Wasted Evangelism Chip M. Anderson, 2013-10-04 What is the relationship between the gospel and the church's responsibility toward the poor Can social action be evangelism Wasted Evangelism is an exploration in the Gospel of Mark on the subject of evangelism and social action A proclamation centered definition of evangelism based on the etymology of the word evangelize and a few isolated proof texts is devoid of much of the biblical content that Mark offers to us through his Gospel detaching the concept of evangelism from the narrative meaning that Mark gives to the gospel of Jesus Christ In Wasted Evangelism Chip Anderson develops an exegetically based narrative understanding of biblical evangelism which according to Mark's Gospel includes God's care for the economically vulnerable and his concern for the issues of poverty. The studies gathered in this volume propose that social action should not be considered a separate distinct responsibility for the church but is rather vital a component of evangelism. A close examination of Mark's Gospel and the biblical texts associated with idolatry poverty and justice provides an opportunity for church leadership to rethink the evangelistic activities of their churches and to reconsider what it means to engage their surrounding communities as agents of God's kingdom.

Postcolonial Homiletics? Wessel Wessels, 2024-03-29 This book pursues the question of consciousness and thought through the art of preaching in a postcolonial era. Indeed the past has bestowed upon the present the legacy of colonization and in the South African context apartheid. However the endeavor of postcolonizing theology and homiletics is a contentious space that has not been settled. This book promotes a counterargument to the prevalent directions of decolonization by focusing on three themes of importance: consciousness, perspective and identity through the insights of primary postcolonial sources.

Britain, France and the Decolonization of Africa Andrew W.M. Smith, Chris Jeppesen, 2017-03-01 Looking at decolonization in the conditional tense this volume teases out the complex and uncertain ends of British and French empire in Africa during the period of late colonial shift after 1945. Rather than view decolonization as an inevitable process the contributors together explore the crucial historical moments in which change was negotiated, compromises were made and debates were staged. Three core themes guide the analysis: development, contingency and entanglement. The chapters consider the ways in which decolonization was governed and moderated by concerns about development and profit. A complementary focus on contingency allows deeper consideration of how colonial powers planned for colonial futures and how divergent voices greeted the end of empire. Thinking about entanglements likewise stresses both the connections that existed between the British and French empires in Africa and those that endured beyond the formal transfer of power.

Christian Register and Boston Observer, 1926 Religion and Societies Carlo Caldarola, 2011-06-01 The series Religion and Society RS contributes to the exploration of religions as social systems both in Western and non-Western societies. In particular it examines religions in their differentiation from and intersection with other cultural systems such as art, economy, law and politics. Due attention is given to paradigmatic case or comparative studies that exhibit a clear theoretical orientation with the empirical and historical data of religion and such aspects of religion as ritual, the religious imagination, constructions of tradition, iconography or media. In addition the formation of religious communities, their construction of identity and their relation to society and the wider public are key issues of this series.
