The Challenge of Connecting Learning Association of American Colleges. National Advisory Committee, 1990      Connecting Learning Across the Institution Pamela L. Eddy, 2014-03-25 Most research on learning tends to occur in silos based on stakeholder perspective This volume seeks to break down these silos and draw together scholars who research learning from different perspectives to highlight commonalities in learning for students faculty and institutions When we understand how learning is experienced across the institution we can develop strategies that help support enhance and reinforce learning for all Exploring what it means to bridge learning across the institution this volume provides a roadmap to improve learning for all Both scholarly and practical it advances the knowledge about the ways we investigate and study learning across and for various groups of learners It also Collects thinking about learning in its various formats in one location Provides a platform for synthesis Outlines key questions for thinking more deeply about learning on campus Instead of thinking of learning as discrete depending on the stakeholder group this volume highlights the commonalities across all types of learners      The SAGE Encyclopedia of Out-of-School Learning Kylie Peppler, 2017-04-11 The SAGE Encyclopedia of Out of School Learning documents what the best research has revealed about out of school learning what facilitates or hampers it where it takes place most effectively how we can encourage it to develop talents and strengthen communities and why it matters Key features include Approximately 260 articles organized A to Z in 2 volumes available in a choice of electronic or print formats Signed articles specially commissioned for this work and authored by key figures in the field conclude with Cross References and Further Readings to guide students to the next step in a research journey Reader's Guide groups related articles within broad thematic areas to make it easy for readers to spot additional relevant articles at a glance Detailed Index the Reader's Guide and Cross References combine for search and browse in the electronic version Resource Guide points to classic books journals and web sites including those of key associations

Connected Learning: Origins, Opportunities, and Perspectives of Contemporary Educational Design Henning Schoenenberger, 2024-05-27 This book offers a unique machine generated overview of the current state of research in Connected Learning Networked Learning Digital Badges Micro Credentials and Lifelong Learning The concept of Connected Learning picks up learners where they are and that is no longer just the classroom or seminar room Connected Learning seeks to understand the context of learning and the motivation of learners in order to design a more contemporary and effective learning experience Central to this is the understanding that Connected Learning is collaborative and takes place in peer to peer networks that it is based on participation problem orientation and application and that the more personalised the learning the more interested learners are This volume condenses and synthesizes research from a large variety of English language articles into a concise yet comprehensive overview Readers will benefit from the selection and synthesis of articles that allow them to get a quick understanding of the research area while also being able to click through to the original sources to dive deeper into any particular topic This volume is a key source of information and insight for those interested in the current research as well as serving as an inspiring starting point for their own research

Rise to the Challenge Jeff C. Marshall, 2019-07-22 Do you sense that some students have mentally checked out of your classroom Look closely and you'll probably find that these students are bored by lessons that they view as unchallenging and uninteresting In this follow up to The Highly Effective Teacher 7 Classroom Tested Practices That Foster Student Success Jeff Marshall provides teachers with a blueprint for introducing more rigor to the classroom by Reorienting themselves and their students toward active learning and establishing the habits that allow it to flourish Creating a classroom culture where students aren't afraid to take risks and where they grow as learners because of it Planning the same lesson at different levels of challenge for different levels of development and designing assessments that gauge student progress fairly without sacrificing expectations and Implementing inquiry based activities that push students beyond their comfort zones and that result in well rounded learners with stronger character and sharper thinking skills Leveraging the latest research in the field as well as years of hard won classroom experience this book offers practical strategies replicable examples and thoughtful reflection exercises for educators to use as they work to help students embrace the mystery complexity and power of challenge

Building and Connecting Learning Communities Steven Katz, Lorna M. Earl, Sonia Ben Jaafar, 2009-09-01 Taking your school from great to greater this compelling book gives you tools to use with staff for reflecting on and refining professional practices You and your team will find tools for taking learners to the next level of improvement Lynn A Kaszynski Principal Harrison Street Elementary School Sunbury OH Networked learning communities A powerful school improvement strategy for school leaders Ideal for school leaders and superintendents leading change efforts this book describes how separate professional learning communities can be linked across schools by common instructional and learning issues to create dynamic networked learning communities NLCs Drawing on their work with schools throughout North America and England Steven Katz Lorna M Earl and Sonia Ben Jaafar show how participants in NLCs can share professional knowledge that ultimately improves performance at the school and district level Through a sample school narrative the book illustrates how NLCs can significantly enhance instruction increase student performance and empower local professional learning communities This resource examines Collaborative inquiry as a process that challenges teachers thinking generates new learning and fosters trusting relationships The development of formal and informal leadership roles in NLCs How NLCs support systematic data analysis and accountability Demonstrating how NLCs small or large local or statewide can promote critical reforms while strengthening the work of individual professional learning communities this invaluable resource reveals how educators can join forces across school and district boundaries to generate deep meaningful and sustainable change

Embracing Diversity in the Learning Sciences Yasmin B. Kafai, William A. Sandoval, Noel Enyedy, Althea Scott Nixon, Francisco Herrera, 2012-10-12 More than a decade has passed since the First International Conference of the Learning Sciences ICLS was held at Northwestern University in 1991 The conference has now become an established place for researchers to gather The 2004 meeting is the first under the official sponsorship of the International Society of the Learning Sciences ISLS The theme of this conference is Embracing Diversity in the Learning Sciences As a field the learning sciences have always drawn from a diverse set of disciplines to study learning in an array of settings Psychology cognitive science anthropology and artificial intelligence have all contributed to the development of methodologies to study learning in schools museums and organizations As the field grows however it increasingly recognizes the challenges to studying and changing learning environments across levels in complex social systems This demands attention to new kinds of diversity in who what and how we study and to the issues raised to develop coherent accounts of how learning occurs Ranging from schools to families and across all levels of formal schooling from pre school through higher education this ideology can be supported in a multitude of social contexts The papers in these conference proceedings respond to the call

Communications and Networking in Education Deryn M. Watson, Toni Downes, 2013-04-17 In most schools the dominant supporting technology has been either the stand alone personal computer or a modest local network The situation is changing rapidly as a rising number of schools provide access to the Internet for their staff and pupils opening avenues for communication and networking hitherto not possible This book reflects on this change It aims to further the vision of how these new technologies could improve and transform aspects of education Yet in parallel it asks serious questions about the realities of an interface between the social cultural and pedagogical contexts of education and the actual affordances that these new information and communication technologies offer The chapters in this book provide a heady mix of foresight and practical reporting of planning for the future but at the same time respecting the problems education already has with current technologies The richness of the points presented here stems in part from the range of experience of the international authors from academics and administrators to teachers and curriculum designers This mix ensures that the central questions on communications and networking in education are considered not simply from a variety of personal perspectives but also from different cultural and environmental experiences And yet interest also lies in the commonality of reporting and discussion based on activity in the field All the contributions draw heavily on research and experience in devising and running projects and experimental activities in a range of schools and teacher training institutions and environments The opinions expressed are thus grounded in knowledge gained from work embedded in the reality of today's educational settings This must be the only sound base upon which to consider the issues of the future This book is essential reading for all professionals involved in all aspects of information and communication technologies in education Teachers lecturers researchers students and administrators will find it invaluable

Thigpen, 2020-04-21 How does the world's oral majority adults with limited formal education ALFE really prefer to learn Few pause long enough to ask those who eschew print The result of scholarly research and prolonged immersion in the Cambodian culture Connected Learning exposes the truth about orality the shame associated with limited formal education the unfortunate misnomer that is orality the place of spirituality grace and hope and the obvious but overlooked learning preferences ALFE have different ways of learning and knowing a different epistemology and culture from print learners even though we all begin alike The choice is not between Ong's orality or literacy but between learning from people or from print Dr Thigpen a veteran cross cultural worker shares remedies for the hegemony and inequities unwittingly fostered by the literate minority In a dominant culture where learning from people is prime how can educators with a preference for print adapt Providing an important tool in the Learning Quadrants diagram Connected Learning advises teaching to the quadrant and calls for seven necessary shifts in teaching Anyone versed in orality will admit these findings have global implications and applications Steffen The reader who heeds will positively impact a huge portion of humanity

Cultivating Connected Learning Megan E. Barrett, Rebecca J. Ranallo, 2018-06-01 If you want to boost your library's relevancy and support youth learning consider incorporating connected learning at your library This book helps you to realize the potential of this exciting and dynamic trend Learning doesn't just happen in the classroom it happens everywhere The connected learning model supports this principle asserting that young people learn best when their experiences are interest driven peer supported and rooted in solid academics Libraries are the perfect environment for this type of learning providing a place where teens can connect with each other and with adult mentors to engage with learning material and thrive This book shows you how to cultivate connected learning in your library You'll discover what the approach involves its benefits and what it can look like in various library settings You'll also learn how to generate support for connecting learning within your library reimagine your spaces and programs to better support connected learning integrate technology into programs and services to make it accessible to youth build partnerships with other libraries as well as other organizations recruit volunteers and raise community awareness to increase involvement

Students ability to integrate learning across contexts is a critical outcome for higher education Often the most powerful learning experiences that students report from their college years are those that prompt integration of learning yet it remains an outcome that few educators explicitly work towards or specify as a course objective Given that students will be more successful in college and in life if they can integrate their learning James Barber offers a guide for college educators on how to promote students integration of learning and help them connect knowledge and insights across contexts whether in class or out of class in co curricular activities or across courses and disciplinary boundaries The opening chapters lay the foundation for the book defining what integration of learning is how to promote it and students capacities for reflection and introduce the author s research based Integration of Learning IOL model The second section of the book provides practical real world strategies for facilitating integration of learning that college educators can use right away in multiple learning contexts James Barber describes practices that readers can integrate as appropriate in their classes or activities under chapters respectively devoted to Mentoring Writing as Praxis Juxtaposition Hands On Experiences and Diversity and Identity The author concludes by outlining how to apply IOL to a multiplicity of settings such as a major a single course programming for a student organization or other co curricular experience as well as offering guidance on assessing and documenting students mastery of this outcome This book is addressed to a wide range of educators engaged with college student learning from faculty to student affairs administrators athletic coaches internship supervisors or anyone concerned with student development

Reimagining Student Engagement Amy Berry, 2022-10-11 Engage students as true partners in learning Instead of disruptions avoidance and withdrawal your learners could be participating investing and driving their learning experience It s time to reimagine student engagement Focused around three essential goals Reimagining Student Engagement develops a new vocabulary for real classrooms proposes an engagement model positioning students as active partners in the learning process and embeds the concept of engagement into the teaching and learning process Inside you ll find Reflection prompts that connect ideas to experiences Vignettes illustrating common conceptions of engagement as well as challenges Case studies showcasing real teachers using engagement strategies with learners Practical classroom strategies and tips for application When you reimagine student engagement you ll see your students as true agents of their own learning and provide them with the motivational resources that fuel collaboration and school success
