Ackerly,2012-08-10 Every parent wants the best for their child and it can be difficult for parents to watch from the sidelines when their child goes off to school But Rick Ackerly helps parents through this transition with a reassuring book that shows them that while they will always be their child's first teacher and can continue to see themselves as educators it is critical that parents and teachers play their respective positions Ultimately education is about so much more than learning how to read or solve a math problem it's also about building character and integrity learning to handle setbacks First Aid Kit for

Teachers Duncan Grey,2007-05-31 Every teacher benefits from advice Sometimes you walk into a situation where as an adult professional amongst children and young people you are expected to resolve the problem If you don't you could be accused of neglect If you resolve it inappropriately you could be accused of unprofessional behaviour Non teachers rarely appreciate how many personal interactions there are during a day the vast majority of which are in public view and on which you will be judged First Aid is sensible action for anyone who is on the spot when a problem occurs It offers considered advice when you don't have the time to consider all the options It tries to give helpful advice on preventing the problem getting worse and starting things on the road to recovery It offers reassurance when everyone else is panicking It may also cover your back Duncan Grey Teaching Boys who Struggle in School Kathleen Palmer Cleveland,2011 Learn how you can move underachieving boys from a position of weakness to one of strength using the Pathways to Re Engagement model which incorporates research findings and insights from the author's own experience Teaching in Themes Deborah

The Restless Dead Cristina Rivera Garza, 2020-10-15 Based on comparative readings of contemporary books from Latin America Spain and the United States the essays in this book present a radical critique against strategies of literary appropriation that were once thought of as neutral and even concomitant components of the writing process Debunking the position of the author as the center of analysis Cristina Rivera Garza argues for the communality a term used by anthropologist Floriberto Díaz to describe modes of life of Indigenous peoples of Oaxaca based on notions of collaborative labor permeating all writing processes Disappropriating is a political operation at the core of projects acknowledging both at ethical and aesthetic levels that writers always work with materials that are not their own Writers borrow from the practitioners of a language entering in a debt relationship that can only be covered by ushering the text back to the communities from which it grew In a world rife with violence where the experiences of many are erased by pillage and extraction writing among and for the dead is a form of necrowriting that may well become a life affirming act of decolonization and resistance
