The Bacon Farm Site and a Buried Site Reconnaissance Jefferson Chapman, 1978 Intentional Site Burial Robert M. Thorne, 1991 Ocmulgee Archaeology, 1936-1986 David J. Hally, 1994 In Ocmulgee Archaeology 1936 1986 more than twenty archaeologists reexamine the findings of the largest archaeological excavation ever undertaken in Georgia The sixteen essays in this volume were originally presented at a symposium commemorating the fiftieth anniversary of the founding of the Ocmulgee National Monument The symposium provided archaeologists with an opportunity to update some of the work begun a half century before and to bring it into the larger context of southeastern history and culture and general advances in archaeological research and methodology Among the topics discussed are platform mounds settlement patterns agronomic practices earth lodges human skeletal remains Macon Plateau culture origins relations of site inhabitants with other aboriginal societies and Europeans and the challenges of administering excavations and park development Some of the contributors participated in the Ocmulgee project and thus are able to offer personal perspectives on the value of the work that was accomplished and the potential of the work that still remains to be done Archaeological Investigations at the Howard (40 MR 66) and Calloway Island (40 MR 41) Sites Jefferson Chapman, 1979 Archaeology of the Southern Appalachians and Adjacent Watersheds Thomas R. Whyte, C. Clifford Boyd, 2023-06-13 This book presents archaeological research from the Early and Middle Archaic in the Southeast in part as a tribute to the career of Jefferson Chapman longtime director of the McClung Museum of Natural History and Culture on the Knoxville campus of the University of Tennessee With essays written by many of Chapman s former students each essay probes a site critical to our understanding of ancient southeastern peoples as well as Chapman s original work at Tellico and his legacy to the field of archaeology

Archaeological Adaptation C. Clifford Boyd, 2024-01-12 Archaeological Adaptation Case Studies of Cultural Transformation from the Southeast and Caribbean honors the work of longtime University of Tennessee anthropology professor Gerald Schroedl whose career encompassed fieldwork and research in both prehistoric and historic archaeology Schroedl s early career often focused its analysis on Mississippian and Cherokee sites while his later years found him delving into historic archaeology in the Caribbean Revisiting these touchstones of Schroedl s work editor C Clifford Boyd here gathers essays around the disciplinary theme of documentation and analysis of change Contributors study excavations in Tennessee Virginia South Carolina wider southern Appalachia and the Caribbean providing insight into Native American African American and English civilizations Artifacts architecture human and structural remains and climatic and environmental factors yield insight into changing settlement patterns tribal practices material culture economic and political power relations and health and nutrition A preface tracing Schroedl s career and an afterword addressing developments in archaeological theory round out the volume Archaeological Contexts and Assemblages at Martin Farm Gerald F. TVA Archaeology Erin E. Pritchard, 2009 Since its inception in 1933 the Tennessee Valley Authority has played a dual role as federal agency and steward of the Tennessee River Valley While known to most people today as an energy provider the agency is also charged with managing and protecting the nation s fifth largest river system the Tennessee River and vast tracts of land and resources encompassing Tennessee and portions of Alabama Georgia Kentucky Mississippi North Carolina and Virginia Included in TVA s mandate is the preservation of the archaeological record of the valley s prehistoric peoples a record that would have been forever lost beneath floodwaters had TVA not demonstrated a commitment to minimize its impact on the valley and sought to protect its archaeological resources In TVA Archaeology fourteen contributors who have worked with TVA in its conservation effort discuss prehistoric excavations conducted at Tellico Normandy Jonathan s Creek and many other sites They explore TVA s role in the excavations and how the agency facilitated prehistoric investigations along proposed dam sites They also delve into the history of TVA as it grew from a New Deal program to a federal corporation and reveal how during the agency s formative years the TVA board responded to prodding from archaeologists David DeJarnette and William Webb and molded TVA into the steward of a region it is today TVA remains a mainstay of progress and conservation within an important region of the United States and its safeguarding of the valley s prehistory cements its legacy as more than just an energy supplier Students and researchers interested in prehistoric archaeology the Tennessee Valley and the history of TVA will find this volume an invaluable contribution to the study of the region Erin E Pritchard is an archaeologist with the Tennessee Valley Authority Her work includes multiple archaeological site investigations most notably Dust Cave in northern Alabama and she has authored and coauthored numerous site reports for TVA The American Southeast at the End of the Ice Age D. Tune, 2022-08-30 In 1996 the University of Alabama Press published a prodigious benchmark volume The Paleoindian and Early Archaic Southeast edited by David G Anderson and Kenneth E Sassaman It was the first to provide a state by state record of the Paleolithic and early Archaic eras to approximately 8 000 years ago in this region as well as models to interpret data excavated from those eras It summarized what was known of the peoples who lived in the Southeast when ice sheets covered the northern part of the continent and mammals such as elephants saber toothed tigers and ground sloths roamed the landscape In the United States the Southeast has some of most robust data on these eras The American Southeast at the End of the Ice Age is the updated definitive synthesis of current archaeological research gleaned from an array of experts in the region The volume is organized in three parts state records the regional perspective and perspective and future directions State by state chapter overviews of the eras are followed by chapters with regional coverage on lithics point types submerged archaeology gatherers megafauna chipped stone technology and spatial demography Chapters on ethical concerns regarding the use of data from avocational collections insight from outside the Southeast and considerations for future research round out the volume The contributors address five questions When did people first arrive How did they get there Who were they How did they adapt to local resources and environmental change Then what Technical Brief, 1988

Aboriginal Settlement Patterns in the Little Tennessee River Valley R. P. Stephen Davis, 1990 Archaic Hunters and Gatherers in the American Midwest James L Phillips, James A Brown, 2016-09-16 This volume reports on a series of multidisciplinary projects involving the Archaic period of the American Midwest A period of innovation and technical achievement the articles focus on changes in environmental social and economic factors operating in this period and the adaptation of the hunter gatherer peoples living at this time Structure and Process in Southeastern Archaeology Roy S. Dickens Jr, H. Trawick Ward, 2002-05-14 Within the general structure and process theme of this compendium the authors have focused on either intrasite problems those dealing with the formation and structure of a site type of site or type of feature or intersite problems those dealing with behavioral organization and process as developed from comparative site data These papers from a broad range of specialists present a comprehensive study of southeastern archaeology A Land Imperiled John Nolt, 2005 Cherokees called the magnificent mountain range in eastern Tennessee land of the blue mist which European settlers later changed to Smoky Mountains Today the Great Smoky Mountains National Park is one of Southern Appalachia's leading tourist attractions But that fabled blue mist isn't so blue or healthy any longer Particularly in the summer months the smoke of the Smokies is a haze of sulfate particles and other pollutants released by coal burning power plants a mixture more likely to create dangerous ozone levels for visiting tourists than the invigorating mountain air so many come to seek It is a story common throughout Southern Appalachia one of America's most beautiful biologically diverse and fragile bioregions A Land Imperiled is a symptom by symptom look at the myriad of ecological issues threatening the health of the southern high country Sections on air water plants and animals food energy waste transportation and population and urbanization make this the most comprehensive environmental study of Southern Appalachia to date a much needed wake up call for anyone concerned about the region's natural legacy But it is not just the future we have to worry about the author asserts pollution development and other forms of degradation are already affecting our quality of life The excessively high ozone levels plaguing the Smokies have been connected to a host of respiratory problems including chronic bronchitis and asthma Once crystal streams are green and sluggish with runoff from agricultural wastes Over half of the South's natural forests are gone and a mere 2 percent of the remaining forests have protected status The environment of Southern Appalachia is a collection of complex interrelated systems that needs care and protection to function in full health A Land Imperiled not only illustrates the many ways in which the health of this bioregion is being affected but also provides examples of how the damage can be reversed to sustain ourselves and this natural treasure Prehistory and History Along the Upper Savannah River ,1988 Advances in Archaeological Method and Theory ,2014-06-28 Advances in Archaeological Method and Theory Time before History H. Trawick Ward,R. P. Stephen Davis Jr.,2018-06-15 North Carolina's written history begins in the sixteenth century with the voyages of Sir Walter Raleigh and the founding of the ill-fated Lost Colony on Roanoke Island. But there is a deeper unwritten past that predates the state's recorded history. The region we now know as North Carolina was settled more than 10,000 years ago, but because early inhabitants left no written record, their story must be painstakingly reconstructed from the fragmentary and fragile archaeological record they left behind. Time before History is the first comprehensive account of the archaeology of North Carolina. Weaving together a wealth of information gleaned from archaeological excavations and surveys carried out across the state from the mountains to the coast, it presents a fascinating, readable narrative of the state's native past across a vast sweep of time from the Paleo-Indian period, when the first immigrants to North America crossed a land bridge that spanned the Bering Strait, through the arrival of European traders and settlers in the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries. The Paleoindian and Early Archaic Southeast David G. Anderson,Kenneth E. Sassaman,1996-09-30 The southeastern United States has one of the richest records of early human settlement of any area of North America. This book provides the first state-by-state summary of Paleoindian and Early Archaic research from the region, together with an appraisal of models developed to interpret the data. It summarizes what we know of the peoples who lived in the Southeast more than 8,000 years ago, when giant ice sheets covered the northern part of the continent and such mammals as elephants, saber-toothed tigers, and ground sloths roamed the landscape. Extensively illustrated, this benchmark collection of essays on the state of Paleoindian and Early Archaic research in the Southeast will guide future studies on the subject of the region's first inhabitants for years to come. Divided in three parts, the volume includes: Part I: Modeling Paleoindian and Early Archaic Lifeways in the Southeast: Environmental and Chronological Considerations (David G. Anderson, Lisa D. O. Steen, and Kenneth E. Sassaman); Modeling Paleoindian and Early Archaic Settlement in the Southeast: A Historical Perspective (David G. Anderson and Kenneth E. Sassaman); Models of Paleoindian and Early Archaic Settlement in the Lower Southeast (David G. Anderson); Early Archaic Settlement in the South Carolina Coastal Plain (Kenneth E. Sassaman); Raw Material Availability and Early Archaic Settlement in the Southeast (I. Randolph Daniel Jr.); Paleoindian and Early Archaic Settlement along the Oconee Drainage (Lisa D. O. Steen); Haw River Revisited: Implications for Modeling Terminal Late Glacial and Early Holocene Hunter-Gatherer Settlement Systems in the Southeast (John S. Cable); Early Archaic Settlement and Technology: Lessons from Tellico (Larry R. Kimball); Paleoindians Near the Edge: A Virginia Perspective (Michael F. Johnson); Part II: The Regional Record: The Need for a Regional Perspective (Kenneth E. Sassaman and David G. Anderson); Paleoindian and Early Archaic Research in the South Carolina Area (David G.
