The Carrier Corps Military Labor In The East African Campaign 1914 1918:

The Carrier Corps Geoffrey Hodges, 1986      Kariakor Geoffrey Hodges, Roy Griffin, 1999 The Carrier Corps carried everything the soldiers needed to survive during the East African Campaign of the first World War The Corps suffered heavier casualties than all the other units put together Originally published in 1986 this second edition has been re written by the author keeping much of the original material but adding new information which has come to light since the work was first published Much of the original research was based on the reminiscences of the men who took part Photographs and statistics enhance the six chapters covering African labour the war strategy in the battlefields carrier units carrier welfare and effects of the war      Soldiers and Settlers in Africa Stephen M. Miller, 2009 This book revisits some of the most significant guerrilla struggles of the late 19th century all set in Africa and remind readers in light of current events the difficulties involved in engaging in this type of conflict      Civilians in a World at War, 1914-1918 Tammy M.

Proctor, 2010-08-30 World War I heralded a new global era of warfare consolidating and expanding changes that had been building throughout the previous century while also instituting new notions of war The 1914 18 conflict witnessed the first aerial bombing of civilian populations the first widespread concentration camps for the internment of enemy alien civilians and an unprecedented use of civilian labor and resources for the war effort Humanitarian relief programs for civilians became a common feature of modern society while food became as significant as weaponry in the fight to win Tammy M Proctor argues that it was World War I the first modern global war that witnessed the invention of both the modern civilian and the home front where a totalizing war strategy pitted industrial nations and their citizenries against each other Civilians in a World at War 1914 1918 explores the different ways civilians work and function in a war situation and broadens our understanding of the civilian to encompass munitions workers nurses laundresses refugees aid workers and children who lived and worked in occupied zones on home and battle fronts and in the spaces in between Comprehensive and global in scope spanning the Eastern Western Italian East African and Mediterranean fronts Proctor examines in lucid and evocative detail the role of experts in the war the use of forced labor and the experiences of children in the combatant countries As in many wars civilians on both sides of WWI were affected and vast displacements of the populations shaped the contemporary world in countless ways redrawing boundaries and creating or reviving lines of ethnic conflict Exploring primary source materials and secondary studies of combatant and neutral nations while synthesizing French German Dutch and English language sources Proctor transcends the artificial boundaries of national histories and the exclusive focus on soldiers Instead she tells the fascinating and long buried story of the civilian in the Great War allowing voices from the period to speak for themselves      Communal Labor in Colonial Kenya O. Okia, 2012-07-25 This book advances research into the government forced labor used widely in colonial Kenya from 1930 to 1963 after the passage of the International Labor Organization s Forced Labour Convention While the 1930 Convention intended to mark the suppression of forced labor practices various exemptions meant that many coercive labor practices continued in colonial territories Focusing on East Africa and the Kenya Colony this book shows how the colonial administration was able to exploit the exemption clause for communal labor thus ensuring the mobilization of African labor for infrastructure development As an exemption communal labor was not defined as forced labor but instead justified as a continuation of traditional African and community labor practices Despite this ideological justification the book shows that communal labour was indeed an intensification of coercive labor practices and one that penalized Africans for non compliance with fines or imprisonment The use of forced labor before and after the passage of the Convention is examined with a focus on its use during World War II as well as in efforts to combat soil erosion in the rural African reserve areas in Kenya The exploitation of female labor the Mau Mau war of the 1950s civilian protests and the regeneration of communal labor as harambee after independence are also discussed

Encyclopedia of African History 3-Volume Set KEVIN SHILLINGTON.,2005

The Chiwaya War Melvin E Page,2019-07-11 This book focuses on the great War s effect on Africa in general and Malawi in particular It describes the outbreak of the war the recruitment of soldiers the drafting of porters the conditions of military life the conditions on the home front and the war s end

General Labour History of Africa Stefano Bellucci,Andreas Eckert,2019 The first comprehensive and authoritative history of work and labour in Africa a key text for all working on African Studies and Labour History worldwide

Colonial Soldiers in Europe, 1914-1945 Eric Storm,Ali Al Tuma,2015-12-22 During the first half of the twentieth century European countries witnessed the arrival of hundreds of thousands of colonial soldiers fighting in European territory First and Second World War and Spanish Civil War and coming into contact with European society and culture For many Europeans these were the first instances in which they met Asians or Africans and the presence of Indian Indo Chinese Moluccan Senegalese Moroccan or Algerian soldiers in Europe did not go unnoticed This book explores this experience as it relates to the returning soldiers who often had difficulties re adapting to their subordinate status at home and on European authorities who for the first time had to accommodate large numbers of foreigners in their own territories which in some ways would help shape later immigration policies

Oscar from Africa Elizabeth Watkins,1995-12-31 Oscar Watkins was a Bisley shot and a hockey Blue for Oxford University a cavalry trooper in the Boer War a magistrate on the Kenya Slave Courts which freed the slaves early in this century Commandant of the 400 000 strong Carrier Corps in the East Africa Campaign in World War I acting Kenya Chief Native Commissioner and Provincial Commissioner and the first editor of a Swahilli newspaper which under his editorship gained the largest circulation of any paper in Africa He strove unceasingly to protect the interests of the African peoples Resisting the pressures from European settlers for more labour to be made available to work on their farms and for more land to be made available for European settlement he found himself on a collision course with the settlers and their fiery leader Lord Delamere and a Governor who was inclined to take their part This tribute to Oscar Watkins is written by his daughter

World War I Spencer C. Tucker,2014-10-28 Offering exhaustive coverage detailed analyses and the latest

White War, Black Soldiers Bakary Diallo, Lamine Senghor, 2021-02-24 Strength and Goodness Force Bont by Bakary Diallo is one of the only memoirs of World War I ever written or published by an African It remains a pioneering work of African literature as well as a unique and invaluable historical document about colonialism and Africa's role in the Great War Lamine Senghor's The Rape of a Country La Violation d'un pays is another pioneering French work by a Senegalese veteran of World War I but one that offers a stark contrast to Strength and Goodness Both are made available for the first time in English in this edition complete with a glossary of terms and a general historical introduction The centennial of World War I is an ideal moment to present Strength and Goodness and The Rape of a Country to a wider English reading public Until recently Africa's role in the war has been neglected by historians and largely forgotten by the general public Eurocentric versions of the war still predominate in popular culture Many historians however now insist that African participation in the 1914-18 War is a large part of what made that conflict a world war

Consensus, Conflict, and Change Margaret Peil, Olatunji Y. Oyeneye, 1998 Two very distinguished sociologists here undertake an extensive and comparative examination of African societies from a sociological perspective addressing the various aspects and agents of transformation The study is against the background of the transformation of African societies triggered by such factors as dysfunctions within values beliefs and norms general economic and political factors and adjustments due to external forces particularly new culture and technologies The issues are examined from the perspective that democratisation modernisation and globalisation are forces influencing African societies whilst traditional values and cultures produce a conflict of interest The chapters cover social organisation interaction differentiation families education religion economic activities cities social problems and social change

Christianity and the African Imagination David Maxwell, Ingrid Lawrie, 2022-08-08 During the twentieth century Christendom shifted its centre of gravity to the Southern Hemisphere Africa becoming the most significant area of church growth This volume explores Christianity's advance across the continent and its capturing of the African imagination From the medieval Catholic Kingdom of Kongo to a transnational Pentecostal movement in post colonial Zimbabwe the chapters explore how African agents priests and prophets martyrs and missionaries evangelists and catechists have seized Christianity and made it theirs Emphasizing popular religion the book shows how the Christian ideas and texts practices and symbols which have been adapted by Africans help them accept existential passions and empower them through faith to deal with material concerns for health and wealth and to overcome evil The Speed of Change Jan-Bart Gewald, Sabine Luning, Klaas van Walraven, 2009-07-31 In the early 1900s the motor vehicle car bus lorry or motor cycle was introduced in sub Saharan Africa Initially the plaything and symbol of colonial domination the motor vehicle transformed the economic and social life of the continent Indeed the motor vehicle is arguably the single most important factor for change in Africa in the twentieth century A factor for change that thus far has been neglected in research and literature Yet its impact extends across the totality of human existence from ecological devastation to economic advancement from cultural transformation to political change through to a myriad of other themes This edited volume of eleven contributions by historians anthropologists and social and political scientists explores aspects of the social history and anthropology of the motor vehicle in Africa Colonial Kenya Observed S. H. Fazan, 2014-11-14 The coast of East Africa was considered a strategically invaluable region for the establishment of trading ports both for Arab and Persian merchants long prior to invasion and conquest by Europeans In the initial stages of the scramble for Africa in the 18th century control of the area was an aspiration for every colonial nation in Europe but it was not until 1895 that it was finally dominated by a sole power and proclaimed The Protectorate of British East Africa In the early 20th century the coast was brimming with vitality as immigrants colonisers and missionaries from Arabia India and Europe poured in to take advantage of growing commercial opportunities including the prospect of enslaving millions of native Africans The development of Kenya is an exceptional tale within the history of British rule in perhaps no other colony did nationalistic feeling evolve in conditions of such extensive social and political change In 1911 S H Fazan sailed to what later became the Republic of Kenya to work for the colonial government Immersing himself in knowledge of traditional language and law he recorded the vast changes to local culture that he encountered after decades of working with both the British administration and the Kenyan people This work charts the sweeping tide of social change that occurred through his career with the clarity and insight that comes with a total intimacy of a country His memoirs examine the fascinating complexity of interaction between the colonial and native courts commercial land reform and the revolutionised dynamic of labour relations By further unearthing the political tensions that climaxed with the Mau Mau Revolt of 1952 1960 this invaluable work on the European colonial period paints a comprehensive and revealing firsthand account for anyone with an interest in British and African history Fazan's story provides a quite unparalleled view of colonial Africa and the conduct of Empire across half a century The Politics of Environmental Control in Northeastern Tanzania, 1840-1940 James L. Giblin, 2015-09-30 A historical study of the relationship between political and environmental change in Tanzania's northeastern lowlands an impoverished region that has been afflicted by severe food shortages throughout the twentieth century      Eastern Africa. ,      Managing Uncertainty Richard Jenkins, Hanne Jessen, Vibeke Steffen, 2005 The overall focus of this book is the ways humans deal with life conditions with destiny uncertainty and misfortune how we try to control the risks of living through medicines technologies and magic When dealing with questions of health and illness rational solutions and meaningful explanations may be hard to find and treatment efforts are often guided just as much by hope as by rational choice Evaluating the risks of illness is just one of a number of ways in which human beings attempt to exert some sense of control over their lives New methods of testing for illness and new developments in for example genetic screening and in vitro fertilisation combined with the growing demands of well informed patients seem to have turned concern from the actual problems of specific diseases toward controlling life and the risks of living in general The chapters of this book reflect a common effort to transgress the limits of the medical by drawing on a fundamental concern with the logic of social and cultural practice The book represents a de medicalization of medical anthropology and a return to some of the classic themes in anthropology but with a different approach emphasizing subjectivity intentionality and agency      UNESCO General History of Africa, Vol. VII, Abridged Edition Unesco. International Scientific Committee for the Drafting of a General History of Africa, 1990-06-25 This volume reflects how the different peoples of Africa view their civilizations and shows the historical relationships between the various parts of the continent Historical connections with other continents demonstrate Africa's contribution to the development of human civilization
