Stop The Clock:

Stop the Clocks! Helen Powell, 2012-03-30 The clock plays a significant part in our understanding of temporality but while it simplifies regulates and coordinates it fails to reflect and communicate the more experiential dimensions of time As Helen Powell demonstrates in this book cinema has been addressing this issue since its inception Stop the Clocks examines filmmakers relationship to time and its visual manipulation and representation from the birth of the medium to the digital present It engages both with experimentation in narrative construction and with films that take time as their subject matter such as Donnie Darko Interview with a Vampire Lost Highway and Pulp Fiction Helen Powell asks what underpins the enduring appeal of the science fiction genre with filmmakers and audience and how cinematography might inform our conceptualisation of other imagined temporal worlds including the afterlife She examines the role of angels and vampires in contemporary cinema as well as the distinctive time schemes of new media and their implications for rethinking time and the moving image through digitalisation Broad based and accessible Stop the Clocks will appeal to a wide interdisciplinary audience and provides a useful sourcebook on undergraduate and postgraduate courses in film and other arts and media based disciplines

Thing of Beauty Jackson Mac Low,2009-05 Jackson Mac Low s poetry and prose exceeds narrow definitions of artists by movements or poets by style His work began with and returned to timeless subjects such as children animals love war death and God diverging at points into rigorously imposed structures systems and chance operations in an effort to suppress the ego in his art At one point embarrassed by his depth of feeling Mac Low confesses to being an existential poet a declaration that the title of the poem A Lack of Balance But Not Fatal contradicts with modest and generous humor This is an important and often very moving anthology of Mac Low s thought at the same time as it reflects the preoccupations of his generation and ranges over a wide variety of approaches to writing and art making Thing of Beauty is a manifesto the term Mac Low would use to describe expressions of personal truth and his are beautiful Kristine Stiles Professor of Art History Duke University In this generous selection of Jackson Mac Low s work we can see first hand the poet s profound understanding of the physics of language and his exuberant articulation of the sounds of words in unpredictable motions The multiplicity of Mac Low s forms and his rejection of any hierarchy among the forms of poetry objective and subjective expository or nonrepresentational lyric and epic along with his refusal to identify poetic composition with a characteristic voice of the poet and his rejection of traditional aesthetic standards of beauty are among the chief marks of his iconoclastic genius Mac Low s magnificent and multidimensional poems open vast expanses for the imagination to inhabit Charles Bernstein This is one of the great watershed events in recent publishing history Mac Low s reputation has exploded on the poetry scene since his death Hannah Higgins author of Fluxus Experience Official Rules of Chess Eric Schiller,2003 Women in Public Administration Maria D'Agostino,Helisse Levine,2011-04-21 Women in Public Administration Theory and Practice provides a comprehensive exploration of the gender dimension in public administration through a unique collection of writings by women in the field Specifications and Drawings of Patents Issued from the United States Patent Office United States. Smith,2000-11-09 Mastered by the Clock is the first work to explore the evolution of clock based time consciousness in the American South Challenging traditional assumptions about the plantation economy s reliance on a premodern nature based conception of time Mark M Smith shows how and why southerners particularly masters and their slaves came to view the clock as a legitimate arbiter of time Drawing on an extraordinary range of eighteenth and nineteenth century archival sources Smith demonstrates that white southern slaveholders began to incorporate this new sense of time in the 1830s Influenced by colonial merchants fascination with time thrift by a long held familiarity with urban public time by the transport and market revolution in the South and by their own qualified embrace of modernity slaveowners began to purchase timepieces in growing numbers adopting a clock based conception of time and attempting in turn to instill a similar consciousness in their slaves But forbidden to own watches themselves slaves did not internalize this idea to the same degree as their masters and slaveholders found themselves dependent as much on the whip as on the clock when enforcing slaves obedience to time Ironically Smith shows freedom largely consolidated the dependence of masters as well as freedpeople on the clock On
