The Chip Chip Gatherers:

The Chip-Chip Gatherers Shiva Naipaul, 2012-07-05 Shiva Naipaul was the brother of V S Naipaul and author of Fireflies and The Chip Chip Gatherers The Chip Chip Gatherers his second novel was winner of the Whitbread Literary Award in 1973 and is set in Naipaul's native Trinidad. It includes a new foreword by Amit Chaudhuri. The crowded ramshackle community of the Settlement in Trinidad is at the mercy of a tyrant Egbert Ramsaran the proud owner of the Ramsaran Transport Company who has become the richest man in town through sheer strength of will. He is a capricious eccentric despot who loves nobody and whom nobody can afford to ignore. There is his son Wilbert bullied into passivity and failure Vishnu the downtrodden grocer without grace or hope the beautiful unpredictable Sushila who tries to wield her seductive powers over Ramsaran and her daughter Sita intelligent enough to know that escape is possible. Their intricately woven lives are perfectly captured in all their pathos, comedy and humanity.

Talking Taino William F. Keegan, Lisabeth A. Carlson, 2008-10-26 Keegan and Carlson combined have spent over 45 years conducting archaeological research in the Caribbean directing projects in Trinidad, Grenada, St. Lucia, Puerto Rico, the Dominican Republic, Haiti, Cuba, Jamaica, Grand Cayman, the Turks and Caicos Islands and throughout the Bahamas. Walking hundreds of miles of beaches working without shade in the Caribbean sun, diving in refreshing and pristine waters and studying the people and natural environment around them has given them insights into the lifeways of the people who lived in the Caribbean before the arrival of Christopher Columbus. Sadly, harsh treatment extinguished the culture that we today call Ta'no or Arawak. In an effort to repay their debt to the past and the present, the authors have focused on the relationship between the Ta'nos of the past revealed through archaeological investigations and the present natural history of the islands. Bringing the past to life and highlighting commonalities between past and present, they emphasize Ta'no words and beliefs about their worldview and culture.

Caribbean Passages Richard Francis Patteson, 1998 This text offers a critical perspective on fiction from the West Indies. The writers are from diverse backgrounds with differing artistic perspectives but share a commitment to a repossession of Caribbean life and consciousness. The writers are Senior Edgell Phillips, Naipaul and Antoni.

Fireflies Shiva Naipaul, 2012-07-05 Shiva Naipaul was the brother of V S Naipaul and author of Fireflies and The Chip Chip Gatherers. Fireflies his first novel published in 1970 and longlisted for the Lost Man Booker Award in 2010 is set in Naipaul's native Trinidad. It includes a new foreword by Amit Chaudhuri. The Khojas are Trinidad's most venerated Hindu family. Rigidly orthodox, presiding over acres of ill-kept sugarcane and hoards of jewellery enthusiastically guarded by old Mrs Khoja, they seem to have triumphed more by default than by anything else. Only Baby Khoja who is parcelled off into an arranged marriage with a blustering bus driver proves an exception to this rule. Her heroic story of resourcefulness, strength and survival is the gleaming thread in Shiva Naipaul's ferociously comic and profoundly sad first novel.

French Eggs in an English Basket. [A Collection of Tales] Émile Souvestre, 1872

Between the Bocas Jak Peake, 2017-07-19 Situated opposite the mouth of the Orinoco River, western Trinidad has long been considered an entrepôt to mainland South America. Trinidad's geographic position seen as strategic by various imperial governments led to many heterogeneous peoples from across the region and globe settling or being relocated there. The calm waters around the Gulf of Paria on the western fringes of Trinidad induced settlers to construct a harbour Port of Spain around which the modern capital has been formed. From its colonial roots into the postcolonial era western Trinidad therefore has played an especial part in the shaping of the island's literature. Viewed from one perspective western Trinidad might be deemed as narrating the heart of the modern state's national literature. Alternatively the political threats posed around San Fernando in Trinidad's southwest in the 1930s and from within the capital in the 1970s present a different picture of western Trinidad one in which the fractures of Trinidad and Tobago's projected nationalism are prevalent. While sugar remains a dominant narrative in Caribbean literary studies this book offers a unique literary perspective on matters too often perceived as the sole preserve of sociological anthropological or geographical studies. The legacy of the oil industry and the development of the suburban commuter belt of East West Corridor therefore form considerable discursive nodes alongside other key Trinidadian sites such as Woodford Square colonial houses and the urban yards of Port of Spain. This study places works by well known authors such as V S Naipaul and Samuel Selvon alongside writing by Michel Maxwell Philip Marcella Fanny Wilkins E L Joseph Earl Lovelace Ismith Khan Monique Roffey Arthur Calder Marshall and the largely neglected novelist Yseult Bridges who is almost entirely forgotten today. Using fiction calypso history memoir legal accounts poetry essays and journalism this study opens with an analysis of Trinidad's nineteenth century literature and offers twentieth century and more contemporary readings of the island in successive chapters. Chapters are roughly arranged in chronological order around particular sites and topoi while literature from a variety of authors of British Caribbean Irish and Jewish descent is represented.

From Indians in Trinidad to Indo-Trinidadians N. Jayaram, 2022-09-12 This book explores the dynamics of the socio cultural baggage that Indian indentured migrants took with them to the Caribbean island of Trinidad and how they have since become a vibrant diaspora community namely the Indo Trinidadians. It combines social history with first hand fieldwork data to portray human ingenuity in terms of social reconstitution and community building in a hostile socio cultural environment. Furthermore it addresses key social institutions religion caste and family and cultural elements language foodways and ethnicity. Its analytical framework is guided by the concept of metamorphosis it steers clear of the persistence versus change hypotheses. Given its focus it will be of interest to students and scholars of sociology social anthropology history and migration and diaspora studies.

Nation and Novel Patrick Parrinder, 2008-09-18 What is English about the English novel and how has the idea of the English nation been shaped by the writers of fiction? How do the novel's profound differences from poetry and drama affect its representation of national consciousness? Nation and Novel sets out to answer these questions by tracing English prose fiction from its late medieval origins through its stories of rogues and criminals family rebellions and suffering heroines to the present day novels of immigration. Major novelists from Daniel Defoe to the late twentieth century have drawn on national history and mythology in novels which have pitted Cavalier against Puritan Tory against Whig region against nation and domesticity against empire The novel is deeply concerned with the fate of the nation but almost always at variance with official and ruling class perspectives on English society Patrick Parrinder's groundbreaking new literary history outlines the English novel's distinctive sometimes paradoxical and often subversive view of national character and identity This sophisticated yet accessible assessment of the relationship between fiction and nation will set the agenda for future research and debate

The Origins of Dislike Amit Chaudhuri, 2018-09-20 Strategic thinking for a writer articulates itself as dislike and as allegiance In this wonderfully rich and diverse collection of essays Amit Chaudhuri explores the way in which writers understand and promote their own work in antithesis to writers and movements that have gone before Chaudhuri's criticism disproves and questions several assumptions that a serious and original artist cannot think critically in a way that matters that criticism can't be imaginative and creative work contain radical argumentation that a writer reflecting on their own position and practice cannot be more than a testimony of their work but open up how we think of literary history and reading Illuminating new ways of thinking about Western and non Western traditions prejudices and preconceptions

Chaudhuri shows us again that he takes nothing as a given literary tradition the prevalent definitions of writing and culture and the way the market determines the way culture and language express themselves He asks us to look again at what we mean by the modern and how it might be possible to think of the literary today The Columbia History of the American
