The Plot On The Pyramid Readit Chapters:

Dynamics of News Reporting and Writing Vincent F. Filak, 2018-01-02 Journalists in today's media environment require a skill set that can be adapted to a variety of media. Dynamics of News Reporting and Writing: Foundational Skills for a Digital Age teaches students the foundational skills they need to successfully report and write the news in an evolving digital landscape. Author Vince F. Filak offers guidance on the essential skills of the industry while weaving in the how-to's of writing digital news. Recognizing that well-crafted stories are founded on sharp prose, this new text covers the foundational elements of news writing such as lead writing, structure, and storytelling, while also teaching students how to think critically and determine what matters most to their readers. Key Features: An audience-centric approach encourages students to understand why and how news is relevant to the lives of their readers before they even start digging into their stories. Write Now Exercises provide students with an opportunity to immediately practice the core set of skills they have just learned and apply these skills to various platforms. Consider This debates spark classroom discussions by encouraging students to take a closer look at a current issue or ideological dilemma and make a valid case for their position. Thoughts from a Pro offer students an up-close look at a specific aspect of reporting and writing from a professional who is plying their trade each day.

Social Media Graham Meikle, 2016-02-05 Social media platforms have captured the attention and imagination of many millions of people, enabling their users to develop and display their creativity, to empathize with others, and to find connection, communication, and communion. But they are also surveillance systems through which those users become complicit in their own commercial exploitation. In this accessible book, Graham Meikle explores the tensions between these two aspects of social media. From Facebook and Twitter to Reddit and YouTube, Meikle examines social media as industries and as central sites for understanding the cultural politics of everyday life. Building on the new forms of communication and citizenship brought about by these platforms, he analyzes the meanings of sharing and privacy, internet memes, remix cultures, and citizen journalism. Throughout, Social Media engages with questions of visibility, performance, platforms, and users, and demonstrates how networked digital media are adopted and adapted in an environment built around the convergence of personal and public communication.

Selling the Sacred Mara Einstein, Sarah McFarland Taylor, 2024-03-01 There's religion in my marketing. There's marketing in my religion. Selling the Sacred explores the religious, cultural, and media implications of a two-sided phenomenon: marketing religion as a product and marketing products as religion. What do various forms of religion marketing collaboration look like in the twenty-first century, and what does this tell us about American culture and society? Social and technological changes rapidly and continuously reframe religious and marketing landscapes. CrossFit is a cult. Televangelists use psychographics and data marketing. QAnon is a religion and big business. These are some of the examples highlighted in this collection, which engages themes related to capitalist narratives, issues related to gender and race, and the intersection of religion, politics, and marketing among other key issues. The innovative contributors examine the phenomenon of selling the sacred providing a better understanding of how marketing tactics married with religious content influence our thinking and everyday lives These scholars bring to light how political economic and ideological agendas infuse the construction and presentation of the sacred via more traditional religious institutions or consumer product marketing By examining religion and marketing broadly this book offers engaging tools to recognize and unpack what gets sold as sacred what s at stake and the consequences A go to resource for those working in marketing studies religious studies and media studies Selling the Sacred is also a must read for religious and marketing professionals Why Don't Students Like School? Daniel T.
