The Players Of Nulla:

Invisible Crisis of Contemporary Society Bernard S Phillips, Louis C. Johnston, 2015-12-03 Is there a growing gap in today's world between cultural aspirations and their fulfillment a gap that is increasing social problems of all kinds If so what forces are producing that gap How can these forces be changed To answer these questions Phillips and Johnston employ a very broad approach to the scientific method drawing evidence from a wide variety of data and sources including sociologists psychologists political scientists historians philosophers educators psychiatrists and novelists They find substantial evidence for a widening gap suggesting an invisible crisis throughout contemporary society They also find substantial evidence that a simplistic and static metaphysical stance or worldview is largely responsible for that gap and that an alternative worldview can work to close that gap

Saving Society Bernard S Phillips, David Christner, 2015-12-22 Why do many problems throughout the world seem to be getting worse Saving Society argues that a dramatic change in our mode of thinking is required The authors show how many of our fundamental assumptions lead to an overly bureaucratic approach blocking solutions to many of our problems They contrast our present emotional repression and conforming behaviour with a more liberated form of perception thought and emotional expression which could allow us to break out of these bureaucratic routines Saving Society shows how this alternative approach might lay the basis for more effective and democratic institutions
