The Barefoot Revolution Bertrand Schneider, Club of Rome, 1988 Calls for a redirection of the economic strategy of the last twenty years Identifies and measures the impact of an alternative approach through small scale development projects run by non governmental organizations , Reconciliation Via the War Crimes Tribunal? Aleksandar Fatic, 2019-07-09 First published in 2000 this volume is an examination of the issues of reconciliation after civil wars and the role international war crimes tribunals play in facilitating that reconciliation apart from enforcing justice against perpetrators of war crimes It argues that a war crime tribunal is partial and operates with no regard for the policy purpose of reconciliation is likely to install all opposites of confidence and security in regions infested by civil warfare and that their results will thus be counterproductive and will result in further loss of life and destruction

A Cause for Our Times Maggie Black, 1992 Maggie Black gives a wide ranging sometimes critical account of Oxfam s first 50 years In doing so she projects Oxfam s own development against a backcloth of changing ideas in international affairs and charitable giving of which its growth is both an inspiration and an expression

Africa's Choices Michael Barratt Brown, 2019-05-20 This book provides an account of actual African experience and African criticisms It is designed to examine the actual viability of the World Bank s structural adjustment strategies for Africa all of which were designed to encourage export led growth

Illegal Immigration in Europe F. Düvell, 2005-12-15 The processes of globalization increasing human mobility and European integration have led to immigration and in particular illegal immigration being among the top international policy economic and security concerns This book analyzes the causes of illegal immigration in Europe together with the history and political economy of the phenomenon It offers an assessment of contemporary political responses and proposes an alternative approach aiming at a more sustainable solution

The International Dimensions of Internal Conflict Michael Edward Brown, 1996 Internal conflicts threaten many countries and regions globally The first part of this book examines the sources of internal conflicts and the ways these may affect neighbouring states and the international community The second part covers specific problems policy instruments and key actors

Organizational Dimensions of Global Change David Cooperrider, Jane Dutton, 1999-04-29 Organizational Dimensions of Global Change is the first book in a new series designed to facilitate across discipline and national boundaries an emergent dialogue around the issue of global change and cooperative potential Written by an interdisciplinary group of leading scholars the book explores how organizational scholarship and thinking can inform an understanding of global change issues and examines the potential of cooperation as a practice an organizing accomplishment and as a value for understanding issues of global change It opens up conversations and research paths and addresses basic questions such as What do we mean by global change research What can organizational scholarship contribute to understanding the human dimensions of global change If we were to offer a priority agenda for research and inquiry what questions would we be asking and what kinds of research would have a high probability of making a large contribution to knowledge as well as a timely relevance for action Topics discussed include global women leaders corporations as agents of global change international networking the development of global environmental regimes and collaborative knowledge creation Organizational Dimensions of Global Change is an essential resource for students and scholars in the fields of organization and management science policy studies international relations and development studies earth systems science as well as the disciplines of sociology economics anthropology political science and psychology

Reconsidering the Limits to Growth Viktor Sadovnichy, Askar Akaev, Ilya Ilyin, Sergey Malkov, Leonid Grinin, Andrey Korotayev, 2023-09-25 Echoing the famous The Limits to Growth report from 1972 this edited volume analyses the changes that the World System has undergone to the present on the fiftieth anniversary of the original report During the past fifty years both the concept and understanding of these limits have significantly changed This book highlights that the evolution of the World System has approached a new critical milestone moving into a fundamentally new phase of historical development when the old economic and social technologies no longer work as efficiently as before or even begin to function counterproductively which leads the World System into a systemic crisis The book discusses the transition of human society to a new phase state the shape of which has not yet been determined New approaches are needed for both for the analysis of the global situation and for forecasts The book is based on an integrated approach including the world systems historical and evolutionary perspectives as well as a systematic view of society in which changes in one subsystem cause transformations in others Through mathematical modeling it defines the main vectors of transformations of the World System makes a detailed forecast of the development of all the main subsystems of the society and the World System while presenting horizons of changes from short term to ultra long term and presents different development scenarios as well as recommendations on how to achieve a transition to the most favorable scenario The book will appeal to members and followers of the Club of Rome policy makers as well as to scholars from various disciplines interested in a better understanding of the World System evolution global futures development studies climate change and future societies

Global Studies Directory, 2017-10-02 Publication of the Global Studies Directory represents an unprecedented project in world practice Based on the professional assessment by a large international team of experts the Directory offers information on the most well known scholars political and public figures who have made outstanding contributions to the establishment and development of global studies or made a fundamental impact on the formation of global world The Directory also contains comprehensive information about organizations periodicals and special literature of direct relevance to the theory and practice of globalization and fully demonstrates the state of affairs in the field of study on a global level This project is a continuation of many years of research which first resulted in the publication of the Global Studies Encyclopedic Dictionary the companion publication to the Directory Human Development Report 1993 United Nations Development Programme, 1993 Since its headline making debut the Human Development Report has become an essential resource for development specialists economists and political scientists around the world While previous Human Development Reports focused on investment in people the 1993 Report not only updates the findings of the earlier volumes but shifts the focus towards the other side of human development mobilizing and utilizing human potential The Report surveys the instruments for enhancing and encouraging participatory patterns of development including privatization and participatory market structures vertical and horizontal decentralization of government functions devolution of government powers enterprise decentralization involvement of NGOs and other grass roots organizations and empowerment of people It probes the vital connections between employment and development and offers a global framework for employment that takes into account the growing pressure for international migration In addition it examines links between human development and international markets for goods capital and labor and presents updated human development indicators for more than 160 countries Future Survey Annual 1990 Michael Marien, 1990-01-01 The Politics of Expertise Matthew Hilton, Jean-François Mouhot, 2013-04-25 Offers a challenging new interpretation of politics in contemporary Britain through an examination of non governmental organisations Demonstrate how politics and political activism has changed over the last half century Crossing Over Holger Henke, 2005-01-01 Although migration by the very virtue of its transnational nature seems to invite comparisons relatively few books provide these in explicit form In this collection of essays the authors deliberately juxtapose the experience of different locations and or immigrant populations in order to systematically compare them Hopes and fears Hanna Newcombe, 1992-01-01 The authors of this collection address the fears and hopes of our future progress toward a better world in various ways and differing styles Collective Conflict Management and Changing World Politics Joseph Lepgold, Thomas G. Weiss, 1998-05-28 For several decades the debate over collective security the idea that alliances are problematic and that all nations should pledge to come to the aid of any nation that is a victim of aggression has been polarized Collective Conflict Management and Changing World Politics probes the international and domestic conditions under which collective security tends to work or not and questions if the end of the Cold War makes success more or less likely than before The contributors conclude that collective conflict management is possible under specific situations as they enumerate various domestic and international requisites that circumscribe such possibilities The State of Civil Society in Japan Frank J. Schwartz, Susan J. Pharr, 2003-10-20 Table of contents Sustainable Development as a Civilizational Revolution Artur Pawlowski, 2011-05-24 As a concept sustainable development is in conflict with traditional development based upon economic growth Sustainable development is an attempt to formulate a programme that integrates different aspects ecological social and economical which were usually considered as separate from each other Sustainable Development as a Civilization The Solidarity Economy Tehila Sasson, 2024-05-28 The untold story of the role of humanitarian NGOs in building the neoliberal order after empire After India gained independence in 1947 Britain reinvented its role in the global economy through nongovernmental aid organizations Utilizing existing imperial networks and colonial bureaucracy the nonprofit sector sought an ethical capitalism one that would equalize relationships between British consumers and Third World producers as the age of empire was ending The Solidarity Economy examines the role of nonstate actors in the major transformations of the world economy in the postwar era showing how British NGOs charted a path to neoliberalism in their pursuit of ethical markets Between the 1950s and 1990s nonprofits sought to establish an alternative to Keynesianism through their welfare and development programs Encouraging the fair trade of commodities and goods through microfinance consumer boycotts and corporate social responsibility these programs emphasized decentralization privatization and entrepreneurship Tehila Sasson tells the stories of the activists economists politicians and businessmen who reimagined the marketplace as a workshop for global reform She reveals how their ideas though commonly associated with conservative neoliberal policies were part of a nonprofit driven endeavor by the liberal left to envision markets as autonomous and humanizing spaces facilitating ethical relationships beyond the impersonal realm of the state Drawing on dozens of newly available repositories from nongovernmental international national and business archives The Solidarity Economy reconstructs the political economy of these markets from handicrafts and sugar to tea and coffee shedding critical light on the postimperial origins of neoliberalism
