Who Shall Take Care of Our Sick? Bernadette McCauley, 2020-03-03 This rich history chronicles the prominent role of Catholic women religious in establishing the hospitals at the core of New York City's extensive Catholic medical network Beginning with the opening of St Vincent's Hospital in 1849 Bernadette McCauley relates how determined and pragmatic women of faith worked over the next eighty years to place the Catholic Church in the mainstream of American medicine Exploring the differences and similarities between Catholic hospitals and other hospitals McCauley describes the particular cultural sensibility and management style that informed Catholic health care and gauges the ultimate success of Catholic efforts Visionary sisters established managed and staffed the hospitals and they sat on hospital boards and served as administrators at a time when women rarely occupied positions of leadership in business. Encompassing such issues as immigration, the education of nurses and doctors, hospital care and organization, and the role of women in the Catholic church, this extensive study is a valuable resource for scholars and students in the history of medicine, history of nursing, American religion, and women's history.

Roman Catholicism in America Chester Gillis, 2020-03-24. Who are American Catholics and what do they believe and practice? How has American Catholicism influenced and been influenced by American culture and society? This book examines the history of American Catholics from the colonial era to the present with an emphasis on changes and challenges in the contemporary church. Chester Gillis chronicles America Catholics where they have come from, how they have integrated into American society, and how the church has influenced their lives. Ordering Women's Lives Julie Ann Smith,2016-12-05 This book takes an innovative approach to the study of the penitentials and nunnery rules and the ways in which these texts impinged upon the lives of female audiences The study emphasises the importance of the texts for the promotion of Christian values and of the expectations of churchmen in the construction of appropriate Christian behaviour for women in the early medieval West These texts constitute the only written works which would have had direct influence upon the lives of lay and religious women The work focuses upon the elements of the penitentials which provided female specific expectations and these fall largely into two categories of sexuality and pre Christian practices The nunnery rules seldom provided comprehensive sets of behavioural expectations Rather rules emphasised expectations relating to issues of enclosure work and abstinence which came to be perceived as the defining characteristics of religious women
