Stolen Kingdom An American Conspiracy:

Stolen Kingdom Rich Budnick,1992 Book addresses the history of the Overthrow of the Hawaiian monarchy in 1893 and American annexation in 1898      Perversions of Justice Ward Churchill,2003 Examines the faulty reasoning employed to legislate colonial control over North America s indigenous peoples and their lands      The Imperial Cruise James Bradley,2009-11-24 In 1905 President Teddy Roosevelt dispatched Secretary of War William Howard Taft on the largest U S diplomatic mission in history to Hawaii Japan the Philippines China and Korea Roosevelt s glamorous twenty one year old daughter Alice served as mistress of the cruise which included senators and congressmen On this trip Taft concluded secret agreements in Roosevelt s name In 2005 a century later James Bradley traveled in the wake of Roosevelt s mission and discovered what had transpired in Honolulu Tokyo Manila Beijing and Seoul In 1905 Roosevelt was bully confident and made secret agreements that he though would secure America s westward push into the Pacific Instead he lit the long fuse on the Asian firecrackers that would singe America s hands for a century      The History of Discrimination in U.S. Education E. Tamura,2008-03-03 How have power and agency been revealed in educational issues involving minorities More specifically how have politicians policymakers practitioners and others in the mainstream used and misused their power in relation to those in the margins How have those in the margins asserted their agency and negotiated their way within the larger society What have been the relationships not only between those more powerful and those less powerful but also among those on the fringes of society How have people sought to bridge the gap separating those in the margins and those in the mainstream The essays in this book respond to these questions by delving into the educational past to reveal minority issues involving ethnicity gender class disability and sexual identity      Who Owns the Crown Lands of Hawai'i? Jon M. Van Dyke,2007-12-31 The 1846 1848 Mahele division transformed the lands of Hawai i from a shared value into private property but left many issues unresolved Kauikeaouli Kamehameha III agreed to the Mahele which divided all land among the m king the ali i chiefs and the maka inana commoners in the hopes of keeping the lands in Hawaiian hands even if a foreign power claimed sovereignty over the Islands The king s share was further divided into Government and Crown Lands the latter managed personally by the ruler until a court decision in 1864 and a statute passed in 1865 declared that they could no longer be bought or sold by the m and should be maintained intact for future monarchs After the illegal overthrow of the monarchy in 1893 Government and Crown Lands were joined together and after annexation in 1898 they were managed as a public trust by the United States At statehood in 1959 all but 373 720 acres of Government and Crown Lands were transferred to the State of Hawai i The legal status of Crown Lands remains controversial and misunderstood to this day In this engrossing work Jon Van Dyke describes and analyzes in detail the complex cultural and legal history of Hawai i s Crown Lands He argues that these lands must be examined as a separate entity and their unique status recognized Government Lands were created to provide for the needs of the general population Crown Lands were part of the personal domain of

Kamehameha III and evolved into a resource designed to support the m who in turn supported the Native Hawaiian people The question of who owns Hawai i s Crown Lands today is of singular importance for Native Hawaiians in their quest for recognition and sovereignty and this volume will become a primary resource on a fundamental issue underlying Native Hawaiian birthrights 64 illus 6 maps A Little Matter of Genocide Ward Churchill, 1997 Ward Churchill has achieved an unparalleled reputation as a scholar activist and analyst of indigenous issues in North America Here he explores the history of holocaust and denial in this hemisphere beginning with the arrival of Columbus and continuing on into the present He frames the matter by examining both revisionist denial of the nazi perpetrated Holocaust and the opposing claim of its exclusive uniqueness using the full scope of what happened in Europe as a backdrop against which to demonstrate that genocide is precisely what has been and still is carried out against the American Indians Churchill lays bare the means by which many of these realities have remained hidden how public understanding of this most monstrous of crimes has been subverted not only by its perpetrators and their beneficiaries but by the institutions and individuals who perceive advantages in the confusion In particular he outlines the reasons underlying the United States s 40 year refusal to ratify the Genocide Convention as well as the implications of the attempt to exempt itself from compliance when it finally offered its endorsement In conclusion Churchill proposes a more adequate and coherent definition of the crime as a basis for identifying punishing and preventing genocidal practices wherever and whenever they occur Ward Churchill enrolled Keetoowah Cherokee is Professor of American Indian Studies with the Department of Ethnic Studies at the University of Colorado Boulder A member of the American Indian Movement since 1972 he has been a leader of the Colorado chapter for the past fifteen years Among his previous books have been Fantasies of a Master Race Struggle for the Land Since Predator Came and From a Native Son

Educating the Disfranchised and Disinherited Robert Francis Engs, 1999 Best remembered as the founder of Hampton Institute and mentor of Booker T Washington Samuel Chapman Armstrong played a crucial role in white philanthropy and educational strategies toward nonwhite people in late nineteenth century America Until now however there has been no scholarly biography of Armstrong his story has usually been subsumed within that of his famous protégé In Educating the Disfranchised and Disinherited Robert Francis Engs illuminates both Armstrong's life and an important chapter in the history of American race relations Armstrong was the son of missionaries to Hawaii and as Engs makes clear his early experiences in a multiracial predominantly non European society did much to determine his life's work the uplift of backward peoples After attending Williams College Armstrong commanded black troops in the Civil War and served as a Freedmen's Bureau agent before founding Hampton in 1869 At the institute he implemented a unique combination of manual labor education and teacher training creating an educational system that he believed would enable African Americans and other disfranchised peoples to rise gradually toward the level of white civilization Recent studies have often blamed Armstrong for miseducating an entire generation of African Americans and for Washington's failings as a race leader Indeed as Engs notes Armstrong's educational designs were paternalistic in the extreme and in addressing certain audiences he could sometimes sound like a consummate racist On the other hand he frequently expressed a deep devotion to the ultimate equality of African Americans and incorporated the best of his black graduates into the Hampton staff Sorting through the complexities and contradictions of Armstrong's character and vision Engs's masterful biography provides new insights into the failures of emancipation and into the sometimes flawed responses of one heir to antebellum abolition and egalitarian Christianity The Author Robert Francis Engs is associate professor of history at the University of Pennsylvania and the author of Freedom's First Generation Black Hampton Virginia 1861-1890 His Hawaiian Excellency Niklaus Rudolf Schweizer, 2004 His Hawaiian Excellency The Overthrow of the Hawaiian Monarchy and the Annexation of Hawaii is an historical novel dealing with the unusual and moving history of Hawaii It is based on the life of Colonel Curtis Pihou Iaukea who was one of the Kingdom's premier diplomats Closely following the unfolding of actual events the scenes are set in the Islands in Russia the Suez Canal and in England There arises a colorful history before us filled with tragedy comedy love and hate duty and opportunism conspiracy and loyalty Developments in Hawaii and Russia are compared and questions of a universal nature are raised about men women politics and religion Given the recent epochal developments in both Eastern Europe and Hawaii the book does not only address the reader who wishes to learn more about the island state in the middle of the Pacific but may also contribute to the ongoing debate about the past present and future of Hawaii A Regional Geography of the United States and Canada Lisa Benton-Short, John Rennie Short, Chris Mayda, 2018-07-25 Now in a thoroughly revised and updated edition this text offers a comprehensive examination of North America's physical and human geography weaving in the key themes of environment and sustainability throughout The authors explore the challenges each region faces such as water shortages climate change increased migration and diversity urbanization and continued economic changes The book also highlights the positive actions that Americans and Canadians are taking to move toward a more sustainable future New features in the second edition include sections on population immigration and diversity and urban trends Each chapter also features a case study that examines a national park representing natural and cultural heritage how the region is coping with climate change how geospatial technologies are applied to environmental challenges iconic images and or cultural festivals urban sustainability best practices and global connections and networks Designed for ease of teaching and learning the book features full color photographs and maps throughout chapter highlights lists of key terms places and major cities for each chapter discussion questions and a glossary

The World and All the Things upon It David A. Chang, 2016-06-01 Winner of the Modern Language Association's Prize for Studies in Native American Literatures Cultures and Languages Winner of the American Historical Association's Albert J Beveridge Award Winner of NAISA's Best Subsequent Book Award Winner of the Western History Association's John C Ewers Award Finalist for the John Hope Franklin Prize What if we saw indigenous people as the active agents of global exploration rather than as the passive objects of that exploration What if instead of conceiving of global exploration as an enterprise just of European men such as Columbus or Cook or Magellan we thought of it as an enterprise of the people they discovered What could such a new perspective reveal about geographical understanding and its place in struggles over power in the context of colonialism The World and All the Things upon It addresses these questions by tracing how Kanaka Maoli Native Hawaiian people explored the outside world and generated their own understandings of it in the century after James Cook's arrival in 1778 Writing with verve David A Chang draws on the compelling words of long ignored Hawaiian language sources stories songs chants and political prose to demonstrate how Native Hawaiian people worked to influence their metaphorical place in the world We meet for example Ka iana a Hawaiian chief who took an English captain as his lover and while sailing throughout the Pacific considered how Chinese Filipinos Pacific Islanders and Native Americans might shape relations with Westerners to their own advantage Chang's book is unique in examining travel sexuality spirituality print culture gender labor education and race to shed light on how constructions of global geography became a site through which Hawaiians as well as their would be colonizers perceived and contested imperialism colonialism and nationalism Rarely have historians asked how non Western people imagined and even forged their own geographies of their colonizers and the broader world This book takes up that task It emphasizes moreover that there is no better way to understand the process and meaning of global exploration than by looking out from the shores of a place such as Hawai i that was allegedly the object and not the agent of exploration

Meeting the Enemy Natsu Taylor Saito,2012-06 Since its founding the United States has defined itself as the supreme protector of freedom throughout the world pointing to its Constitution as the model of law to ensure democracy at home and to protect human rights internationally Although the United States has consistently emphasized the importance of the international legal system it has simultaneously distanced itself from many established principles of international law and the institutions that implement them In fact the American government has attempted to unilaterally reshape certain doctrines of international law while disregarding others such as provisions of the Geneva Conventions and the prohibition on torture America s selective self exemption Natsu Taylor Saito argues undermines not only specific legal institutions and norms but leads to a decreased effectiveness of the global rule of law Meeting the Enemy is a pointed look at why the United States frequent if selective disregard of international law and institutions is met with such high levels of approval or at least complacency by the American public

Native Peoples of the World Steven L. Danver,2015-03-10 This work examines the world s indigenous peoples their cultures the countries in which they reside and the issues that impact these groups

Ethics and the Profession of Anthropology Carolyn Fluehr-Lobban,2003 This revised second edition of Ethics and the Profession of Anthropology renews the challenge to anthropologists to engage in a dialogue concerning their commitment to professional ethical conduct Containing a majority of new chapters the authors redefine what it means to conduct anthropological research ethically in a discipline that is now less isolated from allied fields in the physical and behavioral sciences and coming to terms with the global changes that affect its practice Fluehr Lobban provides an overview of issues from the past 110 years drawing attention to the need for maintaining the ethical core of the discipline and a code of professional responsibility The contributors describe a series of crises in the discipline involving clandestine research and other questionable actions by anthropologists including secret research and intelligence work by academics the ethical problems of medical work among native people the evolution of cyber ethics and the changing relationships between indigenous people archaeologists and museums as a result of the 1990 NAGPRA repatriation legislation The book offers an excellent model for integrating ethics education at all levels of instruction and for empowering and engaging communities It will be a valuable tool for anthropological researchers instructors and fieldworkers as they transform their professional practice
