Stories From Stones:

Stories and Stone Reuben J. Ellis, 1997 A collection of writings about the prehistoric Southwest includes essays stories travelers reports and poems spanning more than four centuries of visitation Stories in Stone David B. Williams, 2009-06-30 Most people do not think to look for geology from the sidewalks of a major city but for David B Williams any rock used as building material can tell a fascinating story All he has to do is look at building stone in any urban center to find a range of rocks equal to any assembled by plate tectonics In Stories in Stone he takes you on his explorations to find 3 5 billion year old rock that looks like swirled pink and black taffy a gas station made of petrified wood and a Florida fort that has withstood 300 years of attacks and hurricanes despite being made of a stone that has the consistency of a granola bar In Stories in Stone Williams also weaves in the cultural history of stone He shows why a white fossil rich limestone from Indiana became the only building stone to be used in all 50 states how in 1825 the construction of the Bunker Hill Monument led to America s first commercial railroad and why when the same kind of marble used by Michelangelo was used on a Chicago skyscraper it warped so much after 19 years that all 44 000 panels of the stone had to be replaced A love letter to building stone from New England brownstone and Morton Gneiss of Minnsota to the limestone of Salem Indiana from granite and travertine to Carrara marble David Willilams brings to life the stones you will see in the structures of every city large and small After reading his book you will forever look at stone buildings with new eyes Unsettling Stories Victoria Kuttainen, 2009-12-14 The first study of the synergies between postcolonialism and the genre of the short story composite Unsettling Stories considers how the form of the interconnected short story collection is well suited to expressing thematic aspects of postcolonial writing on settler terrain Unique for its comparative considerations of American Canadian and Australian literature within the purview of postcolonial studies this is also a considered study of the difficult place of the postcolonial settler subject within academic debates and literature Close readings of work by Tim Winton Margaret Laurence William Faulkner Stephen Leacock Sherwood Anderson Olga Masters Scott R Sanders Thea Astley Tim O Brien and Sandra Birdsell are positioned alongside critical discussions of postcolonial theory to show how awkward affiliations of individuals to place home nation culture and history expressed in short story composites can be usefully positioned within the broader context of settler colonialism and its aftermath The New North American Studies Winfried Siemerling, 2005 Winner of the English Book Award Grand Prix du Livre 2006 de la Ville de Sherbrooke In this original and groundbreaking study Winfried Siemerling examines the complexities of recognition and identity rejecting previous nationalized thinking to approach North American cultural transformations from transnational and interdisciplinary perspectives Using material from the United States and Canada as case studies and drawing on a wide range of texts and theorists he examines postcoloniality and cultural emergence from the sixties to the present against earlier backgrounds Siemerling s argument for a retheorization of the field takes on the full history of multiculturalism debates including radical readings of W E B Du Bois and Charles Taylor and their relation to G W F Hegel and challenging many of the models of multiculturalism in use today Tackling controversial subjects such as identity politics The New North American Studies proposes a fresh outlook on the most central issues of North American cultural politics from debates on canon formation to the role of racial and linguistic difference Concluding with a look at the future of cultural difference Winfried Siemerling s study is an innovative rethinking of the whole field of North American Studies The Stone Carvers of Old: Legacy of Haunting Stones Pasquale De Marco,2025-04-26 Embark on a captivating journey through the world of stone carvings where ancient artistry meets timeless stories Discover the origins and cultural significance of these intricate works of art from their humble beginnings to their profound impact on societies throughout history Unravel the symbolism and meaning hidden within each carving gaining insights into the beliefs values and traditions of past civilizations Explore the techniques and tools employed by ancient stone carvers marveling at their skill and ingenuity in transforming stone into intricate masterpieces Witness the evolution of stone carving from its earliest forms to contemporary expressions tracing the development of styles themes and artistic influences Delve into the role of stone carvings in architecture religion and funerary practices uncovering the stories they tell about the lives customs and beliefs of our ancestors Journey through architectural adornments where stone carvings embellish temples shrines and buildings adding layers of beauty and symbolism to these sacred spaces Encounter commemorative and funerary art where stone carvings immortalize individuals commemorate events and express grief and remembrance Discover the enduring legacy of stone carvers whose works continue to inspire and captivate generations transcending time and space In contemporary times witness the resurgence of stone carving as a modern art form with artists pushing the boundaries of creativity and expression Explore the role of stone carvings in public art where they serve as powerful statements on social and environmental issues Delve into the digital age where stone carving techniques intersect with technology creating new possibilities for artistic exploration Immerse yourself in the world of stone carvings and uncover the hidden stories they hold From ancient petroglyphs to modern masterpieces these works of art offer a glimpse into the human experience connecting us to our past and inspiring us to create a meaningful future If you like this book write a review on google books

This is an invigorating and very thought provoking text that I would recommend to all early years professionals parents and citizens interested in developing their understanding of early years philosophy in action which is directly linked to a compelling research paradigm and deep reflection alongside a sound theoretical base Early Years I would recommend this book to practitioners interested in reflecting on their own practice and approach to assessment The insights provided are thought provoking and promote a practical and positive approach to early years assessment Early Talk This thoughtful book challenges the standard assessment process that is commonly employed within the context of early years provision For any practitioners working in early years setting this is a powerful and exciting book that helps to remind us that the child must be placed centrally within the assessment process not as a recipient but as a proactive contributor to the situation Child Language Teaching and Therapy This is a highly relevant text as some UK early childhood educators become engulfed with avalanches of tick sheets A most useful book which contributes to the current vital debate about when what and how we should assess young children s progress T A C T Y C Newsletter I found Margaret Carr s book fascinating the ideas and arguments put forward are well worth mulling over Early Years Educator This is an inspiring book from bilingual bicultural New Zealand about revolutionizing the assessment of young children s learning and progress I hope this book inspires United Kingdom practitioners to set out on learning story journeys Nursery World This book manages to blend recognized theory and recent research with practice I found it easy and sometimes enjoyable to read it provided plenty of food for thought as well as references on how to I would recommend it to all early childhood practitioners not just those considering their current assessment procedures as the chapters focusing on the child as a learner are of value on their own Julia Browne Goldsmiths Association for Early Childhood This book shows that an early childhood setting can be described as a learning place in which children develop learning dispositions such as resilience in the face of uncertainty confidence to express their ideas and collaborative and thoughtful approaches to problem solving These dispositions provide the starting point for life long learning The author asks How can we assess and track children s learning in the early years in a way that includes learning dispositions and avoids the pitfalls of over formal methods whilst being helpful for practitioners interesting for families and supportive for learners The book describes a way of assessment that stays close to the children s real experiences and provides an alternative to mechanistic and fragmented approaches shows how practitioners can assess what really matters those learning dispositions interest involvement and perseverance for example that provide a foundation for life long learning The book is about weaving theory and practice theorizing development and learning as reflected in assessment practice The author also argues that unless we find ways to assess complex outcomes in early childhood they will be excluded from the teaching and the learning Simple and low level outcomes and goals will take their place The theoretical ideas and arguments are illustrated throughout by transcripts and stories of children in a range of early childhood settings At every turn in the journey it asks How is this reflected in a real life context It documents the voices of children practitioners and parents as the learning story develops

Lewis Henry Morgan,1879 Inspiring Writing in Primary Schools Liz Chamberlain,2018-12-03 Through teaching fabulous lessons teachers can help children to discover stories create worlds record events mould characters and inspire each other as writers This book provides the guidance and examples to help achieve this Stone Jeffrey Jerome Cohen,2015-05-06 Stone maps the force vivacity and stories within our most mundane matter stone For too long stone has served as an unexamined metaphor for the really real blunt factuality nature's curt rebuke Yet medieval writers knew that stones drop with fire from the sky emerge through the subterranean lovemaking of the elements tumble along riverbeds from Eden partner with the masons who build worlds with them Such motion suggests an ecological enmeshment and an almost creaturely mineral life Although geological time can leave us reeling Jeffrey Jerome Cohen argues that stone's endurance is also an invitation to apprehend the world in other than human terms Never truly inert stone poses a profound challenge to modernity's disenchantments Its agency undermines the human desire to be separate from the environment a bifurcation that renders nature out there a mere resource for recreation consumption and exploitation Written with great verve and elegance this pioneering work is notable not only for interweaving the medieval and the modern but also as a major contribution to ecocriticism Comprising chapters organized by concept Geophilia Time Force and Soul Cohen seamlessly brings together a wide range of topics including stone's potential to transport humans into nonanthropocentric scales of place and time the petrification of certain cultures the messages fossils bear the architecture of Bordeaux and Montparnasse Yucca Mountain and nuclear waste disposal the ability of stone to communicate across millennia in structures like Stonehenge and debates over whether stones reproduce and have souls Showing that what is often assumed to be the most lifeless of substances is in its own time restless and forever in motion Stone fittingly concludes by taking us to Iceland a land that writes the author reminds us that stone like water is alive that stone like water is transient
