The Cassowary Studies In Austrian Literature Culture And Thought Translation Series:

The Cassowary Matthias Mander, 1994 The book one of the few big novels being produced today is a mosaic of observations and reflections discussions and arguments incidents and episodes brief sketches and portraits which coalesce into a picture of a large industrial combine The Austrian firm of Minerals Metals Chemicals is involved in international trade and exhibits the features common to the gigantic industrial and commercial firms that dominate the Western world today Whether it be the struggle for national contracts board room infighting the closing down of factories and the commercial political and human considerations involved the economics of renting a large new mainframe computer or the costs involved in maintaining the information network necessary for business deals in the United States the episodes around which the main character's reflections crystallize are the everyday stuff of the world of industry Modern Austrian Literature, 1995 Includes the index to the Journal of the International Arthur Schnitzler Research Association 1961-67 Forthcoming Books Rose Arny, 1994-02 Whitaker's Books in Print, 1998 Books in Print, 1994 Poland, 1958 Studies in Austrian Literature, Culture and Thought, 19?? Studies in Austrian Literature, Culture and Thought, 19?? Austrian Writers and the Anschluss: Understanding the Past - Overcoming the Past Donald G. Daviau, 1990 Belief Systems in Austrian Literature, Thought and Culture Michael Boehringer, Allison Cattell, Belinda Kleinhans, 2017-06-21 The Legacy of Kafka in Contemporary Austrian Literature Frank Pilipp, 1997 Austrian Writers and the Anschluss Donald G. Daviau, 1991 Shadow Lines Lorna Martens, 1996 Intellectual culture in early twentieth century Austria reached levels of originality and excellence that have rarely been equalled before or since Shadow Lines examines works by major novelists dramatists poets and intellectuals of that extraordinary era among them Sigmund Freud Arthur Schnitzler Robert Musil Hugo von Hofmannsthal Rainer Maria Rilke Ludwig Wittgenstein and Franz Kafka Lorna Martens considers how each of these authors contributed to a decisive transformation in Austrian culture involving a shift away from the dialectical syntheses of much nineteenth century German thought and culture to potent unresolvable dualisms of known and unknown orderly and chaotic features of human experience consciousness and the unconscious reason and the irrational language and the inexpressible In most of these writers according to Martens all that is knowable reasonable and orderly is grounded in that which is dark irrational chaotic What Martens calls the dark area emerges variously as the unconscious Freud the sexual drive Freud Schnitzler Musil the death instinct Freud Schnitzler the dangerous chaos below the surface of things Rilke the inaccessible totality von Hofmannsthal or the unsayable Mauthner von Hofmannsthal Musil Wittgenstein The essential yet enigmatic relation between the known and the unknown leads to much that is unsettling and strangely fascinating in these writers works A book that shrewdly relates the works of these authors to the intellectual and political turmoil of the times Shadow Lines is a new critical appraisal of Austrian literature and intellectual culture at the dawn of the century Studies in Austrian literature, culture, and thought, Shadows of the Past Hans H. Schulte, Gerald Chapple, 2009 How did Austrian writers grapple with their country's problematic twentieth century history? Nine scholars investigate how the complex role of the national past changed the content and context of Austria's literature. Contributions range from Klaus Zeyringer's aggressive argument for an authentically Austrian literature to the late Harry Zohn's autobiographical insights of a transplanted Viennese. Probing essays examine the Liberal and the National Socialist era writers in exile and in their roles as post-war social critics. Shadows of the Past also puts the authors themselves in the spotlight. A mini reader of hard hitting as well as humorous narrative texts complements the literary history that begins the volume. Written by Barbara Frischmuth, Elisabeth Reichart and Erich Wolfgang Skwara, these six texts are accompanied by helpful introductions to each author. As a further aid for English speaking readers, the original in German literary and critical texts are translated for the first time. Shadows of the Past allows students of European culture and comparative literature to experience a dramatic century in Austrian literature and history. Anthology of Modern Austrian Literature Adolf Opel, 1981 Austrian Studies Vol. 29 Heide Kunzelmann, Lyn Marven, 2021-12-17 Austrian cultural production after 1945 has been enduringly haunted by unsavoury truths. The fraught relationship of post-war Austria with its own history and the collective denial of responsibility for National Socialist crimes informed a cultural discourse that was polarized between apologetic or extremely judgmental viewpoints. Fliedl, 1998 Towards the turn of the new millennium, however, research began to discern alternatives in the steadily growing number of phenomena and artefacts that accept the uncanny core of a dialectical integrative approach to Austria's difficult history. W. G. Sebald, 1991 Writing the Austrian Traditions Wolfgang Huemer, Marc-Oliver Schuster, Wirth-Institute for Austrian and Central European Studies, 2003 The literary and the philosophical traditions in Austria are closely intertwined. This book presents twelve original essays from experts who focus on the mutual influence between Austrian writers and philosophers and thus additionally present valuable insights into the general interconnections between literature and philosophy. Among the discussed Austrian writers and philosophers are Sigmund Freud, Ludwig Wittgenstein, Karl Kraus, Robert Musil, Hugo von Hofmannsthal, members of the Vienna Circle, Adalbert Stifter, Hermann Broch, and Alexius Meinong. The collection is concluded by original poems from Franz Josef Czernin, a contemporary Austrian writer whose extensive literary work is highly self-reflective and creatively engages with philosophical questions about language, poetics, and realism.
