The Chinese Repository, Vol. 20, 2018-02-10 Excerpt from The Chinese Repository Vol 20 From January to December 1851 This extraordinary European also induced his grateful sovereign King Narai to repair the old city of Lrphs buri louvo and construct there an extensive royal palace on the principles of European architecture On the north of this palace Constantine erected an extensive and beautiful collection of buildings for his own residence Here also he built a Romish church on which are still to be seen some inscriptions in European letters supposed to be in Dutch or German they assuredly are neither French nor English perhaps they are Greek as he was of Greek extraction and born at Cephalonia The ruins of all these edifices and their walls are still to be seen and are said to be a great curiosity It is moreover stated that he planned the construction of canals with reservoirs at intervals for bringing water from the mountains on the northeast to the city Lophaburi and conveying it through estuaries and copper pipes and syphons so as to supply the city in the dry season on the same principle as that adopted in Europe He commenced also a canal with embankments to the holy place called Phra Bat about 25 miles southwest from the city of Lophaburi He made an artificial pond on the summit of Phra Bat mountain and thence by means of copper tubes and stop cocks conveyed abundance of water to the kitchen and bath rooms of the royal residence at the foot of the mountains His works were not completed when misfortune overtook him Many Siamese officers and royal ministers were jealous of his influence and murmured their suspicions of his being a secret rebel At length he was accused of designing to put the King to death by inviting him to visit the church he had built between the walls of which it is said he had inserted a quantity of gunpowder which was to be ignited by a match at a given signal and thus involve the death of the King On this serious charge he was assassinated by order of the King this is the traditional story the written annals state that he was slain in his sedan while faithful to his King by order of a rebel prince who perceived he could not succeed in his nefarious plans against the throne while Constantine lived The works which he left half done are now generally in ruins viz the canal to Phra Bat and the aqueduct at the mountains About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works

Autumn in the Heavenly Kingdom Stephen R. Platt, 2012 A gripping account of China's nineteenth century Taiping Rebellion one of the largest civil wars in history Autumn in the Heavenly Kingdom brims with unforgettable characters and vivid re creations of massive and often gruesome battles a sweeping yet intimate portrait of the conflict that shaped the fate of modern China The story begins in the early 1850s the waning years of the Qing dynasty when word spread of a major revolution brewing in the provinces led by a failed civil servant who claimed to be the son of God and brother of Jesus The Taiping rebels drew their power from the poor and the disenfranchised unleashing the ethnic rage of millions of Chinese against their Manchu rulers This homegrown movement seemed all but unstoppable until Britain and the United States stepped in and threw their support behind the Manchus after years of massive carnage all opposition to Qing rule was effectively snuffed out for generations Stephen R Platt recounts these events in spellbinding detail building his story on two fascinating characters with opposing visions for China s future the conservative Confucian scholar Zeng Guofan an accidental general who emerged as the most influential military strategist in China s modern history and Hong Rengan a brilliant Taiping leader whose grand vision of building a modern industrial and pro Western Chinese state ended in tragic failure This is an essential and enthralling history of the rise and fall of the movement that a century and a half ago might have launched China on an entirely different path into the modern world Gutenberg in Shanghai Christopher A.

Reed,2011-11-01 In the mid 1910s what historians call the Golden Age of Chinese Capitalism began accompanied by a technological transformation that included the drastic expansion of China s Gutenberg revolution Gutenberg in Shanghai examines this process It finds the origins of that revolution in the country s printing industries of the late imperial period and analyzes their subsequent development in the Republican era This book which relies on documents previously unavailable to both Western and Chinese researchers demonstrates how Western technology and evolving traditional values resulted in the birth of a unique form of print capitalism whose influence on Chinese culture was far reaching and irreversible Its conclusion contests scholarly arguments that view China s technological development as slowed by culture or that interpret Chinese modernity as mere cultural continuity A vital reevaluation of Chinese modernity Gutenberg in Shanghai will be enthusiastically received by scholars of Chinese history and by specialists in cultural studies political science sociology the history of the book and the anthropology of science and technology Bibliotheca Lindesiana ... James Ludovic Lindsay Earl of Crawford,1910 Opium, Soldiers and Evangelicals H. Gelber,2004-02-24 This book questions the universal belief that England s 1840 42 war with China was an Opium War What really worried London was insults to the crown the claim of a dilapidated and corrupt China to be superior to everyone threats to British men and women and seizure of British property plus the wish to expand and free trade everywhere It was only much later that general Chinese resentment and Evangelical opinion at home and in America persuaded everyone that Britain had indeed been wicked and fought for opium

Anglo-China Christopher Munn,2013-12-16 A study of the first three decades of British rule in Hong Kong focusing on the troubled and controversial process of establishing a British colony at Hong Kong and on the reception of British rule by people in the region Chinese Christians Carl T. Smith,2005-05-01 Provided with a Western style education and versed in the English language by missionaries the 19th century Chinese Christian was a man who stood between cultures The author shows how this dual aspect of his thought and outlook enabled him to act as liaison with foreigners promoting trade and commerce

A Wilderness of Marshes Kerrie L. Macpherson,2002-01-01 The successful emergence of Shanghai as a world city by the close of the nineteenth century was built upon the establishment of a modern urban base No aspect of Shanghai s infrastructural developments was more critically important than the creation of a public health system A Wilderness of Marshes traces Shanghai s medical infrastructure from its conception to the implementation of a Western style public health system and a municipal government to manage it Kerrie MacPherson details the pioneering actions of Shanghai s capitalist professional and religious communities who skillfully adapted the ideas and practices gaining currency in Western science medicine public morality and urban circumstances to the Asian metropolis

Aliens in the East Harry Emerson Wildes,2016-11-11 In the early twentieth century the Japanese accepted many modern western ideas particularly industrialism But Harry Emerson Wildes argues the people of Japan remained essentially the same as when the first foreigners stepped upon their shores in 1543 exclusive intensely nationalistic suspicious of strangers set in a rigid and hereditary social system and possessed of a mystic veneration of their emperor and their ancestors The author of this volume knows the Japanese from firsthand experience and has had access to historical data only recently available He describes fully the uneven course of Japan s foreign relations from the earliest struggles of the Dutch Portuguese and British to establish trade with the empire to the diplomatic problems of the of the 1930s Of particular note are Japan s relations with the United States which started years before Commodore Perry obtained a commercial treaty in 1854 the first real concession to a western power Japan s attitude toward Russia in the past is likewise enlightening In addition to the economic relationships the missionary angle is discussed as well as the internal political situation throughout the period Wildes argues that achieving satisfactory trade arrangements was difficult due to the Japanese temperament and the failure of foreigners to understand the almost fanatical distrust of outsiders which caused them in 1637 to go so far as to establish the death penalty for newcomers who landed on Japanese soil and exiles who left it and colored their attitude toward other nations for many decades

Maritime Taiwan ,

Maritime Taiwan

Shih-Shan Henry Tsai,2014-12-18 For centuries the island of Taiwan 100 miles off the Asian mainland has been a crossroads for traders and settlers pirates and military schemers from around the world Unlike China with its long tradition of keeping foreigners out Taiwan has a long history of interaction both hostile and friendly with other seafaring nations near and far Maritime Taiwan captures the full drama and details of this remarkable history It is filled with fascinating stories of foreign adventurers and echoes the bitter songs of Taiwan's aboriginal population confronted by the convergence of different maritime cultures and values on the island Here are accounts of the legendary pirate Koxinga the Chinese junk trade the mighty Dutch East India Company British opium traders and Scottish tea merchants Jesuit priests and Presbyterian missionaries A French fleet commander a Japanese colonial administrator an American aid official and many more Here too is an extraordinary view of Taiwan over the centuries as its distinct identity culture and values were shaped by its unique history Today with a population of only 23 million Taiwan is the world's nineteenth largest economy a vibrant relatively free society on the strategic route between China and Southeast Asia Maritime Taiwan also discusses the significant impact of American military economic educational and technological aid on Taiwan's developments and addresses the island's continued importance in maintaining the U S hegemony in East Asia

Confrontation over Taiwan Leonard H. D. Gordon, 2009-02-16 Confrontation over Taiwan Nineteenth Century China and the Powers is a full and detailed account of international relations of Taiwan during the nineteenth century and specifically the period between 1840 and 1895 During this time the western powers and Japan were engaged in imperialist designs seeking commercial and strategic gain in the South China Sea which ultimately led to the Japanese colonization of Taiwan Leonard Gordon a diplomatic historian of East Asia closely examines the foreign policies of China Great Britain the United States France and Japan Also taking account of historic events on Taiwan and the mainland Gordon has researched in addition to the extensive published national records unpublished archival materials in Taiwan Japan the United States and Great Britain Providing a context for understanding the current situation in Taiwan the thorough research and historical analysis of Confrontation over Taiwan make this an essential book for students of East Asian History and International Affairs

Jewish Identities in East and Southeast Asia Jonathan Goldstein, 2015-11-13 The Jewish communities of East and Southeast Asia display an impressive diversity Jonathan Goldstein's book covers the period from 1750 and focuses on seven of the area's largest cities and trading emporia Singapore Manila Taipei Harbin Shanghai Rangoon and Surabaya The book isolates five factors which contributed to the formation of transnational multiethnic and multicultural identity memory colonialism regional nationalism socialism and Zionism It emphasizes those factors which preserved specifically Judaic aspects of identity Drawing extensively on interviews conducted in all seven cities as well as governmental institutional commercial and personal archives censuses and cemetery data the book provides overviews of communal life and intimate portraits of leading individuals and families Jews were engaged in everything from business and finance to revolutionary activity Some collaborated with the Japanese while others confronted them on the battlefield The book attempts to treat fully and fairly the wide spectrum of Jewish experience ranging from that of the ultra Orthodox to the completely secular The Canton Trade Paul A. Van Dyke, 2005-12-01 This study utilizes a wide range of new source materials to reconstruct the day to day operations of the port of Canton during the eighteenth and first half of the nineteenth centuries Using a bottom up approach it provides a fresh look at the successes and failures of the trade by focusing on the practices and procedures rather than on the official policies and protocols The narrative however reads like a story as the author unravels the daily lives of all the players from sampan operators pilots compradors and linguists to country traders supercargoes Hong merchants and customs officials New areas to studies of this kind are covered as well such as Armenians junk traders and rice traders all of whom played intricate roles in moving the commerce forward The Canton Trade shows that contrary to popular belief the trade was stable predictable and secure with many incentives built into the policies to encourage it to grow The huge expansion of trade was in fact one of the factors that contributed to its collapse as the increase in revenues blinded government officials to the long term deterioration of the lower administrative echelons In the end the system was toppled but that happened mainly because it had already defeated itself General readers and academicians interested in world and Asian history trading companies country trade Hong merchants and articles of trade will find much new and relevant information here The Chinese in Hawaii Chuan-hua Lowe,1972
