Environmental Risk and Resilience in the Changing World Swapna Talukdar, Atiqur Rahman, Somnath Bera, G. V. Ramana, Atish Prashar, 2024-09-06 This book provides huge knowledge and data in the fields of geospatial sciences earth environmental sciences humanities and social sciences which target a diverse range of readers such as academics scientists students environmentalists meteorologists urban planners remote sensing and GIS experts Earth environment ecological envelope of geosphere biosphere hydrosphere atmosphere and cryosphere faces a significant challenge from different risks and threats due to rapid changes in global land use population increase and pollution They might drastically impair the ecosystem's ability to maintain long term service levels while bolstering the economic social and environmental pillars of sustainable development Therefore risk assessment RA has lately become a prominent research topic and a powerful mechanism for enforcing legal activities related environmental restoration and health improvements to do sustainable development The United States Environmental Protection Agency USEPA first used the risk assessment approach in 1980 and since then it has expanded and become standard practice in many areas of ecological research Some practices are air quality assessment land degradation assessment natural hazards risk assessment urban surface ecological health condition wetland and forest health assessment and drinking water quality assessment However recently risk assessment alone is not sufficient to propose any sustainable management plans Also there is no universal strategy for conducting risk assessments and insufficient expertise with the methodology may result in erroneous findings Therefore scientists are increasingly interested in developing resilience strategies with AI and geospatial based risk assessment to lower environmental risk Different resilience approaches make different assumptions about the system dynamics involved in resilience based environmental risk and impact assessment Therefore this book seeks to showcase the most current advances in risk and hazards assessment of environments with resilience strategies to mitigate the prevailing environmental issues with the help of remote sensing GIS artificial intelligence and state of the art frameworks like PSR VIOR nature based solutions     A

Most Remarkable Creature Jonathan Meiburg, 2022-02-22 An enthralling account of a modern voyage of discovery as we meet the clever social birds of prey called caracaras which puzzled Darwin fascinate modern day falconers and carry secrets of our planet's deep past in their family history Deftly intertwine's natural history and human history with insights and lessons that go far beyond the subject birds David Sibley author of What It's Like to Be a Bird Utterly captivating and beautifully written this book is a hugely entertaining and enlightening exploration of a bird so wickedly smart curious and social it boggles the mind Jennifer Ackerman author of The Bird Way In 1833 Charles Darwin was astonished by an animal he met in the Falkland Islands handsome social and oddly crow like falcons that were tame and inquisitive quarrelsome and passionate and so insatiably curious that they stole hats compasses and other valuables from the crew of the Beagle Darwin wondered why these birds were confined to remote islands at the tip of South America sensing a larger story but he set this mystery aside and never returned to it Almost two hundred years later Jonathan Meiburg takes up this chase He takes us through South America from the fog bound coasts of Tierra del Fuego to the tropical forests of Guyana in search of these birds striated caracaras which still exist though they're very rare He reveals the wild fascinating story of their history origins and possible futures And along the way he draws us into the life and work of William Henry Hudson the Victorian writer and naturalist who championed caracaras as an unsung wonder of the natural world and to falconry parks in the English countryside where captive caracaras perform incredible feats of memory and problem solving A Most Remarkable Creature is a hybrid of science writing travelogue and biography as generous and accessible as it is sophisticated and absolutely riveting
