Exploring Place in the Australian Landscape David S. Jones, 2022-08-30 This book offers an original framework on how to investigate, understand and translate sense of place at a regional scale. The book explores contemporary sense of place theory and practice drawing upon the Western District of Victoria in Australia being the Country of the White Cockatoo. It offers a unique multi-temporal and thematic analytical approach towards comprehending and mapping the values that underpin and determine strengths of human relationships and nuances to this landscape. Included is a deep ethno-ecological and cross-cultural translation that takes the reader through both the Western understanding of sense of place as well as the Australian Aboriginal understanding of Country. Both are different intellectual constructions of thoughts, values and ideologies but which share numerous commonalities due to their archetypal meanings, feelings and values transmitted to humans. In the Australian Bush and on the Coast of the Coral Sea Richard Wolfgang Semon, 1899 One chapter on natives. Physical characteristics of Burnett and Mary River tribes. Weapons, general ecology, marriage systems of Dieri, Kurnai, Gurnditschmara, Narinjeri and Burnett R. natives.

Surface and Deep Histories Anuradha Chatterjee, 2014-06-26 Surface in architecture has had a deeper and a more pervasive presence in the practice and theory of the discipline than is commonly supposed. Orientations to the surface emerge, collapse and reappear, sustaining it as a legitimate theoretical and artefactual entity despite the twentieth-century disciplinary definition of architecture as space, structure and function. Even though surface is defended for its pervasiveness, Kurt Forster, its function as a theoretical motif with generative power, Andrew Benjamin, and in constituting the operative principles of modern architecture as a visual phenomenon, Mark Wigley, it occupies the interstice or the space of the unconscious within architectural discourse from where it defends its legitimacy as architecturally valuable or functional as opposed to merely visually pleasurable. Surface and Deep Histories positions surface within the scholarship of critical theory and design-based approaches and invites academics and designers and art and architectural historians based in Australia to consider the uses, figurations, scales and typologies of surfaces. The collection choreographs contributions that focus on a variety of topics such as montage and construction of colonial modernity and visual culture, Molly Duggins, wallpaper, rational space and femininity, Anna Daly, the inter-constituted nature of bodies, clothes.
