Transnational Belonging and Female Agency in the Arts Basia

Sliwinska, Catherine Dormor, 2022-10-20 Transnational Belonging and Female Agency in the Arts interrogates the politics of space expressed via womxn's artistic practices which prioritise solidarity and collaboration across borders imagining attentive geographies of difference It considers belonging as a manifestation of processes of becoming that traverse borders and generate new spaces and forms of difference In doing so the book aims to catalyse mutual social relations founded upon responsibility and response ability to each other The transnational framework activates concerns around belonging at a time of intensified divisions partitioning global narratives unequal trajectories and increasing violence against bodies of the most vulnerable largely founded on Eurocentric paradigms of political economic and cultural superiority The contributors engage in a conversation signalling transversal thinking and artmaking in order to articulate and activate in between spaces This is to welcome co affective models of belonging that question versatile embodiments of subjectivity as both agentic and as interrelational Organised around the triangulation of modes of belonging spatial affective and collective overarched by a transnational lens that acknowledges non hierarchical local and socially relevant genealogies against universalising politics of globalisation these essays consider afresh ways in which female agency disrupts borders and activates concerns around different forms of belonging citizenship and transnationalisms Cover Image credit Keren Anavy Garden of Living Images

Weldon Kees and the Arts at Midcentury Daniel A. Siedell, 2003-01-01

Born in 1914 in Beatrice Nebraska and presumed dead in 1955 when he apparently leapt from the Golden Gate Bridge Weldon Kees has become one of the better known unknown American poets of the twentieth century his fiction and poetry largely kept alive by other poets But Kees was also that rare artist who excelled in many genres and media a skillful painter filmmaker jazz musician and composer He was a gifted critic as well and his criticism bears the marks of his own deep and broad engagement with the arts Weldon Kees and the Arts at Midcentury is the first book to reflect the full range and reach of Kees's artistic activities Bringing together writers from various disciplines art historians poets literary critics curators and cultural scholars including Dore Ashton James Reidel Dana Gioia and Stephen C Foster this volume offers a wide variety of perspectives through which to evaluate the meaning and significance of Kees's achievement Although the essays themselves partake of the diversity of Kees's impact on the culture all agree on one fundamental point any history of postwar American culture that neglects Kees's multifaceted contribution is ultimately incomplete
