Children's Drawings of the Human Figure Maureen V. Cox, 1993 The human figure is one of the earliest topics drawn by the young child and remains popular throughout childhood and into adolescence When it first emerges however the human figure in the child's drawing is very bizarre it appears to have no torso and its arms if indeed it has any are attached to its head Even when the figure begins to look more conventional the child must still contend with a variety of problems for instance how to draw the head and body in the right proportions and how to draw the figure in action In this book Maureen Cox traces the development of the human form in children's drawings she reviews the literature in the field criticises a number of major theories which purport to explain the developing child's drawing skills and also presents new data

A Comprehensive Guide to Child Psychotherapy and Counseling Christiane Brems,2008-03-19 Christiane Brems an experienced clinician supervisor and educator presents a metatheoretical yet practical guide to working with children ages 3 to 12 years She draws heavily on developmental interpersonal family systems and self psychological schools of thought and integrates the core components of all of these approaches in a clear and concise manner She stresses the need for intensive assessment to precede conceptualization and treatment planning so that treatment techniques are dictated by the needs of each child and family Brems has contoured the third edition to meet the practical needs and expectations of students and practitioners Divided among four sections the chapters follow the logical development of clinicians mirroring the natural flow of work with children from the practitioners self exploration to learning about special aspects of children such as diversity and development to awareness about the special needs and demands of children as related to environmental legal and ethical issues Brems prepares clinicians to discover their own personal traits that may facilitate or hinder their work with children She walks child therapists and counselors through the initial stages of intake assessment and conceptualization The material on assessment instruments is thoroughly updated discussions refer to the latest versions of instruments and if new instruments emerged that meet one of the purposes deemed essential to child treatment they are included The text contains case examples each illustrating a specific therapeutic technique

Multicultural Literature for Children and Young Adults

Ginny Moore Kruse,1997 A careful selection of children s and young adult books with multicultural themes and topics which were published in the United States and Canada between 1991 and 1996 Preface p vii Children Remembered Robert Woods,2006-01-01 Children Remembered discusses the relationship between parents and children in the past It focuses on the ways in which adults responded to the untimely deaths of children whether and how they expressed their grief The study engages with the hypothesis of parental indifference associated with the French cultural historian Philippe Ari s by analysing the changing risk of mortality since the sixteenth century and assessing its consequences It uses paintings and poems to describe feelings and emotions in ways that are not only highly original but also challenge traditional disciplinary conventions The circumstances of infant and child mortality are considered for France and England while example portraits and poems are selected from England and America While the work is firmly grounded in demography it is especially concerned with current debates in social and cultural history with the history of childhood the way pictorial images can be read and the use as historical evidence to which literature may be put This is a wide ranging and ambitious multi disciplinary study that will add significantly to our understanding of demographic structures the ways in which they have conditioned attitudes and behaviour in the past Art 4-11 Margaret Morgan,1988 Based on the premise that art and craft are a key element in the provision of a balanced education for all children this book offers ideas and suggestions for developing children s art experience in many ways including drawing painting printmaking collage textiles puppetry photography handwriting and design It also includes guidance on the role of the teacher and the planning and content of the curriculum and is illustrated throughout with examples of good practice The Child's Creation of a Pictorial World Claire Golomb,1992 Explores child art as an expression of visual thinking the symbol making function of the brain which produces images rather than words with more than 200 examples in color and black and white Back cover Encyclopedia of Identity Ronald L.
