Nation-states and the Challenges of Regional Integration in West Africa Yomi Akinyeye,2010 Since their independance Africa states West in particular have felt a need for regional integration in order to solve their development problems Various aspects of Nigeria s experience in regional integration are there examined These include the advocacy of chambers of commerce for common currencies among members of the West African Monetary Zone security implications of defense pacts between some francophone member countries and France and grassroots participation to solve problems concerning borders and borderlands Finally facilitators and obstacles of regional integration are examined      Security in Northern Europe John Andreas Olsen,2019-03-04 NATO s Northern members are increasingly concerned about Russia s military activities This Whitehall Paper contains perspectives from prominent authors across the region showing how member states are responding individually and collectively to Moscow s resurgence Overall it identifies the common but differentiated responsibility that member states have for security in the Alliance s northern regions      Regional Policy in Britain Gavin McCrone,2017-09-05 Originally published in 1973 At that time imbalance in the economic performance of regions had become of increasing concern to politicians and economists in many European countries British policy was of particular interest not only because the changes of the 1960s made it more comprehensive than in most other countries but as some sort of regional policy had been in operation for more than thirty years many lessons could be learned from its evolution This book provides a comprehensive study of this aspect of British policy It starts by outlining the nature of the British regional problem the case for a policy and the contribution of economic theory to the understanding of the regional question In later Parts the development of British policy up to 1967 is described along with its impact on the performance of individual regions and different measures are evaluated with a view to increasing the effectiveness of policy The final chapter outlines the regional policy of the European Economic Community and shows what effect membership would have on British policy      Industry and Innovation in the North East of England Great Britain: Parliament: House of Commons: North East Regional Committee,2009 In this report from the North East Regional Committee HCP 169 session 2009 10 ISBN 9780215542731 renewable industries could lead a recovery in the North East s manufacturing industry The Committee states that the region is well placed to benefit from the growing global market for green technologies but warns that British innovation and ideas could be lost as other countries benefit from quicker commercial development and implementation World class renewable energy companies in the North East such as the New and Renewable Energy Centre NaREC at Blyth the North East Process Industries Cluster NEPIC on Teesside and NETPark the North East Technology park in County Durham could put the region at the forefront of the Government s efforts to turn the UK into a low carbon economy The Committee warns though that the UK s cumbersome and slow planning process poses a significant risk to long term development in the North East as businesses from countries like China seek quicker guaranteed sites elsewhere in Europe The report also states that the Government should explore incentives to encourage local development of renewable and clean energy Also underinvestment in transport links is proving detrimental to investment in the region      International Businesses and the Challenges of Poverty in the Developing World F. Bird,S. Herman,2016-01-22 We live in a globally interconnected but economically divided world where internationally linked businesses can play a significant role in helping and or obstructing the development of impoverished countries Through a series of case studies this volume examines what can be learned both positively and critically from the experiences of selected internationally connected firms in Nigeria

Uganda Ghana Vietnam Guyana and the Nunavik region of northern Canada This book begins with a set of reflections on the strategies firms might adopt so that they develop both their own assets as well as those of the areas in which they operate A team of more than two dozen researchers from the developed and developing countries conducted the research on which the essays on this and subsequent volumes are based Dr Frederick Bird from Concordia University in Montreal directed the overall research project

Global Challenges in the Arctic Region Elena Conde, Sara Iglesias Sánchez, 2016-08-05 Bringing together interconnected discussions to make explicit the complexity of the Arctic region this book offers a legal discussion of the ongoing territorial disputes and challenges in order to frame their impact into the viability of different governance strategies that are available at the national regional and international level One of the intrinsic features of the region is the difficulty in the determination of boundaries responsibilities and interests Against this background sovereignty issues are intertwined with environmental and geopolitical issues that ultimately affect global strategic balances and international trade and at the same time influence national approaches to basic rights and organizational schemes regarding the protection of indigenous peoples and inhabitants of the region This perspective lays the ground for further discussion revolving around the main clusters of governance focusing on the Arctic Council and the European Union with the particular roles and interest of Arctic and non Arctic states and the impact on indigenous populations environment including the relevance of national regulatory schemes and the intertwinement with concerns related to energy or migration strategy concentrating in geopolitical realities and challenges analysed from different perspectives and focusing on different actors and covering security and climate change related challenges This collection provides an avenue for parallel and converging research of complex realities from different disciplines through the expertise of scholars from different latitudes

Gunn,2005-08-31 For centuries the sub national languages of China have been a fundamental feature in daily life and popular culture while a standardized form of Mandarin has been adopted as the language of the state including education Suppressed during powerful movements to establish a modern national culture these local languages or dialects have nevertheless survived and their resurgence in the media and literature has caused tensions to surface Concerns for education law and commerce have all promoted a standard national language yet at the same time as local societies have undergone massive transformations the need to re imagine communities has repeatedly challenged the adequacy of a single language to represent them Moreover local languages have been presented in dramatically different and conflicted roles as symbols of the failure to assimilate to a cultural mainstream which in turn may be parodied as contingent and inadequate or asserting the identity of a community as a site of its own cultural production and not merely as a venue for transmitting a national culture Acknowledging local language as authentic may also reveal cultural hegemonies within regions and contested versions of communities This ground breaking study surveys in detail the sweep of local languages in television radio film and print culture of late twentieth century mainland China especially Beijing Shanghai Chongqing and Chengdu Hong Kong and Taiwan Focusing on these regions the analysis contrasts and compares these distinct communities to each other and to the ways in which they mediate culture as a national institution It draws on a wide range of critical cultural and media studies and explores how varied genres and media have sought to represent the tensions and assertions within these societies and how they construct the local in an age of globalization The Soviet Regional Dilemma Jan Ake Dellenbrant,2017-07-05 Incorporating an oral history approach this history of radio covers the impact of the arrival of television the rise of transistor radios the popularity of rock n roll FM stereo stations underground radio of the sixties talk radio public radio and how technology will affect its future OECD Reviews of Regional Innovation, North of England, United Kingdom 2008 OECD,2008-10-14 This report reviews how both national policy and regional strategies support innovation in the North of England and how these efforts could be improved Handbook of Research on the Impacts, Challenges, and Policy Responses to Overtourism Ribeiro de Almeida, Cláudia,Quintano, Alfred,Simancas, Moisés,Huete, Raquel,Breda, Zélia,2020-02-28 In recent years the increasing number of tourists traveling to specific urban and resort destinations has caused challenges for the effective management of tourism in these areas with a resulting negative impact on towns cities and host communities Such issues have included placing undue pressure on infrastructure destruction of the physical economic and socio cultural environment and affecting the quality of residents daily lives by impacting their mobility and in some cases the price and rent of resident accommodation goods and services To achieve a certain level of balance between the interests of local residents and visitors new regulatory measures and legislation in high tourism areas must be discussed The Handbook of Research on the Impacts Challenges and Policy Responses to Overtourism is a collection of innovative research on best practices and legislation solutions for the management of tourism destinations suffering from overtourism tourismophobia or antitourism movement issues While highlighting topics including overcrowding social displacement and tourism management this book is ideally designed for local government officials policymakers lawmakers researchers entrepreneurs industry professionals travel agencies hotels academicians and students seeking current innovative empirical research on destination management practices and application techniques
