Thinking Globally, Composing Locally Rich Rice, Kirk St. Amant, 2018-05-01 Thinking Globally Composing Locally explores how writing and its pedagogy should adapt to the ever-expanding environment of international online communication. Communication to a global audience presents a number of new challenges: writers seeking to connect with individuals from many different cultures must rethink their concept of audience; they must also prepare to address friction that may arise from cross-cultural rhetorical situations, variation in available technology, and in access between interlocutors and disparate legal environments. The volume offers a pedagogical framework that addresses three interconnected and overarching objectives: using online media to contact audiences from other cultures to share ideas; presenting ideas in a manner that invites audiences from other cultures to recognize, understand, and convey or act upon them; and composing ideas to connect with global audiences to engage in ongoing and meaningful exchanges via online media. Chapters explore a diverse range of pedagogical techniques including digital notebooks designed to create a space for active dialogic and multicultural inquiry, experience mapping to identify communication disruption points in international customer service, and online forums used in global distance education. Thinking Globally Composing Locally will prove an invaluable resource for instructors seeking to address the many exigencies of online writing situations in global environments. Corpus and Context Svenja Adolphs, 2008-04-25 Corpus and Context explores the relationship between corpus linguistics and pragmatics by discussing possible frameworks for analysing utterance function on the basis of spoken corpora. The book articulates the challenges and opportunities associated with a change of focus in corpus research from lexical to functional units, from concordance lines to extended stretches of discourse, and from the purely textual to multi-modal analysis of spoken corpus data. Drawing on a number of spoken corpora, including the five million word Cambridge and Nottingham Corpus of Discourse in English (CANCODE), funded by CUP, a specific speech act function is being explored using different approaches and different levels of analysis. This involves a close analysis of contextual variables in relation to
