The Cemetery Point Horror

Douglas Draa, Adrian Cole, Paul Dale Anderson, L.F. Falconer

The Cemetery Point Horror:

The Cemetery D. E. Athkins, 1993 It all started out as a party and then there was a game of hide and seek and before anyone knew what was happening someone was killed The game was over but was there still someone out there still playing the game

Frightening Fiction Kimberly Reynolds, Geraldine Brennan, Kevin McCarron, 2004-12-30 Edited by Morag Styles and written by an international team of acknowledged experts this series provides jargon free critical discussion and a comprehensive guide to literary and popular texts for children Each book introduces the reader to a major genre of children's literature covering the key authors major works and contexts in which those texts are published read and studied The development of the horror genre in children's literature has been a startling phenomenon one that has provoked strong but mixed reactions Frightening Fiction provides a lucid and lively guide to that genre ranging from analyses of such popular series as Point Horror Goosebumps the X Files and the Buffy stories to the work of individual authors such as Robert Westall David Almond Philip Gross and Lesley Howarth

Pet Semetary Shellie McMurdo, 2023-02-16 Most scholarship on Mary Lambert's Pet Semetary 1989 overarchingly focuses on the Stephen King novel 1983 and tends strongly towards housing the story within the Gothic literary tradition The film itself is often absent from considerations of North American horror cinema of the 1980s and from wider horror scholarship in general This Devil's Advocate stands as a corrective and provides a holistic analysis textual contextual and industrial of the film in order to properly situate it as an important entry into the history of horror cinema This book joins a growing body of works both journalistic and academic that aim to revisit older films in order to call attention to and or redress the gendered imbalance in our written horror histories McMurdo charges Pet Semetary with several contributions to the horror genre as an important entry within the tradition of grief horror as a horror film that both adheres to and defies the generic conventions of its historical context one both engaged with and respondent to its time of creation as a film that changed the fortunes of the cinematic Stephen King brand on the cusp of a new decade Pet Semetary is the highest grossing horror film directed by a woman in cinematic history and it stands as a story that we keep returning to as seen by the 1992 sequel the 2019 remake and a forthcoming prequel Pet Semetary's modern relevance and importance to genre history then is manifold and this book argues it is past time for its reconsideration as a classic of horror cinema

Representations of Childhood Death NA NA, 2016-04-30 Recent events such as the massacres in Dunblane and Arkansas the deaths of children in terrorist attacks civil wars and famines children born with AIDS and the many abductions and murders of children including some by children have placed childhood death firmly in the public consciousness But how do we understand what it means for a child to die This book examines the way the deaths of children have been dealt with at different times and in different media Each contributor has focused on a different way of representing the deaths of children from superstitions about malign child ghosts through mothers diaries to horror fiction and more

The Heart of Jacob Lilymjok, Kyuka, 2017-05-01 Jacob prospers as a moneylender and pig merchant by taking advantage of other people's misfortunes But when he seeks to exploit the famine afflicting his village Tounga by lending money at high interest rates to poor villagers he does not reckon what a sacrilege his pigs would commit which give the people an opportunity to feast on his own misfortune When this happens community gives way to individual desires and the stomach dictates to the head what it should think and believe in Reason bends to absurdity and custom bows to bizarre novelty Life explodes into a sinister mess that points to only one outcome Jacob and society s ultimate ruin

In the Time of Ebola Jonah Lipton,2014-11-15 The anthropologist Jonah Lipton was in Freetown Sierra Leone when the largest Ebola outbreak in history hit In the Time of Ebola is his account of the epidemic centering on the residents of a neighborhood swept up in the emergency Lipton follows the lives of young men and women over a period of seven years revealing what the epidemic looked like on the ground He explores its causes impacts and legacies in a place where crisis might be considered the norm not the exception The emergency was disruptive and challenging not least due to the short term international response Yet for many youths Ebola was a time of unusual clarity on the ambiguities around care work and coming of age experienced in a context of vast economic and social inequalities Lipton shows how residents of this historically cosmopolitan West African city drew on centuries old frameworks for managing foreign intervention In the Time of Ebola questions dominant framings of crisis and offers ways of theorizing researching and responding to emergencies that make the home the family and ordinary life their starting point

EBOOK: WHAT IS ENGLISH TEACHING? Chris Davis, 1996-03-16 Is it the role of English teachers to teach basic literacy skills If not what do English teachers think they should be doing How should basic literacy be taught in schools These are important questions which have recently attracted significant political media and parental debate In addressing them this book explores the question What is English Teaching from a variety of perspectives including teachers' beliefs about what they should be teaching the views of the government and the reality of young people's experiences in the 1990s In particular it explores the question of how and even whether the English subject area is capable of meeting its own and the outside world's expectations for teaching not only its specialist concerns but also general literacy The book explores ways in which the teaching of English might develop for instance by balancing its efforts evenly between literature study media study and knowledge about language and how it might contribute to wider literacy teaching by sharing its distinctive teaching strategies with teachers of other subjects

Maria's Story Maria Wolf Stella, Robert A. Stella, 2000-12 Maria's Story is an oral history as dictated by Maria Wolf Stella about people and events sought by academic scholars to authenticate studies of Germany's Nazi era Her father's imprisonment and then enforced unemployment led to meager meals at home discrimination in school and for Maria at age 14 an order to report for work in a war material factory Throughout she faced wartime terror and carnage as bombing raids around the factory increased in frequency and destructiveness Maria survived shock heartbreak and grief from the bombing of her village She survived being strafed by a fighter plane a tank bombardment of a bunker which she alone occupied and the sniping by a lone hidden rifleman while searching for her sister Eventually even her sunny disposition could not dispel feelings of despair and foreboding for the future World War II introduced a new form of warfare with primary casualties shifting from battlefield soldiers to civilians in cities followed by a cold war era filled by the murder and genocide of millions by communist governments An introduction to the book written by Robert Stella outlines a national intercontinental ballistic missile defense system to shield the nation's city dwellers against incineration by H bomb warheads Ten appendices also by Robert Stella provide new perspective to World War II events an eleventh reviews essentials of a U S Ballistic Missile Star Wars Defense System Talespinning David J. Howe,2011 Light Shining in a Dark Place Jeff Sellars,2012-06-04 In Light Shining in a Dark Place Jeff Sellars has drawn together more than a dozen scholars around the theme of discovering theology through the moving medium of film The varied contributors in this collection explore through their particular lenses how theological ideas might be seen in and considered through one of the most popular of modern art forms From subjects of sin grace and forgiveness to violence science fiction fantasy and zombies Light Shining in a Dark Place assists the theologically interested film viewer in tracing the light that might be found in the filmic arts back to the source of all lights Contributors include Bruce L Edwards J Sage Elwell Michael Leary Peter Malone Kevin C Neece Simon Oliver Kim Paffenroth J Ryan Parker Travis Prinzi Megan J Robinson Scott Shiffer James H Thrall and Alissa Wilkinson The Advocate ,1996-03-05 The Advocate is a lesbian gay bisexual transgender LGBT monthly newsmagazine Established in 1967 it is the oldest continuing LGBT publication in the United States The Battle for Vimy Ridge, 1917 Nigel Cave,Jack Sheldon,2007-10-06 In a new departure in the Battleground Europe series this book is a guide to both sides of a major battle in this case to the Canadian Corps operations against 1st Bavarian Reserve Corps at Vimy from 9 12 April 1917 which formed part of the opening of the British offensive known as the Battle of Arras Historically the capture of Vimy Ridge was an event far more significant than its undoubted military importance alone Here for the first time all four divisions of the Canadian Corps were deployed in line together in one offensive and although the Corps went to fight even greater battles Vimy marked a key point in the emergence of Canada as a fully sovereign nation Although the Canadian side of the story has been well chronicled by a number of writers until now there has been little concerning the defense during this great battle Now the accounts of the German soldiers and their commanders are combined with those of the Canadians and British deployed on the other side of No Mans Land and not simply those who fought above ground but tunnelers also Wild Mustard Charles Waugh,Lien Nguyen,Van Giá,2017-04-15 Wild Mustard an anthology of prizewinning short fiction by contemporary Vietnamese writers throws into relief the transformations of self and place that followed Vietnam s turn toward a market economy In just three decades since the 1986 policy known as doi moi renovation ended collectivization and integrated Vietnam into world markets the country has transformed from one of the poorest and most isolated on earth into a dynamic global economy The nineteen stories in this volume capture the kaleidoscopic experiences of Vietnam s youth navigating between home and newly expanded horizons as they seek new opportunities through migration education and integration not only into their nation but into the world In the tradition of the Under 40 collections popularized by magazines such as the New Yorker and Granta but with greater stakes and greater differences between the previous generation of writers and this new one Wild Mustard seeks to change how North American readers think of Vietnam Escaping the common fixation on the Vietnam War and its aftermath these stories reflect the movement and dynamism of the young Vietnamese who locate themselves amid the transnational encounters and proliferating identities of a global economy
