and agencies of the state It makes the case for a new land agrarian and natural resource regime that prioritises domestic economic needs to provide security of livelihood to the generality of the people

China and India's Development

Cooperation in Africa Philani Mthembu,2018-03-27 Explaining the determinants of China and India s development cooperation in Africa cannot be achieved in simple terms After collecting over 1000 development cooperation projects by China and India in Africa using AidData this book applies the method of qualitative comparative analysis QCA to understand the motives behind their development cooperation Mthembu posits that neither China nor India were solely motivated by one causal factor whether strategic economic or humanitarian interests or the size of their diaspora in Africa China and India are driven by multiple and conjunctural factors in providing more development cooperation to some countries than others on the African continent Only when some of these respective causal factors are combined is it evident that both countries disbursed high levels of development cooperation to some African countries

Inequities and Quality of Life in Argentina Juan Pablo

Celemin,Guillermo Velázquez,2022-03-16 The basis of this proposal is the study of quality of life from an interdisciplinary perspective This volume presents a set of contributions from different sciences that analyse the quality of life in Argentina The contributions come from the social disciplines Geography Economics Demography History and from the field of health Nutrition Medicine Psychology as well as the applied sciences Statistics Applied Mathematics The purpose is to present various dimensions related to the well being of the population particularly in relation to poverty human development health nutrition and morbidity Although there are works from different sciences associated with the object of study they all have a geographic component based on cartography Consequently the importance of geography is highlighted as the territorial base allows for the study quality of life from a unique perspective where the map emerges as a fundamental descriptive tool Such an approach is useful to diagnose the quality of life and its uneven spatial distribution either through index or different associated variables Thus the maps are fundamental to study the territorial configuration of the quality of life at the different scales of analysis showing spatial inequalities and the areas where it is necessary to take measures to improve the population's living conditions Catalog of Copyright Entries. Third Series Library of Congress. Copyright Office,1976 The End of an Illusion Jean De Kervasdoue,John R. Kimberly,Victor G. Rodwin,2023-04-28 The End of an Illusion The Future of Health Policy in Western Industrialized Nations critically examines the evolving challenges in health policy focusing on the unsustainable nature of current systems in the face of rising medical costs and limited resources The book argues that while health has long been regarded as a fundamental right the growing burden of healthcare expenditures in Western countries challenges the idea that the welfare state can continue to provide unlimited access to services for all As healthcare costs outpace economic growth the illusion of abundant resources fades forcing difficult decisions about the allocation of medical services Central themes include the growing role of the state in healthcare the implications of new medical technologies the ethical dilemmas of healthcare rationing and the shift from idealism to realism in health policy The book aims to frame the debate on the future of health care identifying key issues that will shape policy discussions in the 1980s and beyond The book is structured in four parts Part 1 reflects on the historical context of state involvement in health systems and its impact on the current state of affairs It critiques the notion that healthcare can remain a purely private matter highlighting how economic retrenchment will push for alternative conceptions of medicine Part 2 explores various perspectives on the role of the state in health policy analyzing historical debates on disease prevention the evolution of medical technology and the ethics of healthcare rationing Part 3 provides case studies from France Britain the United States and Quebec to offer insights into the practical realities and potential solutions in these nations health systems Finally Part 4 synthesizes the findings from the case studies speculating on the future direction of health policy The book aims to contribute to a more informed realistic discourse on health policy by addressing the complex interplay between economics technology ethics and social values This title is part of UC Press's Voices Revived program which commemorates University of California Press's mission to seek out and cultivate the brightest minds and give them voice reach and impact Drawing on a backlist dating to 1893 Voices Revived makes high quality peer reviewed scholarship accessible once again using print on demand technology This title was originally published in 1984 Assessing Contributions M. Harvey Brenner,2019-04-10 The authors of this book provide a systematic integrated review and comparison of the contributions of sociology political science economics demography anthropology history of science and medicine psychiatry and psychology to a number of health related fields including epidemiology health services research and health policy studies The book reflects the authors attitude that multidisciplinary research efforts must be carried out in order to obtain a thorough understanding of the relationship of social science knowledge to health problems Agrarian Reform In Reverse Birol A. Yesilada,2019-04-05 This book focuses on the political economic dimensions of the food crisis with case studies from the four regions Africa Asia Latin America and the Middle East of the Third World It examines various international factors that influence agricultural development in the Third World

The Making of a Periphery Pekka Seppälä, Bertha Koda, 1998 What makes a periphery The south eastern corner of Tanzania is officially one of the poorest corners of the world and is always presented as a peripheral area This volume presents a lively discussion on the making of a periphery The contributors show the interaction between the perceptions of outsiders the views of local people and the actual development efforts The authors perceive development as a negotiated and contested field Culture is not considered a factor constraining development but is seen rather as an engine which due to the plurality of local and outsider cultures sets the parameters for the battle The Struggle for Economic Development
