Lewis-Williams,2004-04-17 The breathtakingly beautiful art created deep inside the caves of western Europe has the power to dazzle even the most jaded observers Emerging from the narrow underground passages into the chambers of caves such as Lascaux Chauvet and Altamira visitors are confronted with symbols patterns and depictions of bison woolly mammoths ibexes and other animals Since its discovery cave art has provoked great curiosity about why it appeared when and where it did how it was made and what it meant to the communities that created it David Lewis Williams proposes that the explanation for this lies in the evolution of the human mind Cro Magnons unlike the Neanderthals possessed a more advanced neurological makeup that enabled them to experience shamanistic trances and vivid mental imagery It became important for people to fix or paint these images on cave walls which they perceived as the membrane between their world and the spirit world from which the visions came Over time new social distinctions developed as individuals exploited their hallucinations for personal advancement and the first truly modern society emerged Illuminating glimpses into the ancient mind are skillfully interwoven here with the still evolving story of modern day cave discoveries and research The Mind in the Cave is a superb piece of detective work casting light on the darkest mysteries of our earliest ancestors while strengthening our wonder at their aesthetic achievements
