Studies Ashton Sinamai, John D. Giblin, Shadreck Chirikure, Ishanlosen Odiaua, 2024-09-06 This handbook is a foundational reference point for critical heritage research about Africa and its diaspora. Foregrounding the diversity of knowledge systems needed to examine heritage issues in such a diverse continent, the contributors to this volume argue for an understanding of heritage that is at once both natural and cultural, tangible and intangible, political and dissonant, going beyond the physical and objective to include subjective narratives, performances, rituals, memories, and emotions. Examining the pre-coloniality, coloniality, post-coloniality, and decoloniality of current African heritage discourses and their consequences, they analyse how heritage legislation derived from colonial law is compatible or otherwise with how heritage is perceived, identified, and remembered in African communities. Discussing questions of repatriation, restitution, and reparations in relation to the return of artefacts from Western countries, they illuminate the importance of difficult heritage within Africa and its diaspora. Considering the role of heritage for development in Africa, this book is an important read for scholars of African Studies, heritage and museum studies, archaeology, anthropology, and history.

Handbook of Research on Schools, Schooling and Human Development Judith L. Meece, Jacquelynne S. Eccles, 2010-06-10 Children spend more time in school than in any social institution outside the home. And schools probably exert more influence on children's development and life chances than any environment beyond the home and neighbourhood. The purpose of this book is to document some important ways schools influence children's development and to describe various models and methods for studying schooling effects. Key features include Comprehensive Coverage: this is the first book to provide a comprehensive review of what is known about schools as a context for human development. Topical coverage ranges from theoretical foundations to investigative methodologies and from classroom-level influences such as teacher-student relations to broader influences such as school organization and educational policies. Cross-Disciplinary: this volume brings together the divergent perspectives, methods, and findings of scholars from a variety of disciplines, among them educational psychology, developmental psychology, school psychology, social psychology, psychiatry, sociology, and educational policy. Chapter Structure: to ensure continuity, chapter authors describe 1) how schooling influences are conceptualized, 2) identify their theoretical and methodological approaches, 3) discuss the strengths and weaknesses of existing research, and 4) highlight implications for future research practice and policy. Methodologies: chapters included in the text feature various methodologies, including longitudinal studies, hierarchical linear models, experimental and quasi-experimental designs, and mixed methods.
