T. Topsfield, 1975-05-22 The first known troubadour Guilhem IX of Aquitaine VII Count of Poitou was a versatile man who fought against the Moors in Spain lost an army on his way to the First Crusade and for a time like his great grandson Richard C ur de Lion possessed more land and power in France than the king himself His poetry reflects the hatred of convention and love of the unexpected that marks his life In its easy swing between self mockery and seriousness idealised love and bawdy laughter it introduces into troubadour poetry a sense of conflict which after Guilhem's death in 1127 found a different and wider expression in an opposition between the metaphysical poetry of troubadours who sang with dark rich words and the love songs of poets who composed in a clear easy style on the single plane of their courtly experience Dr Topsfield examines
