When China Ruled the Seas Louise Levathes, 2014-12-02 One hundred years before Columbus and his fellow Europeans began their voyages of discovery fleets of giant junks commanded by the eunuch admiral Zheng He and filled with the empire s finest porcelains lacquerware and silk ventured to the world's four corners. Seven epic expeditions brought China's treasure ships across the China Seas and Indian Ocean from Japan to the spice island of Indonesia and the Malabar Coast of India on to the rich ports of the Persian Gulf and down the East African coast to China's El Dorado and perhaps even to Australia three hundred years before Captain Cook's landing. It was a time of exploration and expansion but it ended in a retrenchment so complete that less than a century later it was a crime to go to sea in a multimasted ship. In When China Ruled the Seas Louise Levathes takes a fascinating and unprecedented look at this dynamic period in China's enigmatic history focusing on the country's rise as a naval power that briefly brought half the world under its nominal authority. Drawing on eyewitness accounts, official Ming histories and African, Arab and Indian sources many translated for the first time, Levathes brings readers inside China's most illustrious scientific and technological era. She sheds new light on the historical and cultural context in which this great civilization thrived as well as the perception of China by other contemporary cultures. Beautifully illustrated and engagingly written, When China Ruled the Seas is the fullest picture yet of the early Ming dynasty, the last flowering of Chinese culture before the Manchu invasion. The Chinese Times, 1890. Zheng He Corona Brezina, 2016-07-15. Zheng He was the commander of a vast Chinese fleet known as the treasure fleet. In the early fifteenth century he led the fleet on seven journeys throughout the South China Sea and Indian Ocean, serving as ambassador to the barbarian nations in need of a civilizing influence. Under Zheng He's command the Chinese treasure fleet achieved one of the most impressive maritime displays the world had ever seen. This engaging volume covers the fleet's travels which covered more than 40,000 miles and included sea routes along the Silk Road to cities and kingdoms from southern Asia to east Africa. The Chinese Social and Political Science Review, 1926. The Chinese Treasure, 2010. The Chinese Treasure World Heritage in China is a full-length academic pictorial album offering unrivalled coverage of the UNESCO World Heritage List entries in China with detailed specialist content from Chinese architectural experts and stunning photography. The Treasures Ships. Ming China on the seas: history of the Fleet that could conquer the world and vanished into thin air Stefano Cariolato, 2017-12-18. In 1400 an immense Chinese fleet of hundreds of ships and tens of thousands of men sailed through the seas reaching Indonesia, India, Persia, Arabia and Africa, sent by a proud emperor to bring to the world the glory and the power of the Ming. It was commanded by the most famous of the Chinese admirals, an eunuch named Zheng He. The ships carried valuable books, precious fabrics, delicate and beautiful ceramics in addition to gold and silver destined for the princes of the visited countries and were taking back in China exotic merchandise to show at court with the ambassadors of the Asian world who prostrated themselves in submission for this reason they were called Treasures Ships. The history and descriptions of the peoples met are presented based on the news collected by previous and following travellers as well as by the chroniclers who followed the fleet, leaving a testimony of the voyages that had been accomplished. Despite the fact that the surviving information is very limited, this book narrates the missions of the Fleet of the Treasures between 1405 and 1433, attempting to reconstruct the routes likely to have been followed on the basis of the sea and wind conditions phased by the monsoon cycle and detected today with precision by the satellites After a thirty year long endeavour the Chinese retired from the sea cancelled the travels reports destroyed the ships renouncing to sail and remained helpless in face of the penetration of European Navies before and of the Japanese aggression afterward Today China is currently rebuilding a large fleet that is already carrying its weight in home and neighbouring waters and its flag in the oceans retracing the endeavour accomplished 600 years ago
