Stories Of Adoption Loss And Reunion:

Stories of Adoption Eric Blau,1993 Offers insight into the thoughts and emotions of the people who have experienced the adoption process either as adoptees birth parents or adoptive parents Love Child Sue Elliott,2013 Mary & Me Beyond the Canvas Susan Van Sleet,2013-01-15 The year was 1966 and Susie a senior in high school found herself with a new label unwed mother It was an era of silent surrender and Susie was forced to leave home and move in with her aunt for three months of seclusion until her baby was born and could be put up for adoption She somehow found the inner strength to survive the solitude shame physical changes and the incredible loss of giving up her baby Susie was told to forget about her baby and go on with life but that was impossible While other birthmothers may have turned to alcohol or drugs to deal with their loss Susie transformed her deep longing into art Her most remarkable works were annual paintings of the child she privately named Mary For more than two decades Mary grew to adulthood on canvas And twenty seven years after giving birth Susie would finally meet Mary whose given name was Jeanne in person The resemblance between the woman before her and the woman in the paintings was remarkable and there was a connection of epic proportion between mother and child The adoption experience had come full circle This inspirational memoir sheds new light on the shadowy era of closed adoption and shares how one woman translated her pain and guilt into art Second-Chance Mother Denise Roessle,2011-11-15 When Denise Roessle became a mother at 45 her long held dream came true She felt as if she were 19 again the age at which she got pregnant out of wedlock and relinquished her newborn son for adoption Suddenly he was back this stranger she had given birth to and he wasn t just searching for his roots Joshua was looking for a mom Eager to embrace the second chance she had been granted Denise leapt wholeheartedly into the role It s a BIG boy she announced to her family and friends setting free her twenty six year secret But Joshua was not a boy He was a grown man with a history that fell far short of what she had envisioned for him when she d been assured he would be better off without her His adoptive parents had essentially given up on him at age thirteen sending him away with only an eighth grade education He drifted through a series of institutions and group homes and ultimately onto the New York City streets where he fell into drugs and crime When an early marriage failed he and his young wife surrendered an infant and toddler to adoption By the time Denise and her son reunited he was in his second marriage to a teenaged runaway who was six months pregnant with their first child Despite her disappointment and his obvious problems Denise was determined to restore their severed bond and give him the unconditional love that had been lacking in her own childhood At the same time she struggled with her parents adverse reaction to her reunion and their refusal to acknowledge their grandson s existence The shameful event that they had worked so vigorously to bury was back to haunt them They could not accept their daughter s happiness at having found her lost child Still reeling in the overwhelming mix of joy and grief gratitude and guilt triggered by reunion with her son Denise received a letter from an aunt she never knew existed Aunt Mabel revealed some startling information about

Denise's mother who had claimed to be an only child raised by a kindly couple after both her parents passed away. In truth she was one of nine siblings tossed to the winds by their mother after the death of their father in 1929. As she got to know her new found aunts, uncles and cousins, Denise became obsessed with understanding how her grandmother could desert her children and how her mother who so clearly bore the scars of abandonment could then force her own daughter to give up a child. A year into their reunion after Josh's wife left him with their ten-month-old daughter, the rage that he had initially denied surfaced. Denise went from feeling like a new mom to the frustrated parent of an out-of-control teenager. In the face of his angry outbursts and threats to cut her off, she remained intent on fixing him, believing that in time she could heal his wounds. Once more she put her own pain aside and stood by him as he married twice more and fathered another child. Only when Josh and Denise reached an impasse in year five did she recognize how emotionally shutdown she had been since relinquishing her son and how she had let her fear of losing him again hold her hostage. In the silence of their estrangement, she began the hard work that ultimately allowed her to resolve her own issues, reclaim the young woman she had left behind after surrendering what turned out to be her only child and make peace with the past. She found acceptance and forgiveness for her mother, her son, and ultimately herself.

Seven Core Issues in Adoption and Permanency Sharon Roszia, Allison Davis Maxon, 2019-07-18. Based on a hugely successful US model, the Seven Core Issues in Adoption is the first conceptual framework of its kind to offer a unifying lens that was inclusive of all individuals touched by the adoption experience. The Seven Core Issues are Loss, Rejection, Shame, Guilt, Grief, Identity, Intimacy, and Mastery/Control. The book expands the model to be inclusive of adoption and all forms of permanency: adoption, foster care, kinship care, donor insemination, and surrogacy. Attachment and trauma are integrated with the Seven Core Issues model to address and normalize the additional tasks individuals and families will encounter. The book views the Seven Core Issues from a range of perspectives including multi-racial, LGBTQ, Hispanic, Asian, Native American, African American, International, openness, search, and reunion, and others. This essential guide introduces each Core Issue, its impact on individuals, offering techniques for growth and healing.

Inside Transracial Adoption Gail Steinberg, Beth Hall, 2012-02-15. Inside Transracial Adoption provides creative, confident, and proactive guidance on how to build close, loving, and very real families consisting of individuals who are proud and culturally competent members of differing races. Drawing on research and personal experience, Steinberg and Hall offer detailed step-by-step guidance for families about tough issues they have to face relating to race and adoption in domestic or international transracial adoptions. What's normal? Where do we live and go to school? Does class have an influence? How do children develop racial identity? What kind of impact does being raised by white parents have on a black child? Combining humor with empathy and hard truths, this book is an established classic guide to living. Inside Transracial Adoption. It is essential reading for parents and the people who support them, whether considering transracial adoption for the first time or experienced veterans.

Baer,2004-05-28 Generations of adults who were adopted as children have been kept in the dark about their original identities The law sealing birth records passed in 1935 in California during the Great Depression swept adoptions emotional complexities under the rug and made it possible to keep adoption itself a secret Reflecting extensive archival research and written for general audiences as well as professionals Growing in the Dark Adoption Secrecy and Its Consequences takes you through Californias early adoption laws the sealing of records in the era of baby seller Georgia Tann and the various consequences of this policy as they unfolded throughout the 20th century WHAT REVIEWERS HAVE SAID articulate easy to read and filled with real facts concerning sealed records Jean Brown adoptee If you work or live with adoption you cannot afford to skip this book Everyone seeking to reverse outdated sealed records laws should also provide a copy of the slim paperback to their legislatures Mirah Riben author full of fascinating information you wont be able to put it down Anita Field Bastard Nation Janine Baer who was adopted in California focuses on the California law enacted in 1935 sealing original birth certificates Contrary to the popular perception the intent of this law was not to protect the privacy of birthmothers Rather these records were sealed to protect children from the stigma of illegitimacy to protect adoptive parents from intrusions by birthparents to allow adoptive parents to keep the childs adoptive status a secret to create the illusion that the birthparents did not exist and to prevent adoptees from finding their birthfamilies This is an excellent book for birthparents adoptees and adoptive parents who want to know how we got to where we are Jane Edwards Portland Oregon Growing in the Dark by virtue of its modest length and accessibility can be used to educate people both within and outside of the adoption reform movement about the effects of sealed records and the faulty premises used to support them Barbara Busharis American Adoption Congress Decree Extensive notes and bibliographic information make it an excellent resource for those arguing for open records Sandra Falconer Pace Canadian Council of Natural Mothers Note on price Nonprofit organizations and resellers get 40% off Call Xlibris for these orders 1 888 795 4274 Christian Women in the Patristic World Lynn H. Cohick,Amy Brown Hughes,2017-10-03 From facing wild beasts in the arena to governing the Roman Empire Christian women as preachers and philosophers martyrs and empresses virgins and mothers influenced the shape of the church in its formative centuries This book provides in a single volume a nearly complete compendium of extant evidence about Christian women in the second through fifth centuries It highlights the social and theological contributions they made to shaping early Christian beliefs and practices integrating their influence into the history of the patristic church and showing how their achievements can be edifying for contemporary Christians

The Lost Daughters of China Karin Evans, 2008-10-02 In 1997 journalist Karin Evans walked into an orphanage in southern China and met her new daughter a beautiful one year old baby girl In this fateful moment Evans became part of a profound increasingly common human drama that links abandoned Chinese girls with foreigners who have traveled many miles to complete their families At once a compelling personal narrative and an evocative portrait of contemporary China The Lost Daughters of China has also served as an invaluable guide for thousands of readers as they navigated the process of adopting from China However much has changed in terms of the Chinese government's policies on adoption since this book was originally published and in this revised and updated edition Evans addresses these developments Also new to this edition is a riveting chapter in which she describes her return to China in 2000 to adopt her second daughter who was nearly three at the time Many of the first girls to be adopted from China are now in the teens China only opened its doors to adoption in the 1990s and this edition includes accounts of their experiences growing up in the US and in some cases of returning to China in search of their roots Illuminating the real life stories behind the statistics The Lost Daughters of China is an unforgettable account of the red thread that winds from China's orphanages to loving families around the globe

Beating the Adoption Odds Cynthia D. Martin, Dru Martin Groves, 1998 Comprehensive authoritative and proactive Beating the Adoption Odds is the indispensable manual for both those considering adoption and those working in the adoption field

A Question of Adoption Anne Else, 2023-02-27 A Question of Adoption gives a richly detailed immensely readable account of the ideology and practice of closed stranger adoption in New Zealand from pregnancy through to the final adoption order and its aftermath Anne Else's scrupulous moving narrative explores social and moral attitudes towards unmarried mothers unwanted children and childless couples during the 1950s and 1960s She shows how the resulting system took shape how it worked or failed to work and its lifelong effects on everyone involved then sets out how and why change began to occur This new e book edition written with Maria Haenga Collins includes seven ground breaking new chapters providing a comprehensive account of creating and transferring children through the related processes of adoption state care donor conception and surrogacy It details how so many M ori children were and still are cut off from their wh nau and whakapapa through adoption and state care both stemming from racist colonial ideology and how the Adoption Act 1955 came to be seen as glaringly at odds with contemporary concepts of children's rights and best interests It examines New Zealand's complex history of using third parties to create children through reproductive technology and the lengthy unresolved debates over regulation The final chapter looks at local and global risks now facing human reproduction connection and reproductive justice

Counting Our Losses Darcy L. Harris, 2011-01-19 This text is a valuable resource for clinicians who work with clients dealing with non death nonfinite and ambiguous losses in their lives It explores adjustment to change transition and loss from the perspective of the latest thinking in bereavement theory and research The specific and unique aspects of different types of loss are discussed such as infertility aging chronic illnesses and degenerative conditions divorce and separation immigration adoption loss of beliefs and loss of employment Harris and the contributing authors consider these from an experiential perspective rather than a developmental one in order to focus on the key elements of each loss as it may be experienced at any point in the lifespan Concepts related to adaptation and coping with loss such as resilience hardiness meaning making and the assumptive world transcendence and post traumatic growth are considered as part of the integration of loss into everyday life experience

Birth Mothers and Transnational Adoption Practice in South Korea Hosu Kim, 2016-10-26 This book illuminates the hidden history of South Korean birth mothers involved in the 60 year long practice of transnational adoption The author presents a performance based ethnography of maternity homes a television search show an internet forum and an oral history collection to develop the concept of virtual mothering a theoretical framework in which the birth mothers experiences of separating from and then reconnecting with the child as well as their painful ambivalent narratives of adoption losses are rendered felt and registered In this the author refuses a universal notion of motherhood Her critique of transnational adoption and its relentless effects on birth mothers lives points to the everyday normalized gendered violence against working class poor single mothers in South Korea s modern nation state development and illuminates the biopolitical functions of transnational adoption in managing an excess population Simultaneously her creative analysis reveals a counter public and counter history proposing the collective grievances of birth mothers
