Communication and Group Decision Making Randy Y. Hirokawa, Marshall Scott Poole, 1996-07-09 Communication and Group Decision Making takes stock of recent group communication research with an explicit focus on communication processes This book is recommended for academics professionals and researchers in communication and organization

Singular Texts/plural Authors Lisa S. Ede, Andrea A. Lunsford, 1992 Why write together the authors ask They answer that question here in the first book to combine theoretical and historical explorations with actual research on collaborative and group writing Lisa Ede and Andrea Lunsford challenge the assumption that writing is a solitary act That challenge is grounded in their own personal experience as long term collaborators and in their extensive research including a three stage study of collaborative writing supported by the Fund for the Improvement of Post Secondary Education The authors urge a fundamental change in our institutions to accommodate collaboration by radically resituating power in the classroom and by instituting rewards for collaborative work that equal rewards for single authored work They conclude with the injunction Today and in the twenty first century our data suggest writers must be able to work together They must in short be able to collaborate

New Directions in Group Communication Lawrence R. Frey, 2002 New Directions in Group Communication takes as its mission the setting of the agenda for the study of group communication in the future It does so by presenting work that scholars have not previously explored in the current small group communication literature Part I focuses on new theoretical and conceptual directions both presenting new views and extending current positions Part II examines new research methodologies while Part III looks at antecedent factors affecting group communication Parts IV and V of the text provide insight into both group communication process and practices Part VI covers different group communication contexts including communication patterns in top management teams

The Handbook of Group Communication Theory and Research Lawrence R. Frey, Dennis Gouran, Marshall Scott Poole, 1999-07-08 The Handbook of Group Communication Theory and Research establishes a central resource for the field documenting and synthesizing the work done in group communication s 50 year history With contributions from the most experienced and respected scholars in the field the editors Lawrence R Frey Dennis S Gouran and Marshall Scott Poole present an overview of group communication study and examine a variety of theoretical positions and methodological practices The volume is divided into six broad areas of communication scholarship Foundations of group communication theory and research Individuals and group communication Task and relational group communication Group communication processes Group communication facilitation Group communication contexts and applications The sections serve as a crossroads where various paths pursued in each area meet summarize and suggest new maps and roads that need to be followed in the future Offering a comprehensive history of group communication theory and research and establishing new conceptual perspectives and research agendas for future group communication scholars this important resource will be an unrivalled tool for scholars researchers educators practitioners and students alike Focused Interview Robert K. Merton, 2008-06-30 A reissue of the classic report of Columbia's Bureau of Applied Social Research outlining techniques for eliciting specific responses of individuals and groups to particular events and situations The 1956 edition of this book may be regarded as seminal within sociology spawning a whole field of qualitative opinion research that has continued to evolve through half a century of inquiry This is a reissue of the book with a new preface by Merton a select bibliography of writings on the focused interview and focus group research and a new introduction that traces the diffusion of Merton's technique from sociology to other fields including history psychology mass media and marketing research Training Methodology: Background theory and research National Communicable Disease Center (U.S.), 1969

Group Communication in Context Lawrence R. Frey, 2005-05-18 The study of group communication has never been more critical as recent national and international events point to the fragility of group life An emerging perspective the bona fide group perspective offers hope for improving group communication for it recognizes that any group a family community group expedition team social support group organizational work group interorganizational collaboration or international team must be studied and understood within the multiple contexts in which it is embedded and that significantly affects who is considered to be part of a group what occurs within that group and how that group interacts with other groups In the second edition of his award winning volume editor Lawrence R Frey showcases original research studies conducted on and about communication in bona fide groups demonstrating the conceptual promise of the bona fide group perspective as realized in research practice Divided into six sections the chapters cover a wide range of new or relatively understudied groups including youth community groups Internet support groups climbing expedition groups families neighborhoods and school boards and demonstrate the wealth of methodological approaches that can be used to study bona fide group communication including survey methods interviews textual analysis content analysis participant observation and discourse analysis Group Communication in Context Studies of Bona Fide Groups Second Edition shows that the bona fide group perspective has the power to transform our thinking about groups and group communication and in time the practices in which groups and group members engage The volume is intended for use in group communication courses as well as a reference for group scholars It is also appropriate for classes in psychology social work counseling sociology anthropology and related disciplines Intelligent Tutoring Systems
