The Challenge Of Tourism Carrying Capacity Assessment Theory And Practice New:

The Challenge of Tourism Carrying Capacity Assessment Harry Coccossis, Alexandra Mexa, 2017-03-02 Planning and management for tourism growth is becoming essential in the context of sustainable development. Particularly so since many tourist destinations are facing severe pressures from tourist flows and activities. Such pressures are evidenced in terms of dysfunctions, congestion, environmental degradation, etc., which ultimately affect the attraction and competitiveness of tourism destinations. The development of tourism should be considered in accordance with sustainability principles. In this context, respecting the capacity of the local system to sustain growth becomes a key challenge. This book examines the use of various tools to define, measure, and evaluate tourism carrying capacity (TCC), a tool aiming to impose limits for entering certain tourist destinations or using certain activities. Drawing on case studies from France, Spain, Italy, Greece, the UK, the Netherlands, Ireland, Belgium, Austria, Germany, and Finland, it presents practical experiences of implementing TCC in various tourist destinations, i.e., historic towns, coastal zones, islands, etc. It draws conclusions regarding the measurement and implementation of TCC assessment and provides further guidelines towards a comprehensive methodological framework for assessing tourism sustainability in the future.

New Research Paradigms in Tourism Geography Alan A. Lew, 2017-10-02 This collection of papers from Tourism Geographies emphasizes new and emerging research paradigms in the geographic study of tourism. The papers included in this collection follow one of two threads: explicitly supporting specific research frameworks or implicitly presenting new and emerging theoretical perspectives through empirical research on the geographical topics. These begin with three overview papers from themes that emerged from recent annual meetings of the Association of American Geographers, including evolutionary economic geography, EEG, political ecology, and community resilience. Each of these theoretical and conceptual frameworks is leading to new explorations and insights in a wide variety of geographical and social science research, including tourism studies. These are followed by a series of papers that extend our knowledge and thinking on a range of key geographical topics, including development and underdevelopment by Saarinen, Rogerson, sustainable tourism planning by Torres Delgado, Saarinen's encounters with the natural environment by Hill, and the geography of place names by Light, as well as economic geography and new technologies and their applications to spatial behavior research. The papers in this special issue are especially relevant to tourism scholars and very much represent the types of perspectives that Tourism Geographies seek to promote. This book was published as a special issue of Tourism Geographies.
