Watts Jessie Laidlay WESTON, Sir CLEGES, 1902 Sir Cleges Jessie Laidlay Weston, 1904 Sir Libeaus Desconus, 2004-06 Then the maiden kneeled in the hall before all the knights and greeted them with honour and said to the King Evil is the case of which I tell thee within walls was never a sadder The fair lady of Sinadoun is held in close prison She prays thee to send her a knight good and strong of heart who may win her freedom

Naming and Namelessness in Medieval Romance Jane Bliss, 2008 A survey of the significance of names or their absence in medieval English French and Anglo Norman romance Naming and namelessness are among the major themes of medieval romance Because the genre is so difficult to define scholars have viewed romance as containing a critical number of themes this book treats naming as a major theme of romance and furthermore examines romance's relationship with contemporary naming theory A new genre it is able to play with naming in a way that previously established genres are not The book begins with a discussion of the medieval background to romance and explores a series of naming patterns found across a broad range of texts It continues with detailed analysis of twenty one romances in English French and Anglo Norman from 1130 to 1500 to show how naming themes are treated differently in each and to demonstrate the importance of name as a generic marker Finally an appendix provides details of each romance's context together with indications for further research JANE BLISS is an independent scholar she gained her PhD from Oxford Brookes University The Middle English Romances of the Thirteenth and Fourteenth Centuries (Routledge Revivals) Dieter Mehl, 2010-10-18 First published in English in 1968 this book provides a critical guide to the wide field of the Middle English Romances and gives a helpful survey of the contemporary state of scholarship Dr Mehl traces the development of Middle English Romances from the thirteenth to the end of the fourteenth century and interprets a number of these romances The emphasis is literary on their form and dominant themes rather than source material or language Translators and Their Prologues in Medieval England Elizabeth Dearnley, 2016 An examination of French to English translation in medieval England through the genre of the prologue The prologue to Layamon's Brut recounts its author's extensive travels wide yond thas leode far and wide across the land to gather the French Latin and English books he used as source material The first Middle English writer to discuss his methods of translating French into English Layamon voices ideas about the creation of a new English tradition by translation that proved very durable This book considers the practice of translation from French into English in medieval England and how the translators themselves viewed their task At its core is a corpus of French to English translations containing translator's prologues written between c 1189 and c 1450 this remarkable body of Middle English literary theory provides a useful map by which to chart the movement from a literary culture rooted in Anglo Norman at the end of the thirteenth century to what in the fifteenth is regarded as an established English tradition Considering earlier Romance and Germanic models of translation wider historical evidence about translation practice the acquisition of French the possible role of women translators and the manuscript tradition of prologues in addition to offering a broader pan European perspective through an examination of Middle Dutch prologues the book uses translators prologues as a lens through which to view a period of critical growth and development for English as a literary language Elizabeth Dearnley gained her PhD from the University of Cambridge Übersicht über die im Jahre ... auf dem Gebiete der englischen Philologie erschienenen Bücher, Schriften und Aufsätze, 1907
