Stoning Mary:

Stoning Mary Debbie Tucker Green, 2005 Debbie Tucker Green's Stoning Mary is a play that explores everyday reality in an unstable war-torn country and asks what it would be like if these things were happening here. The play was first performed at the Royal Court Jerwood Theatre Downstairs London on 1 April 2005.

A Narratology of Drama Christine Schwanecke, 2022-01-19 This volume argues against Gérard Genette's theory that there is an insurmountable opposition between drama and narrative and shows that the two forms of storytelling have been productively intertwined throughout literary history. Building on the idea that plays often incorporate elements from other genres especially narrative ones, the present study theorises drama as a fundamentally narrative genre. Guided by the question of how drama tells stories, the first part of the study delineates the general characteristics of dramatic narration and zooms in on the use of narrative forms in drama. The second part proposes a history of dramatic storytelling from the Renaissance to the twenty-first century that transcends conventional genre boundaries. Close readings of exemplary British plays provide an overview of the dominant narrative modes in each period and point to their impact in the broader cultural and historical context of the plays. Finally, the volume argues that throughout history, highly narrative plays have had a performative power that reached well beyond the stage; dramatic storytelling not only reflects socio-political realities but also largely shapes them.

debbie tucker green Siân Adiseshiah, Jacqueline Bolton, 2020-04-15 This long-awaited book is the first full-length study of the work of the extraordinary contemporary black British playwright Debbie Tucker Green. Covering the period from 2000 Two Women to 2017, a profoundly affectionate, passionate devotion to someone, it offers scholars and students the opportunity to engage in cutting-edge critical debate engendered by Tucker Green's innovative dramatic works for stage, television, and radio. This groundbreaking book includes contributions by a range of outstanding scholars, including black playwriting specialists, world-leading contemporary theatre scholars, and some of the very best emerging researchers in the field. While always focused on the precision and detail of Tucker Green's work, this book simultaneously reframes broader debates around contemporary drama and its politics, poses new questions of theatre, and provokes scholarly thinking in ways that however obliquely contribute to the change for which the plays agitate.

Contemporary British Theatre Cristina Delgado-García, 2015-11-13 The category of theatrical character has been swiftly dismissed in the academic reception of no longer dramatic texts and performances However claims on the dissolution of character narrowly demarcate what a subject is and how it may appear This volume unmoors theatre scholarship from the regulatory ideals of liberal humanism stretching the notion of character to encompass and illuminate otherwise unaccounted for subjects aesthetic strategies and political gestures in recent theatre works To this aim contemporary philosophical theories of subjectivation European theatre studies and experimental script led work produced in Britain since the late 1990s are mobilised as discussants on the question of subjectivity Four contemporary playtexts and their performances are examined in depth Sarah Kane s Crave and 4.48 Psychosis Ed Thomas s Stone City Blue and Tim Crouch s ENGLAND Through these case studies Delgado García demonstrates alternative ways of engaging theoretically with character and elucidating a range of subjective figures beyond identity and individuality Alongside these analyses the book traces a large body of work that has experimented with speech attribution since the early twentieth century This is a timely contribution to contemporary theatre scholarship which demonstrates that character remains a malleable and politically salient notion in which understandings of subjectivity are still being negotiated Stage Business and the Neoliberal Theatre of London Alex

Ferrone, 2021-01-21 This book examines contemporary English drama and its relation to the neoliberal consensus that has dominated British policy since 1979 The London stage has emerged as a key site in Britain s reckoning with neoliberalism On one hand many playwrights have denounced the acquisitive values of unfettered global capitalism on the other plays have more readily revealed themselves as products of the very market economy they critique their production histories and formal innovations uncomfortably reproducing the strategies and practices of neoliberal labour markets Stage Business and the Neoliberal Theatre of London thus arrives at a usefully ambivalent political position one that praises the political power of the theatre its potential as a form of resistance to the neoliberal rationality that rides roughshod over democratic values while simultaneously attending to the institutional bondage that constrains it For of course the theatre itself everywhere straddles the line of capitulating to the marketization of our cultural life Contemporary British Drama David
