The Pitjantjatjara And Their Crafts:

The Pitjantjatjara and Their Crafts Peter Brokensha, 1975 Tjukurpa Pulkatjara Anangu Arts and Culture Aboriginal Corporation (South Australia), 2010 TJUKURPA PULKATJARA THE POWER OF THE LAW is an insight into 48 benchmark works by senior artists from the Ngaanyatjarra Pitjantjatjara and Yankunytjatjara lands featuring works from major private and public collections The book celebrates the works of senior artists currently making art in their own country and the work of the Aboriginal owned community art centres The artists represented are from the tri state region to the far north west of South Australia and are at the heart of the contemporary Indigenous art movement Included are Jimmy Baker Maringka Baker Wingu Tingima Tommy Mitchell Harry Tjutjuna Dicky Minyintri among others Unmaking Angas Downs Shannyn Palmer, 2022-08-30 Some stories dominate how we see and interpret a place while others are obscured from view Angas Downs is a pastoral station in Central Australia but pastoralism is only a fraction of what has happened there Like all places it has accrued people and stories in multiple layers over time Listening to Tjuki Tjukanku Pumpjack and Sandra Armstrong two Anangu with deep and abiding connections to Angas Downs a very different kind of place emerges from that conjured in myths and histories of pioneers and pastoralists that have shaped understandings of the past in Australia particularly in the Northern Territory Unmaking Angas Downs traces a history of colonisation in Central Australia by tracking the rise and demise of a rural enterprise across half a century as well as the complex and creative practices that transformed a cattle station into Country It grapples with the question of how people experience profound dislocation and come to make a place for themselves in the wake of rupture Angas Downs emerges as a place of dynamic interaction and social life not only lived in but also made by Anangu Remote as Ever David Scrimgeour, 2022-11-29 In Remote as Ever David Scrimgeour tells the story of his working life as a doctor in isolated communities in Australia's Western Desert in the late 1970s Being involved in the Homelands movement and the Aboriginal community controlled health campaign gave him significant insight into the strength of the Aboriginal struggle for autonomy a struggle too often undermined by government policy In an account replete with strong controversies and stronger personalities Scrimgeour demonstrates that the future of these communities and indeed the health of its individual members remain in the balance Tourism Art and Souvenirs David Hume, 2013-10-01 This book examines the relationship between art and tourism through the study of the material culture of tourism tourist art and souvenirs It thoroughly examines how to categorise the material culture of tourism within the discourses of contemporary art and cultural anthropology and demonstrates that tourist art is a unique expression of place and genuine artistic style The first investigation to consider the activity of souvenirs from both indigenous and settler tourist sites it brings a unique addition to the existing dated research in the area Working initially from Graburn's definition of tourist art as the art of one culture made specifically for the consumption of another Tourism Art and Souvenirs sheds light on important aspects of the souvenir that have not been widely discussed The most recent research is used to consider how the souvenir is designed and consumed consumer expectations and influence on the character of the souvenir how the souvenir maker is consumed by the tradition of heritage and how products become successful as souvenirs The title also investigates the language involved in the representation of place and the recording of experience through the souvenir developing a method that expresses the descriptive data of individual souvenir artefacts graphically so the patterns of language may be analysed Enhancing the understanding of material culture in tourism and therefore adding to future tourism development this volume will be of interest to upper level students researchers and academics in tourism culture heritage and sustainability
